Life Constant Warfare, Says Dr. C. M. Proctor

Advocates Periodic Health Examinations in Talk Before Rotary Club

"Life is constant warfare," said Dr. Charles M. Proctor, professor of surgery at the Tufts Dental School, addressing the Newton Rotary Club last night. "Infection must be constantly fought so that resistance to bacteria may be built up. Life should be so ordered that when old age comes we just naturally wear out instead of being blown up long before the appointed time." In about nine cases out of ten, the professor said, there is a certain amount of infection to be found at the root of the trouble. He advised everyone to see his physician at least once a year for a thorough going-over and he suggested one's birthday as a good day for that. Periodically there should be an examination of the mouth since so many diseases are traced to the teeth. It is astonishing how many people neglect their teeth. There are fifty odd roots, any one of which may be the cause of trouble. Professor Proctor, speaking in a pleasant conversational tone, illustrated his points by interesting and illuminating experiences from his own professional practice. He was introduced by his friend, Dr. Charles D. Ansley, as one whose life was devoted to service of his fellow man.

One Rotarian from Nova Scotia, four from neighboring towns and one other guest were also present at Monday's meeting. Wilbur Thompson, chairman of the Committee on International Relations, gave a report on the letters sent by his committee to fourteen new Rotary clubs recently organized in Europe, South America and in this country. A number of the local Rotarians are planning to visit the Concord, Mass., Club on Thursday. This club was started a few years ago by Fred Teale of the Newton club.

Vacation Bible School Closes Successful Term

The 1933 Newtonville Daily Vacation Bible School closed a very successful program last Friday. At the Commencement program, the several class groups portrayed a cross section review of the life of the school.

Mr. Everett Johnson, principal, announced a total enrollment of 130 children, and 9 leaders. A total of 90 diplomas were granted for attendance of 10 days or more. Of these 90, 59 boys and girls were in attendance more than 15 days out of 18, 20 pupils had perfect attendance.

A total of 14 churches were represented by the children attending, although 55% of the total enrollment were from the Central Congregational and Newtonville M. E. Churches.

This summer Vacation Bible School has enjoyed continued success and sustained growth for 9 years.

The teachers this summer were Miss Virginia Cameron, Miss Doris Easton, Miss Margery Buchanan, Miss Madeline Doggett, Miss Dorothy Kennison, Mr. Frank Batstone, Misses Barbara McCormack and Alice LeBaron were volunteer helpers in the Primary Department.

Newtonville Boy Killed In Maine

Charles E. Thatcher, 19, of 3 Walnut terrace, Newtonville, was killed near Skowhegan, Me., on Saturday morning when the automobile he was driving skidded on a wet road and overturned. Young Thatcher, who graduated from Newton High school last June, had accompanied Sydney Durfee of Central Ave., Newtonville, on a trip to Maine. Mr. Durfee who is a piano tuner, and who is blind, escaped serious injury in the accident. Thatcher played on the Newton High football team last year. He was a member of the Order of DeMolay. Private funeral services were held on Monday at Mount Auburn Crematory chapel. The youth is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Thatcher.

Change in Pumping Station Causes Discolored Water

Expected to Be Clear Again in Day or Two

During the past couple of days residents of the Newtons have been disturbed by the dirty appearance of Newton's water. It had the brownish discoloration which characterized it several years ago before the water mains were reamed to remove the deposits of crenothrix. The cause of this latest turbid condition of Newton's water was the cleaning out on Wednesday of the 24-inch pipe which runs under the Charles River from the conduit on the Needham side to the pumping station. This large pipe had not been cleaned for several years and the flow of billions of gallons through it in the meantime had caused sufficient sediment to collect so that all the water in the supply conduit was not available. By cleaning the pipe the head of water supply was raised 2 feet and the quantity increased from 4500 to 6000 gallons per minute.

While the cleaning of the under-river piped was in progress, the supply from the conduit was cut off and by an unwelcome coincidence the consumption of water in the city was the largest in two years, 9,230,000 gallons. The reserve supply at the Waban Hill reservoir did not suffice and the pumps were started, surging the supply again as soon as possible. The water was pumped through the new discharge mains from the recently reconstructed pumping station. The flow through the street mains was reversed and crenothrix deposits which have accumulated during several years in some of the mains which had been cleaned out (as well as deposits from smaller mains which were not cleaned) were loosened and found their way into house pipes.

This crenothrix sediment is not pleasant to look at, but it is not injurious to health. The water which enters the mains at the pumping station is pure and clear. It is expected that the water coming from house faucets will again be clear within a day or two. Flushing of hydrants throughout the city would aggravate rather than help conditions, if done on a large scale. Such a method would but further loosen sediment from the smaller mains.

Mrs. Jos. Seaver Shoots Self

Widow of Police Captain Was Melancholy

Mrs. Henrietta Seaver of 199 Concord st., Newton Lower Falls, widow of Captain Joseph Seaver of the Newton police, shot herself through the right temple yesterday morning at 10:40 in the bedroom of her home. She rushed to the Newton Hospital in the police ambulance and died about an hour later. Mrs. Seaver's husband died suddenly of cerebral hemorrhage on March 21 and she had been melancholy since his death. Her sister, Mrs. Martha Hardy, heard the shot and phoned a nearby garage for assistance. Dr. L. B. Rowe of Natick, who was in the garage responded. Mrs. Seaver was born in South Boston 49 years ago and had resided in Newton for 28 years. She is survived by one son, J. Henry Seaver who is an officer in the United States Merchant Marine, and who had been on duty at Norfolk, Virginia. Her funeral service will be held at St. John's Episcopal Church, Newtonville on Sunday morning at 11.

Former Newton Boy Killed By Lightning

Edward Atkins of 329 Harrison ave., Boston was one of the four young men killed by a lightning bolt which hit the recreation tent of the Civilian Conservation Corps camp near Lewiston, Maine on Tuesday night. He was born in Newton 26 years ago. The son of James Atkins and the late Alice Powers Atkins. He had resided in recent years with his father in Boston. He is survived by his father; four brothers, James P. Atkins of Newton, John, Joseph and Robert Atkins of Boston; and four sisters, Misses Mary, Alice, Margaret and Helen Atkins of 445 Washington st., Newton. His funeral will be held tomorrow morning from the home of his sisters at 445 Washington st., Newton and the funeral service will be at Our Lady's Church, Newton. Burial will be in Calvary Cemetery.

Free Vaccination For Children

Dr. Fred Lowe, city physician, will be at his office in City Hall during the week starting August 14 from 9 to 11 a. m. each morning to give free vaccination to children of such persons as are unable to pay to have it done.

Twelve Year Old Scouts Rival Kentuckian

Take Interesting Hike, During Which They Have Many Thrilling Adventures

Recently there has been a great to-do in the papers about a man in Kentucky who "hollered" so loud that he was heard in three states. The Boy Scouts of Northumbria Council, spending the summer at Camp Barker, even the 12-year-olds there, equalled that record yesterday!

The entire camp started out by Patrols on Thursday afternoon for an overnight hike. The Whippoorwill Patrol, destination unknown, the Blazing Arrow and the Raccoons, destination Wallum Pond, one-half in Rhode Island and one-half in Massachusetts; the Hawk and Chipmunk Patrols, destination Long Pond, in Connecticut, not far from the Massachusetts line. The entire hike was based on a game, with Bandits, Indians, Police, Explorers and Survivors. The Explorers (one Patrol) were after a gold mine and the Survivors were to locate and stake it out officially; the Indians were to prevent it; the Bandits to perform their usual nefarious jobs and the Police to foil them!

On Thursday evening, each Patrol arrived at its destination and set up camp. The following morning, each set out cross-country, with either compasses or using the watch for a compass to reach the gold mine without being seen or heard by any one of the other groups.

The gold mine was Tri-State Rock, which marks the junction of the boundaries of Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Connecticut. There was considerable roaming, but nearly all were able to locate the objective despite the thick woods and underbrush. At the end of the same all gathered at the rock. It is still doing this standing there that the Scouts could readily be heard in three states, even at a whisper!

While people at home were sweating, the Scouts "down country" were enjoying a cool breeze; it swept across the lake and all in camp were comfortable. Even on the hike, there was a strong, cooling breeze.

Every Scout carried his own pack, in which there was bedding and food for three meals. For Thursday evening's supper there were cube steaks, potatoes, bread and butter and a "mix-up" dessert. It was composed of evaporated apples and dried apricots stewed together, and a tasty dish it makes.

For breakfast, the following morning, they had oranges, egg and bacon cooked on a hot rock, bread and butter and cocoa. Shortly before noon the Patrols started out for Camp Barker and had their noon meal on the way. It consisted of the "standard hike ration," developed by Mr. F. E. Lichtenhaeler, Scoutmaster of Troop 14, Highland, Mass. It was composed of raisins, chocolate, nuts, cheese, pilot bread and dried apples. It makes a very filling and substantial meal.

The last Patrol was in camp shortly before four o'clock Friday afternoon. This period the Patrols are headed up as follows: Hawks, "Buster" Wilde of Troop 24, Wellesley; Blazing Arrows by James Blerer of Troop 10, Waban; Chipmunks by William Morison of Troop 6, Newtonville; Raccoons by Joseph Jarvis of Troop 22, Newton; and Whippoorwill by "Spike" Mitchell of Troop 4B, Highlands.

Camp was inspected by Mr. A. C. Blunt, Jr., Chairman of the Short-Term Camping Committee of the Council, on Tuesday evening last. Mate Donald Curtis of Ship 13, Sea Scout Division, was the guest of the camp on Tuesday also, and gave instruction in mending the sails for the sail boats. Scout Harold Jenkins of Troop 11, Newton, qualified Camp Barker sailor, in charge of the sail boats and will give sailing instruction.

Smith To Run In Ward Four

Announces His Candidacy For Alderman-At-Large

Silvanus Smith of 230 Woodland rd., Auburndale, will be a candidate for the office of Alderman-at-large from Ward 4 at the election next December. Mr. Smith was elected to the Board of Aldermen at the election in December, 1928, when he defeated former Alderman William Noone. He served as Ward Alderman from Ward 4 for four years. He was defeated for reelection last year by Dennis Cronin. During his service on the Board, Mr. Smith had an excellent record for attendance both at the Board meetings and committee meetings. On a number of matters he displayed a commendable independence in voting for what he considered the best interests of the city.

Mr. Smith is assistant treasurer and sales manager of the Carpenter-Morton Company, manufacturers of paints and varnishes. He has been an active member of the Auburndale Club and the Reciprocity Club of Boston. The office of alderman-at-large for which Mr. Smith will be a candidate has been filled for the past twelve years by John Gordon.

Welfare Bureau Assists White Collar Class

Works Closely With Mayor's Relief Committee

When the Mayor's Relief Committee started its work of relieving distress among the hundreds of families throughout the city of Newton which had lost their means of livelihood in November, 1930, it turned to the Newton Welfare Bureau for professional help, and since that time the two organizations have been working in the closest co-operation.

In 1915 the Newton Associated Charities organization, which had existed since 1889 as a project of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs, was reorganized in its present form as an independent organization with its own board of directors and staff of professional social workers. From the time of its inception, it has had for its purpose the investigation of emergency cases of poverty and since the days of the depression began it has had for its special responsibility the relief of the "white collar" class, especially classes of cases which can not for various reasons be relieved from public funds.

The Mayor's Relief Committee has handled the cases which could be relieved through employment, but cases which required special investigation and those which called for direct loans and other help have been turned over to the Welfare Bureau for administrative handling. The Welfare Bureau, in other words, is the professional agency for the administration of relief which can not be handled through city funds or through the provision of emergency work.

The Mayor's Committee has provided the Bureau with the funds for handling the cases turned over to it and also with the money for the salaries of case worker and a special office secretary. It is still doing this standing there that the Scouts could readily be heard in three states, even at a whisper!

Says Great Need Is For Trained Men In Politics

Wm. A. Riley Also Discusses Business Outlook Before Newton Kiwanis Club

The great need in government today is for trained men, declared William Arthur Riley, chairman of the Boston School Committee, in addressing the Newton Kiwanis Club at their noon-day luncheon meeting on Monday. Mr. Riley also in discussing the business outlook said that New England must look to her laurels. He spoke in part as follows:

"The phrase 'New Deal' will soon be worn out in a national sense by the successful administration of President Roosevelt, whose platform slogan has been taken up by State and city candidates, but it is a fact that there is a 'New Deal' locally as well as nationally, both in business and in politics.

Politics the greatest need of the day is for a school to train public officials. A short course reviewing subjects from elementary government to the present system of taxation would be invaluable to those enrolling in such a school and would qualify them for public office. As it is now, many men go into public life from private enterprises and waste the first part of their term learning 'the ropes.' It would amaze many of our citizens if they realized how little councillors, selectmen and representatives actually know about the present tax system and the fundamentals of equal taxation.

"We find everywhere schools of business administration, accountancy and salesmanship but where can the public officer holder get any form of training in the field which he undertakes to administer? He will come into the administration of public funds with only common sense and rule of thumb philosophy to guide him.

"They say that a statesman looks to the next generation while a politician looks to the next election. What the business man wants today is more statesmanship and less politics. Business today has to go to the Government for help and it goes voluntarily. The disposition for help is on the part of business and not on the part of Government to interfere with business. Naturally then the officeholders of the next few years must be qualified to the highest degree.

"In business the order has changed because it was found that these money corporations and holding companies which were formed, could easily sail along in good times because their sales came practically without solicitation. The greatest emphasis of the past five years is upon the part played by executives for administrative purposes. Now that hard times are upon us, the small business bids fair to put big business out of competition because of the inequality of overhead expenses. The big business which prospered in good times is having difficulty under present conditions, whereas the small business which was overshadowed in the boom period is now eking out an existence at least and not showing the disastrous deficits which big business reports. The 'New Deal' in business will be for the decentralization so that small and medium sized companies will again come into their own as a fundamental necessity for prosperity.

"The man of fifty or over is having difficulty holding his job or getting a new one; those who are between thirty and fifty years of age are being penalized by war service, during which time women came into industry and at lower wages did the work of those men who went into the service; the young men between twenty and thirty years of age will come into maturity without any more preparation for holding public office than did their fathers, unless some steps are taken in every community to properly qualify them for such service and to grade their ability.

"The future of this section of the country is very precarious. All of the modern trends are not conducive to bringing to Boston and its suburbs more business. We find the shoe

Martin Mfg. Co. Already Under Recovery Act

Has Boosted Wages and Shortened Working Hours

The Martin Manufacturing Company of West Newton, manufacturers of novelty lace curtains, is already operating under the new code of the Industrial Recovery Administration. While some confusion still exists regarding the interpretation of certain parts of the code, hours of labor and wages have been brought into conformity with the act. Forty hours of labor is the maximum in hours for a week's work and $13 is the minimum wage. All but two of the employees receive more than the minimum.

Mr. George J. Martin, president of the Martin Manufacturing Co., says that the corporation has already experienced a decided improvement in business and that this increase, if continued, will soon bring an increase in the number of employees.

The Martin Manufacturing Company is operating under the special code of the American Association of Novelty Curtain Manufacturers. This code is closely allied to that of cotton textiles.

Highlands People Protest Against Fuel Oil Business

Highlands Woman's Club Is Among Objectors

More than 60 residents of Newton Highlands came to Newton City Hall on Monday night to protest against the petition of the Metropolitan Ice Company for a permit to legally operate a fuel oil business at the former plant of Purity Ice Company off Beacon st., Newton Highlands, near the intersection of Walnut st. There are eight large oil tanks on the premises, with a capacity of 49,000 gallons. The company also wants a permit to keep 500 gallons of gasoline there in another tank for private use.

The public hearing on the petition was held before the Board of Aldermen. Allen T. Rogers of Stafford rd., Newton Centre, appeared as attorney for the petitioners. He said the large tanks have been at the property for 8 or 10 years and were formerly used to store fuel oil which was used by the Purity Ice Company in manufacturing artificial ice. The Metropolitan Ice Company, which bought the plant and business of the Purity Ice Company, wants to use the tanks for the storage of fuel oil. The oil will be brought in large tank trucks to the place, and then carried out in small tank trucks to be retailed. According to Mr. Rogers, the character of the use of the property has not been changed and there will be no structural changes in the building there. He said that Chief Randlett of the Newton Fire Department says the fire hazard will not be increased.

Alderman Bowen asked Mr. Rogers if it is the intention of the ice company to discontinue the manufacture of ice at the Newton Highlands plant. Mr. Rogers answered, "No." He said that the sale of ice is a seasonal business, and the Metropolitan Ice Company desires to round-out its business by having a commodity to sell for which there is a demand in the months during which there is little sale for ice. Therefore, it has gone into the fuel oil business.

Alderman McKay asked Mr. Rogers a number of pertinent questions, some of which the attorney could not answer. The Newton Highlands alderman inquired if it had been necessary to store 49,000 gallons of oil for the operation of the artificial ice plant when the Purity Ice Company owned the property. Mr. Rogers replied that it had not been necessary, but the large storage tanks had been installed so that oil could be purchased at advantageous prices when the market was favorable. McKay asked regarding the depreciation allowed in the valuation of the tanks, the life of these containers and their original costs. The attorney referred Mr. McKay's question to Francis H. Williams, former head of the Purity Ice Company and now associated with the Metropolitan Ice Company. Mr. Williams said that the big oil tanks were installed during the war years to guard against a shortage of fuel oil and that they cost about $5000. He explained that they are of steel construction, embedded in concrete and show no signs of deterioration. Mr. McKay said that he has been informed by a reliable engineer that the life of the tanks is limited, inasmuch as they already have been installed about 15 years.

Alderman Hutchinson asked as to the extent of truck traffic the oil plant would cause? Attorney Rogers answered that the number of oil trucks in the cold months would be less than the number of ice trucks in the warm months. He said there would be no oil sold at retail at the place; it would only be retailed from trucks owned by the company.

John Finelli, attorney for Mrs. Mary Ciccone of 1120 Beacon st., said his client owns property abutting that of the ice company and is strongly opposed to the petition. Mr. Finelli said that as late as two years ago the Purity Ice Company petitioned for a change of zone at this property, and at that time when he, representing Mrs. Ciccone, inquired for what purpose the zone change was desired, the petitioners professed not to know. "Now," said Mr. Finelli, "we find out why they wanted the zone changed."

He asserted that the big oil tanks had been installed on the premises unlawfully. He also asserted that oil had been sold from the premises illegally during the past two years. He stated that the Metropolitan Ice Company wants to transfer its oil distribution plant from Somerville to Newton Highlands, which would bring it not far from our beautiful new city hall and adjoining the new Cold Spring playground. He said it would create a fire hazard and would add greatly to truck traffic. He argued that all the officers of the Metropolitan Ice Company are non-residents.

$865,000 In New Projects Proposed By Mayor Weeks

Would Build New Schools, Reservoir and Incinerator Under N. R. A.

A special meeting of the Board of Aldermen last night by order of Mayor Weeks received a message from the Mayor in which he recommended that the city proceed on public projects involving nearly $1,000,000. The financing of these projects would be aided by funds to be received through allotments to the city from the Federal Government under the national recovery act. The projects would include the doubling in size of the covered water reservoir on top of Waban Hill at a cost of $250,000. The reservoir now has a capacity of 10,000,000 gallons. Another project is to erect somewhere in the city on city owned land, an incinerator to cost $200,000. Other projects include the erection of a grade school on land owned by the city near Nevada st. and Linwood ave. Newtonville, at a cost of $250,000; an addition to the Bigelow junior school to cost $125,000; an addition to the Day junior high school to cost $40,000.

The incinerator has been talked of for more than a score of years. Special committees to study this matter were appointed in the past, but nothing definite done. When proposals were made to locate the rubbish burning in certain parts of the city, objections to the plan arose from the locations which would be affected. The addition to the Bigelow School would give Newton Corner junior high school facilities which it was promised years ago and never received.

Other matters on which action was taken at the meeting included an appropriation of $400 for a new fire truck (combination pump and hose) to replace Hose 8 at Newtonville; granting a common victualer license to Michael Farina on Watertown st., Nonantum; extending the permit of the Woodland Sand & Gravel Company on Washington st., Lower Falls, for 6 months. The fire truck for Nonantum has been long sought for by Chief Randlett. Farina's license was granted after the applicant had a stormy session with the Licenses Committee. In extending the permit to the gravel company, Alderman Gordon again stated that a screen of trees will be planted along Washington st. by the owners of the pit. This promise was made over a year ago, but was not fulfilled. Gordon and City Engineer Morse stated that the company has complied with the agreement to make a specified re-fill in the deep pit near Beacon st. extension and that a further fill will be made.

More Claims For Alleged Damages From Blasting

To the already considerable number of claims which have been presented to the Board of Aldermen by persons who allege that damages to their houses resulted from the blasting of the new high level sewer at Newton, the following claims were received at the meeting on Monday night:

Elsa Leonard, at 526 Centre st.; E. W. Abbott, at 315 Tremont st.; Everett W. Crawford & Genevieve B. Crawford, 48 Copley st.; Margaret A. Dwyer and Timothy J. Dwyer, at Eleanor A. Dwyer, Atty., at 235-237 Tremont st.; Gertrude L. Kirwin and John E. Kirwin, at 14 Whittemore rd.; J. Edward Callanan and Mary C. Callanan, at 197 Tremont st.; 324 Tremont st.; 320 Tremont st.; 54 Playstead rd.; Mr. Gertrude Greene, at 183 Tremont st.; Timothy Finn, at 11 Mount Ida st.

Mayor Vacationing In New Mexico

Mayor Weeks, accompanied by his wife and his two oldest children, Frances and John Weeks leave today for Gallup, New Mexico by train. Traveling with them are Mr. and Mrs. William H. Cladin, Jr. of Belmont, who are also accompanied by their two children. The party will make a four weeks' camping trip through New Mexico and Arizona. One of Mayor Weeks' automobiles is traveling to New Mexico and will meet the party upon its arrival at Gallup. Mr. Cladin is interested in archeology and the tour through the two States.

THREE TEAMS STILL IN BATTLE FOR PLAY-OFF BERTH

The battle for playoff positions is still on. The Cubs by defeating Highlands, 1-0 are now in second place. Auburndale in fourth place appears to be the only team with any chance to displace either Highlands or Cubs from playoff berths.

Tuesday evening Y. M. C. A. and Cubs battled to a 3-3 tie, their second deadlock of the year. The Highlands playing at Victory Field managed to hold their position by playing a 2-2 tie with the Nonantum Boys Club.

Both Highlands and Cubs have to play Upper Falls during the next few days, and the way the Falls are playing since they added Billy Proctor, Mickey DeGeorge and Joe Kerrivan to their list, anything may happen.

The standing up to August 3rd:

James Kingman of Newton Highlands, member of the Newton Planning Board, speaking as an individual citizen, displayed a map showing the location of the proposed oil distribution plant and the new playground only 850 feet distant, and the new drainage ditch which was lately dug to drain the swamp at a cost to the city of $16,000. Mr. Kingman said that when he came to Newton Highlands to reside, persons said that the territory abutting the swamp would never be developed for residential purposes. But, in recent years several streets have been developed in this area and 86 houses erected along them. These houses are assessed at present $407,000, but they cost much more to build. The swamp section will be drained in the near future and many houses will be erected in this section unless its development is prevented by the granting of the permit which would establish an oil plant nearby. Mr. King presented a petition against the granting of such a permit. This petition is signed by 70 residents of Newton Highlands, living in the area which would be affected. When Mr. Kingman concluded, President Collins of the Aldermen asked those in the hall who objected to a permit being granted for the use of the property as an oil distributing plant to rise. More than 50 persons stood up to evidence their objections.

William F. Pillion of Dunklee st. Newton Highlands, speaking for his father who owns property adjoining Cold Spring swamp, registered a vigorous protest against the proposed oil yard. He said that citizens all over Newton have been paying for the expense of developing Cold Spring swamp, which has now been so improved that it is called Cold Spring Fen. "Now," said Mr. Pillion, "these outsiders come into Newton with a plan just to make money." He asserted that the fuel oil business is just started and if the Metropolitan Ice Company will be given a permit to establish a distribution plant at Newton Highlands, soon there will be a flock of big tank trucks travelling to and from this plant to surrounding cities and towns. He asked—"Why should we be the goats?" He concluded by saying that if the permit is granted, the area near Beacon st. and the territory near the Cold Spring fen district at Newton Highlands will be ruined for residential purposes.

Mrs. Walker, president of the Woman's Club of Newton Highlands said that this club has 400 members. She said that the executive committee of the club is strongly opposed to a permit being granted for the use of the ice company property as an oil storage plant. Alderman McKay inquired of Mr. Williams as to the area of the property owned at Newton Highlands by the ice company. He was told that the property includes 15 acres of land. Mr. McKay's question brought out the fact that if the ice company is given a permit to establish an oil distribution plant at Newton Highlands, it owns plenty of land to eventually enlarge this business.

Aldermen Meet

A regular meeting of the Board of Aldermen was held on Monday night. A large number of Newton Highlands residents were present to protest against the petition of the Metropolitan Ice Company for a permit to store 49,000 gallons of fuel oil at the former Purty Ice Company plant near the intersection of Walnut and Beacon sts. Details of the hearing on this matter are printed elsewhere.

Other hearings announced were on the petitions of the Newton Cemetery Corporation for a permit to install a 250-gallon gasoline tank for private use near its garage building off Walnut st.; Nicolo Palmieri for a permit to install an additional 500-gallon gasoline tank at the filling station, 302 Watertown st., Nonantum; John Purcell for a permit to erect a 2-car garage in addition to the present 1-car garage at 35 James st., West Newton; Colonial Gasoline Company for a permit to erect an office building at the filling station, 2246 Commonwealth ave. No opposition developed against the first two of these petitions. An owner of abutting property sent a written protest against the Purcell petition. A representative of the Colonial Oil Company informed the Aldermen that the company desired to withdraw its petition.

David Greer, appearing as attorney for Pearl Samuels, entered a protest against the construction of a drain and sewer in Cotton st., Newton, from Clements rd., northeasterly.

On recommendation of the Traffic Committee, the Board voted to prohibit parking on streets adjoining West Newton common as follows: Elm st., west side from Webster st. northerly; Webster st., north side from Elm st. to Oak ave.; Oak ave., east side from Webster st. to 58 Oak ave.

Appropriations made by the Aldermen included—Welfare Department for poor outside of City Home, $15,000; Welfare Department, clerical assistance, $220; Workmen's Compensation, $3000; Treasury Department, interest on funded debt, $952; for Landlord deposits on foreclosure on 51 parcels of real estate on which 1930 taxes have not been paid, $1530; Street Department, sewer and drain construction in connection with separation of grades on Worcester turnpike at Hammond Pond parkway and Saw Mill brook outlet, $16,000; Street Department, sewer in Cotton st., $2305; Street Department, sewer in Windemere rd., $171.

The Aldermen voted to authorize a sewer bond issue of $50,000, and to transfer $1000 from the sidewalks repairs account to sidewalks construction. The Aldermen also voted to accept an offer from Rev. John Condon, pastor of Corpus Christi Church at Auburndale, for the purchase of 1070 square feet of land on Commonwealth ave. between Melrose and Adams sts.

A claim for damages was received from Raymond Forte for a suit of clothes ruined when he fell into a manhole at the pumping station grounds on Needham st., Upper Falls. Mr. Forte asked for $24. Patrolman Charles Walker asked for reimbursement for injuries received in the performance of duty. Mary S. Craddock and the National Laundry Company asked for payment because of damages to automobile caused by alleged negligence on the part of the city.

A petition was received from Daniel Hoar asking that land on the south side of Beacon st., between the Purty Ice Company land and the Waban National Laundry, be returned to business zone. A petition was received from Joseph Hickey asking that he be given a waiver of the set-back line at 80 Ashton ave., Newton Centre. Other petitions received included the following:

Earle S. Johnson, first-class license to deal in second-hand motor vehicles, at 151 Walnut st., Ward 5.

Francis E. Brown, continuance of use of gasoline tanks and oil, at 1295 Boylston st., Ward 5; 2 underground tanks, 3 pumps, 2,000 gallons; 200 gals. oil.

Robert W. Sayles, 120 gals. gasoline, 263 Hammond st., Ward 6, for private use only.

Peter Volante, 1 additional underground tank and pump, 500 gals. capacity, in addition to 119 gals. gasoline now on premises, at farm at 391 Dedham st., Ward 5.

Academy of Sacred Heart, to keep, store and use fuel oil in buildings at 785 Centre st., Ward 1, 27,500 gals.

New England Telephone and Telegraph Co. of Mass., removal of one pole, Dorset rd., easterly side, approximately 1047.0 ft. northerly from Beacon st.

Edison Electric Illuminating Co. of Boston, relocation of pole, Adams st., about 190 ft. southeast of Adams court, set one pole and remove one pole.

Edison Co., relocation existing pole, Morton st., approximately 160 feet east of Mill st., set one pole and remove one pole.

Boston Consolidated Gas Co., to dig up and open Miller rd. and other streets in the city, for laying, relaying and repair of gas pipes therein.

In recommending the appropriation of $15,000 for the Welfare Department, Alderman Gordon of the Finance Committee explained that this amount is estimated to suffice for about six weeks and that other appropriations will have to be made before the year ends. Referring to the appropriation of $16,000 for the drain and sewer on Boylston st. near the Brookline line, Alderman Murray stated that the State had been asked to assume this expense inasmuch as it is necessitated by the construction of the new Worcester turnpike; a State highway. The State refused and cited similar conditions which had occurred in the construction of other State highways where cities and towns affected had paid the costs.

On recommendation of the Licenses Committee, a common victualler license was granted to Antonio Esposito at 189 Adams st., Nonantum; a per-

Y. M. C. A.

Track

The Newton Y. M. C. A. has entered 24 men in the eighth annual Scotch picnic and games to be held by the Caledonian Club at Caledonia Grove, West Roxbury tomorrow. Heading the list are Art Linthwaite in the half-mile, who won this event in the "Y" State Meet in June in the time of 2:04; Johnny Morris and Stan. Cullen in the 100, who are both able to do 10.4 or better, and Al. Hick in who will run in the featured Walter Scott mile.

James Cahill and John Quigley will also run in the 100; Johnny Morris and James Cahill will double in the 220; Jarvis Farley and Hugh Manning will start in the 440; Bob Gutzler, Andy Hanson, and George Thompson will also compete in the half with Art Linthwaite; Four men are entered in the two mile—Art. Jacobs, Johnny Quirk, Cliff. Boudrot, and Dr. Lawrence DeLamater.

These men will look for honors in the field events: Fred Dunlop, John Quigley, John Frazier, Stan. Cullen, Jarvis Farley, and Paul Carroll. The present line-up for the relay is Stan. Cullen, former lead-off man for the B. A. A. Team, James Cahill, Johnny Morris, and Art. Linthwaite.

Tennis

The Newton Y. M. C. A. Tennis Team, captained by Art Jacobs, turned in its fourth victory of the season Saturday by defeating Brockton Y. M. C. A. at Newton four to one. L. Chase Kopner, playing number one for Newton, defeated L. Johnson of Brockton, 6-7, 7-5, 6-4; Al. Rogan, Newton, took Clarence McLaughlin, Jr., of Brockton 8-6, 6-4; and Ken. Gerritsen, also of Newton, defeated H. Mason, Brockton, 9-7, 6-3.

In the doubles matches the two teams broke even with L. Chase Kopner and Al. Rogan paired for Newton, defeating Mason and Pettangal of Brockton 6-2, 6-2, and Ellershaw and Matthews of the visitors, defeating "Nick" Carter and Andrew Kasper Jr., of the home team, 6-1, 6-4.

Next Saturday afternoon Newton "Y" plays in the preliminary matches of the Y. M. C. A. State Championship to be held on the Boston "Y" Courts. Other Associations entered are, Newport (R.I.), West Springfield, Boston, Lynn, Salem, and Brockton Camp Frank A. Day.

The Newton Y. M. C. A. Camp at East Brookfield observes its mid-season events. The season, one half over, finds the camp filled to capacity with 151 boys and counsellors from the Newtons and vicinity.

Sunday Service Conducted by Boys. Under the direction of Tent One, the Sunday Service was conducted by the boys themselves. In the morning service, Robert Harlow of Newtonville presided and offered the prayer. Harold Bronsdon of Newton Centre led the Responsive Readings and Norman Haas of Belmont read the Scripture. The addresses were given by Prescott Cason and Allen Corbin, speaking on Loyalty. The musical selection was rendered by the Boys' Choir under the direction of Mr. Morton H. Wiggin. Two Wantonit Certificates were awarded to Roland Wells and Edward Fettes. In the evening, Tent Two conducted the Vesper Service. Fred Spaulding, who presided, was assisted by William Oesting. Richard Emory played the organ. The addresses were given by Jack Reitz and Sherwin Kibbe and their subject was "Contentment."

The Annual Circus
Under the direction of Mr. C. Evan Johnson the Circus was colorful and nicely exhibited. Col. Edwin F. Smallwood acted as Ringmaster and led the Grand Parade which started at 2:30 P. M. The special events were given by boys headed up by the several different counsellors.

The Olympians, under the direction of Mr. Tom O'Donnell, was well received and many records were broken. Mr. Wiggin, head of the Nature Program, had charge of the wild animals—such beasts as the "whiffle-poop," the royal Dirasticus, and many other rare animals were present. The Sideshow, given by Mr. Healey, was a feature and the Chamber of Horrors, by our French representative Dick Kelley, was a sight to behold. The Midway did a rushing business with Marvin Perry doing the greatest amount of business.

In the evening Mr. Timmins, the Camp Chef, officially opened the "blueberry" season with a pie eating contest. Mr. Campbell of Newtonville won the laurels in this event.

A Marionette Show was presented by Bill Fish of West Newton and it amused the crowd greatly.

Dads' Week—August 11th to 21st
Camp Director Clyde G. Hess announces the dates of Dads' Week to be August 11th to 21st. This is a chance for the Dads to get away from the City and spend the time with their boys at Camp. Reservations should be made at once with the Director. The cost for this is $2.00 a day.

mit to use a radio was granted to the Malloy Lunch Room at 100 Needham st.; a permit for a common victualler license was refused Joseph Rando at 1180 Walnut st.

Indians as Gem Miners
The American Indians were excellent prospectors, declares Sydney H. Bull, consulting mining engineer of New York, yet because of their ignorance of smelting their finding consisted of little more than flinted free gold and precious stones. Considerable progress had been made in the mining of gems, and they were as skillful as were the Egyptians. Using stone hammers and horn picks for tools, they turned out excellent ornaments. In hard rock mining the rock was split by building a fire over it and throwing cold water on it when heated. Many of the turquoise, jade, mica and rock crystal mines now in use were started by the Indians.

Why Terraplane Beats Other Cars

Maybe you don't want to beat every other car on the road up hills and through traffic, but you certainly want to be able to do that if need should arise.

In the first place, it's safer to drive a car that will let you do it—many's the time such a car will get you out of jams and ticklish places just because it can zip ahead more quickly than the car beside it or in front of it.

In the second place, it's a great help when you're in a hurry—it cuts down driving time by getting you up hills and through thick traffic so quickly that you don't have to exceed the speed limit on the stretches.

And, in the third place, it's a lot more fun to drive such a car—it makes you feel free.

The Terraplane will outclimb and outaccelerate every other car—because it has more power-per-pound than any other car.

The reason it has more power-per-pound is that it is the only Unit-built car.

This unification of frame and body by means of a broad steel "backbone" is the basis of the Unit Construction principle.

It permits the vibrationless mounting of a very powerful engine. It gets rid of hundreds of pounds of weight.

This combination of greater power with less weight—more power-per-pound—is the secret of Terraplane performance. It is the secret of Terraplane gas-oil-tire economy. It is the secret of Terraplane long life and ruggedness, which have impressed thousands of owners the world over.

"Betty, darling, why dance when we can Terraplane? I've never ridden in such a car."

"Neither had I, till Ned brought this miracle home last week."

"After having driven 'all three', Patsy, the Terraplane stood out like a lighthouse."

"So say we all of us"

The rising chorus of Terraplane owners—strengthened by performance records, economy facts and experience convictions—is drowning out all comparisons. Get a group of Terraplane owners together—anywhere in the world—and they sound like convention delegates all trying to nominate the same candidate.

"Never have to shift gears on hills."
"Get around every car on the road without effort."
"Not a cent for repairs in 29,000 miles."
"Smooth as a greyhound over a fence."
"More than 400 miles a day without fatigue."

That's the sort of thing they're saying. Ask them, and they'll tell you. Even better, drive a Terraplane and you won't have to ask anybody!
"It isn't the speed—it's the rapidity!"

Newton Child Fatally Burned

Three Year Old Was Playing With Matches

Marjorie Phillips, 3, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otis Phillips of 547 Centre st., Newton, was fatally burned Monday afternoon at her home. The little girl was one of a family of nine children and was playing with matches and sealing wax when her cotton pajamas caught fire. Her mother, Mrs. Gladys Phillips, had both her hands burned while extinguishing the flames in the child's clothes. A passing autoist rushed the little girl and the mother to the Newton Hospital where the child died at 7:15 Monday evening.

Announces Essay Contest on Columbus Day

Cash Prizes Will Be Awarded By Newton Council K. of C.

Newton Council, No. 167, Knights of Columbus, at the meeting of Aug. 1, 1933, voted to sponsor a Columbus Day Essay Contest, open to all the school children of the Newtons in the junior and senior high school grades. The purpose of the contest is to aid in the general understanding and observance of legal holidays by our future citizens.

The rules of this contest are as follows:
I. The Columbus Day Essay Contest is open to all pupils in grades 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, in the public or parochial schools of Newton.
II. The title of the essay shall be: "What Columbus Day Means To Me."
III. The essay shall contain not more than 500 words.
IV. Essays must be written in ink or must be typewritten.
V. The essays will be judged by the following points and values: Historical importance, 75%; clearness of expression, 15%; neatness, 10%.

VI. A total of $40 will be awarded as prizes, as follows: $15 to the best essay writer of all grades; $5 to the best essay writers of each of the other grades.

VII. All essays must be submitted before midnight of Oct. 12, 1933, to Knights of Columbus Essay Committee, F. P. Frazier, Chairman, 127 Pearl st., Newton, Mass.

VIII. At the top of every sheet of paper handed in must appear the name of writer. At the end of the essay must appear writer's full name, school and grade of Sept. 1933, address, and the number of words used in essay (not over 500).

Newton Carpenters Hear Talk on NRA

The members of the Carpenters District Council of Newton and vicinity on Thursday night, July 27th had the privilege of hearing Harry Russell of the Workers Educational Bureau of the American Federation of Labor give an address on the details of the National Recovery Act, and how it affects the working class. The Carpenters District Council felt the need of having this important new move of our Government explained to them and their friends, so they instructed their secretary, Guy Hopwood to procure a speaker and arrange for an open meeting. Mr. Russell came well prepared to explain the "New Deal" and he gave his listeners a good idea as to how the government hopes to create jobs, increase wages and shorten working hours in every industry.

Mr. Russell explained the codes, and told how the government had arrived at the estimate of what constitutes a fair profit for employers, and fair working conditions for employees. He said that many people feel there are not enough teeth in this new act, but he commented: "My answer to this is, don't forget that the President closed all the banks on the fourth day of March." He gave his listeners an opportunity to ask questions and many interesting points were discussed.

Patrolman Monroe Continues Campaign

Patrolman Frank Monroe, day policeman at Newton Lower Falls, is continuing his campaign to make the dangerous intersection at Beacon and Washington sts. safer. A number of serious accidents have occurred at this place because of the failure of autoists to obey the STOP sign before entering Washington st. Monroe had several more offenders in the Newton court last Friday and each was fined $5 for not stopping before entering.

Whether it is because certain applicants think Newton people are getting hungrier, or whether they believe that there is profit in the sale of 3.2% beer and that there is a big demand for the same, the fact is that applications for common victualler licenses in this city continue to be presented to the Board of Aldermen. Among those received at the meeting on Monday night were: Antonio Magni, 138a Adams st., Nonantum; Michael Farina, 398 Watertown st., Nonantum; Mullen & Blackler, 869 Washington st., Newtonville; Abraham Ginsberg, 163 Hicks st., West Newton; Gertrude Cohen, 882 Walnut st., Newton Highlands; Antonio Esposito, 189 Adams st., Nonantum; Joseph Rando, 1180 Walnut st., Newton Highlands. A license was granted to Esposito. The petition of Rando was refused. The others were referred to the Licenses Committee.

CHILDREN'S MUSEUM

Navajo Indian Life will feature the 3 o'clock motion picture talk on August 7, 8 and 9 at the Children's Museum of Boston. On August 10, 11, and 12 Flowers of the Yosemite will be described and illustrated by Arthur C. Pillsbury's film showing the slow opening of flowers.

Mrs. John W. Bartol's "Old Farm" in Milton will be visited on Wednesday, August 9, by the Summer Field Club for bird and flower study and the collection of insects. This farm is located in the Blue Hills Reservation and the members of the Field Club will have a chance to climb the Hills.

The museum is a private institution supported by voluntary contribution from friends of children.

MORE SAFETY in the tread

● The safest tread is the one that can stop your car the quickest. Goodyears stop quicker than any other tire. 10% quicker than the second best. Up to 77% quicker than others. Tests on wet pavements prove it. Why not buy the safest tire?

MORE SAFETY in the plies

● Goodyears give you safety in every ply—because every ply is built with patented Supertwist cord—and every ply runs from bead to bead. Ask to see a Supertwist demonstration and see for yourself why it means more safety in every ply.

MORE MILEAGE

Among the Seniors who passed were William Shinnick, 749 Washington st., Newton, Ralph Huston, 103 Court st., Newtonville, John M. Gallagher, 1002 Boylston st., Newton Highlands; and Thomas Kelly, 9 Avon Place, Newton.
It is hoped that even more young people will take advantage of this splendid opportunity."

Ford Dealers Meet Challenge

Because of the fact that the manufacturers of a new low priced car are continuing to broadcast by radio that their six cylinder car uses less gasoline than an eight cylinder car, FORD dealers in the following New England cities issued challenges to determine which make of car is the most economical in gasoline consumption. The figures given represent the average miles per gallon for FORD's on a 100 mile run. Except in the last city named, the challenges were not accepted:

Portland, Maine, 26.2; Lewiston, Maine, 23.8; Manchester, N. H., 21.7; Hartford, Conn., 23.04; Springfield, Mass., 22.05; Holyoke, Mass., 21.2; Greenfield, Mass., 21.8; Pittsfield, Mass., 20.1; Northampton, Mass., 20.4; Lowell, Mass., 23.05; Nashua, N. New Gas Station At Newton Corner

Pan-Am to Locate at Washington and Thornton Sts.

A new gasoline filling station will soon be located at the corner of Washington and Thornton sts., Newton. George Haynes who owns the property at 361-363 Washington st. recently purchased the tenement and land at 359 Washington st., occupied by Serafino Troiani and family. Mr. Haynes will have this section of the wooden tenement block razed. Last year the two dwellings at 361-363 Washington st. were torn down. When the former Troiana property is demolished, the Pan-Am Oil Company, which has leased the site from Mr. Haynes, will erect a modern filling station which will have a 74-foot frontage on Washington st. and about 90 feet on Thornton st.

TWO POINTS OF VIEW

Considerable publicity was given this week to the interchange of views of Secretary of the Interior Ickes and Governor Ely over the handling of distribution of Federal Funds and loans for public works projects of cities and towns in Massachusetts. The issue represents two separate views in which both officials are justified in their stand. The Federal procedure is planned for the nation as a whole and is intended to permit the cities and towns to deal directly with the government without interference or infringement by the State, subject to the approval of the State Board appointed by President Roosevelt and also to the higher officials in Washington. Massachusetts, however, has adopted state legislation which requires that the Emergency Finance Board, set up early in the year for the purpose of aiding the various municipalities to proceed along sound financial lines, also approve the local public works projects. This feature of linking the board up with the N. R. A. was designed in order to protect the financial integrity of the municipalities, to prevent the impairment of the credit of the State itself, and to protect the taxpayer who ultimately will be called upon to foot the bill.

The plan adopted by the legislature deals with two separate situations. There is an Emergency Public Works Commission which will deal with purely State projects in which the Federal government will participate under the N. R. A. The second situation is that affecting cities and towns and which is the subject of the controversy as stated. The State deemed it advisable to have these local projects sent to the Emergency Finance Board for approval before being submitted to the President's State Board. It is possible that when Federal officials in Washington are fully informed as to the situation here that an understanding as to the program to be followed will be speedily reached.

FORTY YEARS OF HUMANITARIAN SERVICE

On the first of August 1893 Dr. Francis G. Curtis became chairman of the Newton Board of Health upon the appointment of Mayor Fenno. For the past forty years Dr. Curtis has given the city valued service. While other public officials have also served the city for many years none has served in the same position throughout the entire period as Dr. Curtis has, which is a unique aspect of his service. Dr. Curtis has originated many ideas of health regulation which have been adopted by other municipalities. He has seen many changes and improvements made in the control and elimination of common diseases which formerly resulted in epidemics that were a menace to the community and the dread of all.

For many years Newton has enjoyed a high standing in its health work, much of which is due to the resourcefulness, sagacity and wisdom of its veteran Health Board chairman. We congratulate Dr. Curtis on the completion of four decades of service and trust that he may continue in his present duties for a long time to come. His has been a real humanitarian service.

LOCAL PUBLIC WORKS PROJECTS

A few weeks ago we expressed the opinion that it would be desirable to include in the local public works projects to be undertaken in conjunction with the national recovery program certain new school buildings which would be needed within the next few years. Last night at a special meeting of the Board of Aldermen the Mayor submitted a list of projects he deemed worthy of consideration. We are glad to note that among them are included the completion of the alteration of the Bigelow school into a fully equipped junior high school, the erection of a new grade school on the north side of Newtonville on land which was purchased by the city some years ago, and the addition of further classrooms to the F. A. Day junior high school. These projects must be faced shortly and it would be of great benefit to the community with the least burden upon the taxpayer if they could be done under the terms of the national recovery public works program.

housekeeper must be put into the home.

A mother of nine children becomes blind and some plan must be made for the care of the family.

The father of eight children works four days a week but the income is not enough to buy an adequate diet for the eight children so that rickets develop in several of them and in one very seriously so that it is essential that the right diet be put into the family immediately.

A father dies when a daughter is a senior in the Newton High School and an honor pupil and although the remaining income is enough to live on but not enough to allow the girl to finish the course.

A child develops infantile paralysis and needs frequent, regular muscle training in a Boston hospital or must remain handicapped for life, but due to a serious illness of the mother she cannot take the child to the clinic and therefore the child has not had the treatment for several months until the Newton Welfare Bureau arranges to have her taken.

The Bureau has made moderate loans to the aged which have, temporarily at least, helped them to save the homes which represent all that is left of their life savings. This could not be done through the city Welfare Department, because the beneficiaries are considered to still have an equity in these homes. It is hoped that many of these families can now be assisted by the Federal Home Loan Board and that the families may be saved from the city poor farm.

The city of Newton has reason to take pride in the fact that its private as well as public, relief work is being conducted in a merciful manner, and also in the fact that its white collar class and its unemployed are more generously cared for than is the case in many less fortunate communities.

W. Newton Family Deprived of Water

Because the landlord of the house where they live had not paid the water bill due on the place, the Newton Water Department last week shut off the water at 17 Milton avenue, West Newton, and during the terrific hot spell the family of Thomas Clark, including three small children, were deprived of water in their home. They were compelled to carry water from a neighboring house for cooking and drinking purposes and there was no water to flush the toilet at the house. The water was shut off on Wednesday of last week. Water Commissioner Ellis stated that the owner of the house, Henry Le Blanc of Alder terrace, Waltham, had been given an extension of time to pay the $14 due, and then had been given a 30 days warning. Ellis explained that as the matter is not a charity case, the action had to be taken. According to information given out at the owner's home an attachment placed on the premises prevented him from collecting rent there and he had no money with which to pay the water bill.

Agent Perline of the Newton Board of Health ordered LeBlanc to pay the bill and provide his tenant with water, or court action would be resorted to.

Hold Conference About Dye House

A conference was held on Wednesday between Leon Rubenstein, president of the Security Mills Co., Newtonville, Mayor Weeks, Dr. Curtis of the Board of Health and Building Commissioner Hageman. The mill property is located on Monroe st., near the Cabot Park playground and not far from the Cabot School. For some time residents in the district have been complaining of strong, disagreeable odors from the dye house at the mill. The owners of the mill recently applied for a permit to build an additional wing at the plant and then the objections against the alleged nuisance at the place became more pronounced.

Mr. Rubenstein agreed to attempt to end the odors alleged to waft from the dye house. He also agreed to limit trucking from the mill to hours between 7 a. m. and 7 p. m. and to make the height of a tank which will be erected at the mill 25 feet lower than originally planned.

CHARGED WITH TIPSYPY DRIVING

George H. Crocker, Jr., of 55 Lee rd., Chestnut Hill, was arrested early Saturday morning by Patrolmen Branton and Foley after a chase along Commonwealth ave. and charged with driving while under the influence of liquor. He was arraigned in the Newton court on Saturday and his case was continued until August 7.

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

It is a sorry commentary on the times and on the intelligence of people when newspapers give much more space in exploiting a female on trial for the alleged murder of her husband than they give to such an epochal movement as the national recovery program.

As evidence of the jouncing about which passengers on Boston Elevated cars experience as they ride on the Newton-Brighton-Boston line, Joseph Pink, the genial Centre ave. upholsterer, told us an incident he witnessed. In the car which carried him from Boston to Newton the other day was a stout woman. The excessive vibrating of the car caused the woman with the surplus flesh to slide off the seat several times during the trip. Either the Elevated must improve riding conditions, or the seats will have to be equipped with safety-belts for the protection of stout passengers.

The beautiful and friendly tiger cat which is the pet of the Hudson Drug Store was sorely vexed several nights the past week by the impudence of a mouse which disported itself in the window of a nearby cigar store. Some folks contend that animals cannot reason, but this mouse certainly could. It knew that being inside the glass at the window it was safe from the cat on the sidewalk outside the window. And it tormented the cat by insolently walking along the inside of the window until it was separated from the wattering lips of the feline by only the thickness of the pane of glass. On several nights a gallery of amused spectators watched the comedy.

Postmaster General Farley says, according to press reports, that the Postoffice Department budget has been balanced without the service having been impaired. Why doesn't Mr. Farley tell us that ice is hot, flames are cold and water dry? How credulous is the dear American public.

The unemployed in Massachusetts who have been endeavoring for the past several years to obtain the bare necessities of life will, undoubtedly, be pleased over the junket of the fishing schooner "Gertrude Theband" to the fair at Chicago at an expense of a mere $15,000 to the taxpayers of this State.

Arthur C. Watkins of Los Angeles, California, was in Newton this week renewing old acquaintances. He was born at Newton Centre, 73 years ago, and later resided in Newtonville. He moved to California 27 years ago. In recent years he has travelled extensively and motored across the continent on his present visit. Mr. Watkins commented that most of the former residents of Newton he knew have passed on.

There has been some real hot weather this summer, particularly during the past week. We expect temperatures around 80 in the summer months; we think it hot when it reaches 90, and when it gets toward the 100 mark we swelter and suffer. Scientists have estimated that the heat of the sun is about 10,000 degrees. When you are enduring such a hot spell as we had this week, does the cheerful thought ever occur how few extra degrees of heat from the sun would have to reach the earth before we humans would shrivel up?

Early American Horses

Came Here From Europe
It is generally known that the forebears of all modern horses were brought to America from Europe, the first by the Spanish conquistadors following the discoveries of Columbus; but an investigator who recently returned from a scientific expedition in South America, brought back complete specimens of fossilized horses which show that they were found in the Western Hemisphere thousands of years before the coming of the white man.

The skeletons differ slightly from the modern dobbie, forming a connecting link between the "true horse," and the prehistoric three-toed animal, specimens of which are seen in museums. The bones of giant sloths and mastodons were also uncovered.

Cause of Grant's Death
Seven years after Grant had left the Presidency, he began to have severe pains in his throat. A prominent physician examined the former President at his summer home and advised that he consult a specialist at once. This Grant did not do. This was in September. By January, a pathologist pronounced the condition cancer. The condition grew steadily worse; Grant was on the defensive. The malignant condition had progressed too far to permit a cure, although skillful medical and surgical attention was given by a number of eminent specialists. The battle was a losing one, and on July 23, 1885, the eighteenth President of the United States died.—Hygeia Health Magazine.

Size of Cables
The outside diameter of the ordinary deep-sea type of cables is about one inch, and the weight in air is about two tons per nautical mile. The shore-end types are as large as three and one-half inches in diameter and weigh around thirty tons per nautical mile.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Spirit" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, August 6.

The Golden Text is: "Teach me to do thy will; for thou art my God; thy spirit is good" (Psalms 143:10). Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "But as it is written, Eye hath not seen, nor ear heard, neither have entered into the heart of man, the things which God hath prepared for them that love him. But God hath revealed them unto us by his Spirit; for the Spirit searcheth all things, yea, the deep things of God. . . . Now we have received not the spirit of the world, but the spirit which is of God; that we might know the things that are freely given to us of God" (I Corinthians 2:9, 10, 12).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Man is tributary to God, Spirit, and to nothing else. God's being is infinity, freedom, harmony, and boundless bliss. 'Where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is liberty.' Like the archpriests of yore, man is free to enter into the holiest,—the realm of God" (p. 481).

PARAMOUNT THEATRE

Theodore Dreiser's celebrated novel "Jennie Gerhardt" will be shown on the screen at the Paramount Theatre, Newton, starting Sunday and continuing for four days. The film follows the plot of the Dreiser novel faithfully. Jennie Gerhardt is a woman who realizes the power of her beauty over men. She yields to a senator in love with her, because of the help he has given her poverty stricken family. He is killed before they can be married and their child is born. Starting life anew, she is swept off her feet by the brother of her employer and they enjoy many years of happiness before he learns of her child. The program for the rest of the week is an outstanding one. Laurel and Hardy will be seen in "The Devil's Brother" and on the same program Lee Tracy will be seen in "Nuisance."

Laws Are Not at Fault;

Some Officials Inefficient

To assert that the evils and failures of enforcement cannot be remedied by remaking the law is one thing. To say how they can be corrected is quite another. There is no simple cure, writes John Barker in the Atlantic Monthly.

Suffice it to suggest here that the end will eventually be attained only through developing, sometimes by indirect, the character of the law's agents. The efficiency of the police will be improved by better pay and longer tenure of office. Prosecuting attorneys may be taken out of politics. More important than all else, the judiciary will have to be developed in strength and independence.

But, whatever the means evolved, one thing can be dogmatically asserted now. Able men can make deficient law effective; but the best law cannot make incompetent men efficient. And the enforcement of law will never be greatly improved until the public comes to think of enforcement as a matter of men, rather than as a matter of rules.

More Young Persons Wed, According to Committee

The proportion of married people in the United States has constantly increased in the last 40 years. The proportion of bachelors chiefly affects those under thirty-five, and is "especially marked at the ages most important from the standpoint of fertility—from twenty to twenty-nine years of age."

The sexes have followed the same trend up to thirty-five years, but among men the proportion married between thirty-five and forty-four has remained practically stationary since 1890. Above forty-five there has been a net decline in the proportion of men married at each age, although the decline has not been steady in all cases.

Among women, on the other hand, the proportion married has continued to rise at all ages up to sixty-five. From there on there has been a slight falling off.

These are outstanding discoveries of a subcommittee of a national research committee on social trends.

NEWCOMB—ALLEN

Miss Priscilla Louise Allen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Allen of Patten, Maine, and Mr. Frederick Arthur Newcomb, oldest son of Mrs. Susie Newcomb of 1 Colburn st., Needham, Mass., were united in marriage at seven p. m., on Saturday, July 29, at the Stetson Memorial Methodist Episcopal Church of Patten, Me.

Rev. L. L. Boobar, pastor of the church, officiated at the double ring ceremony in the presence of 300 guests. The bride who was given in marriage by her father, Mr. Frank W. Allen, wore a gown of white mouseline de soie with silk tulle veil and carried a shower bouquet of white sweet peas.

The maid of honor was Miss Frances Keyes of West Pembroke, Me., who wore a dress of white mouseline de soie with green slippers and carried a mixed bouquet tied with green ribbon with long streamers.

The four bridesmaids were gowned in white mouseline de soie. Miss Marcia Myers of Newton Upper Falls wore orchid slippers and carried a bouquet of orchid sweet peas tied with long orchid ribbon streamers.

Mrs. Florence Roman of Wellesley, Mass., wore pink slippers and carried a bouquet of pink sweet peas tied with long pink ribbon streamers. Miss Esther Newell of Newton Centre, Mass., wore blue slippers and carried a bouquet of blue-shaded sweet peas tied with long blue ribbon streamers. Miss Elizabeth Scribner of Patten, Me., wore coral pink slippers and carried coral pink sweet peas tied with long coral pink ribbon streamers.

Mr. Newcomb was attended by his brother, Mr. Kenneth Newcomb of Needham, Mass.

Mr. Albert Newcomb, brother of the groom, served as head usher with Mr. Leroy Mills of Patten, Me., cousin of the bride; Mr. Willard Hanson and Mr. James Crocker of Patten, Me., served as ushers. The church was prettily decorated with ferns and garden flowers. Miss Beryl Palmer of Patten, Me., officiated at the organ.

A reception at the home of the bride's parents followed the ceremony, at which 100 relatives and personal friends extended their congratulations.

The bride is the private secretary of her aunt, Miss Bertha Allen, superintendent of nurses at the Newton Hospital, Mass. The groom is employed at the Metropolitan Casualty Ins. Co. of Boston, Mass. Following a wedding tour by auto through Maine, Mr. and Mrs. Newcomb will reside on Maple st., Needham, Mass.

KELLEY—HANLY

On Saturday evening, July 29, at eight o'clock, in the Newtonville Methodist Episcopal Church, Miss Hope Elizabeth Hanly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William D. Hanly of 230 Walnut st., Newtonville became the wife of Dr. Sylvester Baker Kelley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac S. Kelley of Reading. The officiating clergyman was the Rev. Dr. Laurence W. C. Emig, pastor of the church, who used the double ring ceremony and the bride was given in marriage by her father.

Miss Thelma F. Coombs of 15 Elmwood park, Newtonville, who was the bride's only attendant, wore a ruffled gown of pink mouseline de soie and carried an old fashioned bouquet of sweetheart roses, baby's breath and delphinium. The bride wore a dress of white satin with a high cowl neck and flowing train and a veil of silk tulle which fell from a self-formed cap held in place with orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of lilacs-of-the-valley and bouvardia.

The bridegroom was attended by Augustus F. Jones of Jamaica Plain, a classmate at Harvard. The ushers were Dr. John D. Stewart of Monroe, N. C., Dr. Harrison E. Kennard of Newton, Wilbur J. Oldfield of Brookline, and James Gordon Carr of Batavia, N. Y. The organist, a childhood friend of the bride, was Mrs. Alden Bobbage of Batavia, N. Y.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the Church Parlors. Dr. and Mrs. Kelley are now on a two weeks' motor trip in Maine. Miss Hanly was a member of the class of 1925 at the Newton High School and of the class of 1929 at Radcliffe College. Dr. Kelley was graduated from Exeter in 1921, Harvard College in 1925, and from the Harvard Medical School. He will complete a residency on the urological staff of the Massachusetts General Hospital in December.

Diagnosed His Own Case and Died as Predicted

Very few of us would go to any particular trouble to hear a sentence of death pronounced upon us, but that is exactly what a medical professor at Budapest did, says a writer in Pathfinder Magazine. Confronted with disquieting symptoms, including a pain in the chest, he had his suspicions, but his colleagues would tell him nothing except that he was "all right."
Finally he wrote to a Vienna consultant, with whom he had corresponded but had never seen, telling him that he had a patient in whom he suspected cancer of the chest, and requested a verification of diagnosis. Then getting on the train, he presented himself as that patient. The Vienna doctor looked him over, told him he was getting along nicely, and sent him home. Then he wrote a letter to the Budapest professor, confirming his own diagnosis and saying the "patient" had but two weeks to live. The professor, who had lived a very scheduled life, withdrew his savings and made whomever the rest of his life, which lasted only a few days over the allotted two weeks.

10,000 Copies the First Week

When "Uncle Tom's Cabin" was first printed in book form it sold 10,000 copies the first week and 300,000 in the first year. Half a million copies had been distributed in the United States alone in its first five years and it has been translated into more than a score of foreign languages and dialects. It is estimated that the entire sale of the book in the years since it was written have exceeded 12,000,000, about 7,000,000 of which never paid any royalties to the author, being sold in foreign countries before the establishment of international copyright law. The copyright, under the then existing statute, expired a few years previous to the author's death in the late eighties.

Earthquake Frequency

Seismographs throughout the world record an average of twenty-five earthquakes every twenty-four hours, fourteen of which are strong enough to be felt by a person standing over them. Those that occur on land and damage buildings take place on an average of one every eighty-two hours.—Collier's Weekly.

Eyes Reveal Most About Disposition of People

The eye is the most difficult feature to read, but if properly studied tells the most, asserts a writer in the St. Louis Globe Democrat. Three important things must be noted: Is the eye naturally deep-set or prominent? How much has the eye been changed in its position by the process of development of the individual and what is the degree of alertness and sensitiveness of the structure of the eye itself?

The deep-set eye, almond in shape, denotes intensity, mental breadth, observation, analysis, penetration and grasp of the conclusion; optimism tempered with reason; enthusiasm and force controlled by exercise of mental effort. The prominent eye—usually blue or brown but never gray—denotes keen sense perception, a person who lives more in feeling than in action. The subject will be sympathetic and emotional, with feelings easily aroused. This is the eye that is indicative of the mind that gathers information from books and from being told rather than from personal analysis; the mind that learns by rote and does not gather substance. The eye that is devoid of emotional expression indicates the functionally deficient type.

The sensual eye is dull and watery, prominent in setting, with no brow compression. An eye without color usually predicts a narrow mind, and small, oblique eyes that are narrow and sharply pointed at the ends indicate an envious and vindictive nature, deceitful, morose and irritable. In women, short, narrow eyes with fullness of the face formation at the corner of the eyes, combined with prominent cheekbones, indicate love of children and strong maternal instincts.

Always Falls on Her Feet

If a cat has to learn to climb down a tree, she can fall instinctively on her feet. Science now affirms the instinctive capacity which tradition has always assigned to the cat to land on her feet. The falling reflex of cats has been measured and reported in the American Journal of Physiology. The fact is verified by one who experimented by dropping cats held in a horizontal position from varying distances to a soft bed of straw. All the cats were able to turn perfectly even when the distance of the fall was less than one foot. Motion pictures show that the cat first contracts her forelegs and then turns her fore part around. Then she contracts her hind legs, extends the forelegs and gives the hind part a turn. The cat can turn herself through any angle by continuing contractions of this kind. Even when unable to see, the cat's reactions were about as perfect and as quick.

The Santa Fe Trail

Don Pedro Vial, a Spaniard, explored the route of the Santa Fe trail. On horseback he piced out the trail in 1798 and several other horsemen passed the dim markings before 1821, which was the year William Becknell made the first trip with a pack train. It was Becknell's report to congress that led to the commission of 1825 when three federal commissioners met with the Osage Indians and made the treaty which gave the United States a right-of-way through the Indian lands forever, the Santa Fe trail.

Indiana's Third Governor

A pioneer editor, William Hendricks became the third governor of Indiana. Not only did he serve his state in the governor's office and in the United States senate, but he was an uncle of Thomas A. Hendricks who later became governor and Vice President of the United States.

MORTGAGEE'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE

By virtue and in execution of the Power of Sale contained in a certain Mortgage given by Charles A. Rounds and Elsie Rounds, of Newton, in the County of Middlesex, to The First National Bank of Boston, a Corporation duly existing according to law, and having a usual place of business in Boston, Suffolk County, dated April 1, 1932, and recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds, Book 3583, Page 387, of which mortgage the undersigned is the Assignee and present holder, for breach of the conditions of said Mortgage and for non-payment of the same, the premises described in said Mortgage, to-wit: A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon situated in that part of said Newton called Newton Centre, being shown as Lot A on a Plan of Land in Newton Centre belonging to Robert G. Jones, made by E. S. Smille, Surveyor, dated February 2, 1932, recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds, Plan Book 303, Plan 46, bounded as follows: EASTERLY By Grant Avenue, sixty-five (65) feet; NORTHERLY By Lots B and D on said plan, one hundred forty-five and 5/10 (145.5) feet; WESTERLY By land now or formerly of Emma L. James, seventy-five (75) feet; SOUTHERLY By land now or formerly of the heirs of Francis Pettie, one hundred twenty-three and 6/10 (123.6) feet; Containing 9236 square feet of land, according to said plan. For title see deed from John R. Elander to the grantor dated March 14, 1934, recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds at Book 4709, page 367. Said premises are subject to the restrictions contained or referred to in said deed so far as the same are now in force and applicable. This conveyance is also made subject to a mortgage to the Bridgewater Savings Bank on which $8500, remaining unpaid, said mortgage being duly recorded, with Middlesex South District Deeds. Said premises will be conveyed subject to all unpaid taxes, tax titles and municipal liens, if any there be, and also subject to a first mortgage held by the Bridgewater Savings Bank, as aforesaid. $500.00 deposit will be required to be paid by the purchaser at the time and place of sale, the balance to be paid in cash at the time of the delivery of the deed; the title to pass within ten days after the sale; the terms and conditions will be announced at the sale. RALPH F. MARTINO, ASSIGNEE AND PRESENT HOLDER OF SAID MORTGAGE. Address all Communications to: SAMUEL LAWRENCE BAILEN, ESQ., 75 Tremont Street, Boston, Massachusetts. July 21-28-Aug. 4.

STUDEBAKER SALES INDICATE BUSINESS IS IMPROVING

"Another indication that general business conditions are improving all along the line is the report of renewed buying of automotive equipment by state and city governments," Newton Motors, Inc., local Studebaker dealer, said this week.

Word received this week from the Studebaker factory at South Bend said that branches of state and city governments in various parts of the country have placed orders for Studebaker and Rockne equipment, in the last few weeks. Probably the most notable of these is the Kentucky state highway department which has purchased, altogether over a period of the last few months, something over 150 Studebaker trucks for highway building and maintenance purposes.

"The New York state department of conservation recently bought 17 Studebaker Presidents and 5 Rockne Sixes, while the city of Tulsa, Oklahoma, is taking delivery of a fleet of 17 Rockne for police patrol work," Mr. Donahue of the Newton Motors said.

In addition, California has also bought a number of Studebaker passenger cars and trucks that will soon be put into state service.

City's Well-Being First in Hearts of Athenians

It was because Fifth century Athens was a city-state in whose beautification all her citizens shared, that she was greater in her creative achievements than the Italy that fell direct heir to her cultural treasures. In that first democracy men of ability vied in serving a civic ideal not for their own enrichment, but for the city's greater glory. So the rich Athenian esteemed it an honor to finance the production of plays and public festivals shared in by all; so the theaters were made free to all citizens; so civic tasks were shared around among the whole electorate. For the pattern which Athens set for the world in democracy was of a society founded upon the well-being of the citizens as a whole, not of a society conducted in theory for the public and in reality for the hoary confederation of special interests. That is why an ideal of beauty in life permeated Hellas from architecture to sports, from public festivals to philosophy.—"Uncle Dudley," in the Boston Globe.

Original American Foods

There has been much controversy concerning the foods originally found in the Americas. It is generally agreed that in North America were tobacco, maize, a certain type of pear and a small variety of tomato. In Central America and the Islands the early explorers also found tobacco and tomatoes. In South America, particularly Brazil, wild potatoes were found in abundance, so much so that in about 1540 it was necessary to import thousands of these native plants to develop in order to save the potato crop of the world. It was originally thought that bananas were first found in Central and South America and the islands, but later this theory was the subject of much debate, and it is generally believed today that while bananas were originally in that section of the world, they were also found in tropical sections of the eastern hemisphere at the same time.

Music Revives Memories of Places or Incidents

A very great part of the pleasure people take in music comes from the associations it revives, says a writer in Harper's Magazine. These may follow one another as continuously as the flow of music itself, never, perhaps, taking full possession of our consciousness, but stirring within us. What awakens them? Where do they come from? A few notes that recall an old song, not all the melody, but its spirit and the feel of the place and the years where it was sung. Or it may be a certain beat in the music that you would swear now fills your ears, and yet at the same time rouses within you a movement from elsewhere, a swing of the arm you have known, a remembered tread, the grace of the dance, or the march of soldiers.

The reverie may be vague to the point of unconsciousness, yet it goes on. Glance at the faces about you while listening to music. On most of them, even on those whose attention looks most pointed, you will see the haze of a dream.

Independent, Personally Conducted Trips Abroad

There is a difference between the independent and the personally conducted trip abroad. A conducted tour is one arranged in advance by a tour company, with a set itinerary and the traveler is under the guidance of a tour manager who attends to all details, such as transfer of baggage, hotel reservations, sightseeing, etc., thus saving the traveler every possible inconvenience. For a person who has previously been to Europe, the independent arrangements are usually more satisfactory and arrangements are made by a tour company for steamship reservations and all hotel and sightseeing arrangements on the other side. The traveler is usually met at all stations and transferred to the hotel and coupons are issued for each excursion, hotel reservations, and he pays for all arrangements before he leaves the United States. The itinerary is elastic and can be changed en route, by dealing with the tourist company through whom arrangements were completed.

Goethe's Joy in Life

Goethe lived joyously for those things which gave him delight; fresh air, country exercises, the best in literature and art, the theater, and the performance of his manifold duties. He lived for the moment and thought for eternity. Art and literature, for him, had to be positive; the product either of joy or of a need to purge sorrow. Negativeness, the besetting sin of our age, he condemned. "Negativeness is nothing," was one of his sayings, which have come down to us, but it is an axiom we seem to have forgotten, particularly in literature.—London Saturday Review.

Balsa Wood

Most balsa wood, now used extensively in model airplane making, comes from the forests of Ecuador, points out "Popular Aviation." Balsa is a Spanish word meaning raft, and in some parts of South America the balsa raft is the only means for transporting freight. Ten foot balsa poles are fastened together with long pegs made of palm-wood, which give the raft flexibility. Besides being used in model airplanes, balsa is used for insulating refrigerators and for packing pianos and fine furniture.

Lightning Hits Newton Houses

The lightning storm on Tuesday night hit three houses in Newton. One bolt hit the home of F. M. Ferrin, 35 Hunnewell ave., Newton, and damaged the roof to the extent of about $500. The home of Morgan Stafford at 343 Cabot st., Newtonville, was hit and slight damage resulted. This bolt entered by way of a wire. The third house struck was that of Allan Kavel at 50 Stearns st., Newton Centre where the roof was damaged.

Bone-Setters Honored by Surgeons of Note

The practice of manipulative surgery, as bone-setting is now called, was known to the ancients. An interesting treatise on dislocation was written by no less a doctor than Hippocrates. There are said to have been successful bone-setters under the Roman Republic. Conservative surgery owes bone-setters a debt. When it was beginning to establish itself they were the only orthopedic surgeons. Apparently they were recognized as legitimate exponents of their branch of therapeutics. William Cheselden, a noted surgeon of the middle of the eighteenth century, sent fractures to the bone-setters, admitting that they were more competent than he to treat them.

A century later Sir James Paget urged his professional brethren, through the British Medical Journal, to "learn what was good in the methods of the bone-setter and eschew what was harmful." Still later, Wharton Hood, another English doctor, who greatly admired Robert Hutton, a bone-setter, studied the latter's methods and after Hutton's death described them in the Lancet. The present should not forget what it owes to the past. The foundation of the modern science of surgery contains many crude stones.—Detroit Free Press.

Who the Jayhawkers Were
The name "Jayhawker" originated in Kansas during the contest over slavery just before the Civil war. Bands of slavery men and free soil men ravaged farms, drove away horses and carried on a guerrilla war. The free-soil men called the slavery men border ruffians, while the slavery men in turn called the free-soil men Jayhawkers. The most probable derivation of the latter word is from Jayhawk, a fierce bird of prey, which it is said kills other creatures for the mere love of killing. The people of Kansas have been humorously nicknamed Jayhawkers and Kansas is sometimes called the Jayhawk state.

SOMEWHAT INVOLVED

"Now, these two boys are sister's," said the housewife to the census taker.

"You mean brothers, don't you?" the census man asked.

"No, the girls out in the yard are brother's, but the boys are sister's."

"Boys sisters and girls bro—"

"Now I mean just what I say. These two boys belong to my sister, who lives down the street, and the girls are my brother's daughters who are visiting me."—Exchange.

Graduation, as It Were

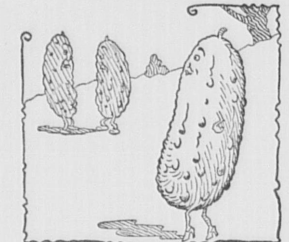

Willie—Pa, what is a politician?

Father—Son, a politician is a human machine with a wagging tongue.

Willie—Then, what is a statesman?

Father—It is an ex-politician who has mastered the art of holding his tongue.

ACCOUNTED FOR

Second Sour Pickle—Well, you know, she's a sweet pickle.

Retail Business

Bobby, the guest in a northern Indiana country home, was much distressed because the fox terrier had no tail. The lad after listening to a business talk between his host and a tourist, said:

"Uncle Dan, why don't you retail 'Trixy'?—Indianaopolis News.

One Ball Enough

"Did you ever go to a military ball?" asked a lisping maid of an old soldier.

"No, my dear," growled the veteran.

"I once had a military ball come to me, and what do you think?—it took my leg off!"

But Give Her Time!

"I passed Mrs. Snob in the street today, but she didn't see me; I wonder if the slight was intentional?"

"Oh, I don't think so; she hasn't been rich long enough to know how to be rude."

Quite a Difference

"It must have been Reggie felt happy when Joan told him he was one in a million."

"Quite the reverse. What she really said was that he was only one in a million."

Two Weak Spots

Teacher—Your history was bad, and you had to write it out twenty times, but you have only done it seventeen times.

Boy—Yes, sir; my arithmetic is bad also.

MATCH THAT!

"Pooh, that's nothing; we live in a real house on the installment plan."

Too Much for Him

Nowthen—So that famous circus juggler and tight-rope walker has gone crazy?

Afterall—Yes, he tried to balance the family budget.

One, at Any Rate

Blonde—Has any girl ever been able to make you stop petting and trying to kiss her?

Schley—Yes, one of them married me.

Getting Back at Pa

Father—How do I know you are not marrying my daughter for my money?

Suitor—Well, we're both taking a risk. How do I know you won't fall in a year or so?

Proved at Once

Bertie—It is midnight, the moment when miracles happen.
Gertie—I think—
Bertie—There, didn't I tell you!

Many and Curious Are Oddities Found in Cuba

In Cuba there is a species of the honey bee that has no sting and, on account of the mild climate, works the entire year. But there is a flying ant there that more than makes up for it. "This insect," reports one who knows, "has a habit of getting down your back or front and will puncture your hide at the rate of ten times a second before you can crush it. The sting is very painful and the places will fester if not treated with a demulcent. The application of garlic will counteract the effect." Another queer thing, according to this same authority, is a firefly which carries headlights instead of a tail light. In other words, it has a light on each side of the head instead of at the tail. Native women attending an evening function often put them in their hair for adornment. Then there is a land crab, called the congoria, that is plentiful along the highways. It is a sociable creature and will enter a house, which is not pleasant if they happen to pinch your foot. But they are good food. The plain, a species of the bananas, is not good raw but, fried or baked, makes a tempting meal. It is "hog and hominy" to the natives, so no one need starve in Cuba.—Pathfinder Magazine.

Ambitious Projects for Harnessing Sun's Rays

Inventions for obtaining power to operate machinery from the heat of the sun's rays have often been patented, but most of them have contained two fatal defects. First of all, the appliances had to be so large that they were utterly unworkable; also they cost so much that power obtained in this way did not pay; it was cheaper to use electricity or steam.

Important experimental work is being carried out in Canada, Holland, and Germany to see whether it is possible to use the sun's heat economically for supplying power. The first experiments are to see whether sunshine can be "bottled." That is, can enough power be collected from the sun during the day to provide light during the night?

Heat rays can be concentrated by means of mirrors and lenses; the present scheme is to collect them by means of large white surfaces and to direct them upon boilers, in which they will generate steam. The steam will be used to operate dynamos, and the electricity made will be stored in batteries.

Famous "Sowbelly" Dinners

It has been the custom for a great many years for the Colorado Mining association and the Colorado Chapter of the American Mining Congress to hold a joint convention in January. The final function of the convention is usually the sowbelly dinner. It usually furnishes the fun of the convention. Every year there is a new committee of arrangements, which tries to outdo its predecessor in planning out unusual stunts. The menu of the sowbelly dinner consists primarily of sowbelly and beans, old Cornish pastry and those things usually prepared by the early prospectors as their regular menu. Sometimes tin plates and cups are used instead of dishes. The main dining room is decorated and lighted in primitive manner. These sowbelly dinners are always well attended.

Early Englanders

Blackened bones of a woman and her child have been found in a prehistoric crematorium on the Surrey Downs. Excavations at Burrows Cross, near Pensance, have revealed two trenches 20 feet long, 4 feet wide, and 4 feet deep, walled with big stones. Bodies were cremated in the trenches, and sealed down by another layer of stones, on which other cremations took place. At one end of the trench half-cremated bones were found; all the others must have been completely destroyed, for the heat was so terrific that masses of charcoal and big sand stones, burnt right through, can still be seen. Experts who have examined the trenches suggest that they may have been used by Neolithic people who roamed the Downs about 7000 B. C.

Prayer for Light

Moxley was traveling along an unfamiliar dirt road through some woods, on a dark night, when a sudden storm arose. At each flash of lightning he would take a few steps forward and then wait. The rain continued to pour and the thunder roared. Finally, as the lightning grew less frequent, the thunder louder and the road more difficult to travel, his misery expressed itself in this prayer: "Oh, Lord, if it's just the same to you, please give me a little more light and a little less noise."—Pathfinder Magazine.

business gone West, the wool business gone South and the new industries located elsewhere. The great boom that came with the Gold Rush of '49 carried people westward. The motion picture industry settled in California with New York as a distributing point. The electric inventions since the time of the electric light bulb have all come through the research laboratories of the great monopolies and public service companies. One of these are found in this section of the country; unless a new business is found the trend will be outwards from Boston and vicinity, and the only business which will survive will be service companies which cater to the fundamental needs of man. The traditional New England center along the Atlantic seaboard is the valley which leads into New York City unless transportation of freight

"Boston cannot increase in size as a manufacturing center. Its distribution must of necessity go West because our exports have fallen off so much since the War and it is faced with a barrier of hills and mountains at the outskirts of the State. Mindful of these things it is extremely necessary for the man of business and public life to carry on his affairs with the traditional New England conservatism. I venture to say that there is no large business in New England which does not have a headquarters in New York City, and the significance of that fact illustrates that I am trying to point out here. We cannot afford to be extravagant in government locally, nor can we afford to be wasteful in our business functions if we are to maintain our present place of importance in the affairs of the country.

"President Roosevelt's Brain Trust is a living tribute to education and to schools. The college professors summoned into national affairs point out that there is need for fundamental training in economics for the administration of public affairs. This fact strengthens my argument that we need a school for those who are going to take their place in public life.

"Now, what about the cultural things? We have always been proud of the fact that in letters and in art this section of the country was a pioneer, yet the last fifty years has produced no successor to Hawthorne, Emerson, Longfellow or Lowell. The greatest museums of the country will be found elsewhere, although our own Boston Art Museum and Boston Public Library still have some standing in certain fields so we cannot look there for any compensation to soothe our knowledge that this section must fight to retain business here. They tell us that this section of the country fared best of all during the depression and you and I know the suffering which has been experienced hereabouts, so it is natural to assume that we do not want a duplication of such things in the near future.

"The other sections of the country were victims of overgrowth and have now learned their lesson and will not make the same mistakes in the future. The conservatism which comes with age will be found in all parts of this country during the coming generation. I point out these things merely to indicate in this part of my speech exactly how deep rooted and far reaching are the elements underlying our present position in business and in government."

Proper Display of Flag

The flag code as adopted by the national flag conference, Washington, provides as follows: When the flag is displayed in a manner other than by being flown from a staff, it should be displayed flat, whether indoors or out. When displayed either horizontally or vertically against a wall the Union should be uppermost and to the flag's own right, i. e., to the observer's left. When displayed in a window it should be displayed the same way—that is, with the Union, or blue field, to the left of the observer in the street. When festoons, rosettes, or drapings are desired, bunting of blue, white and red should be used, but never the flag.

New By-Pass Through Newton Contemplated

Would Relieve Congestion on Route 20, Waltham and Watertown

Pursuant to a resolution passed by the last General Court, the engineering division of the State Department of Public Works is making a study of the feasibility of a by-pass through Newton for the purpose of relieving the congestion on Route 20, the main thoroughfare through Waltham and Watertown. Mr. Pillsbury, chief of the engineering force which has the work in hand, wishes it understood that the plans have not as yet reached even the tentative stage.

The legislative resolution calls for the opinion of the State Department of Public Works regarding the desirability of such a by-pass. It would continue Nonantum st. from Maple in Newton over Water st., across Galen to Watertown and over California st. to Bridge st. At this point the route would leave old construction and follow the south bank of the Charles River to Newton st., where it would cross the river and pass through the yards of the Waltham Bleachery and Dye Works, along the north bank between the Boston Manufacturing Company's plant and the river, then across Moody st. and on to the western limits of Waltham where it would drain Boston bound traffic from the main highways.

Mr. Pillsbury explained to the GRAPHIC reporter some of the difficulties which must be solved if the project is to be carried out. The first of these concerns taking the route across Galen st. In order to provide a straight crossing, either a section of the present Boston Elevated yards on Galen st. must be acquired or the valuable property on the north side of Galen st. where the Watertown Theatre now stands. The property on the south side of Water st. is not so valuable as to present a serious problem, but the rest of the land would run into money.

The crossing of Galen st. is not merely a question of a straight course, but it is also a matter of an overpass with the necessary side approaches. If left hand turns are to be avoided, such a solution would thus mean the cost of quite a bit of valuable land for these side approaches as well as for the overpass.

Another serious problem is the crossing of Moody st. in Waltham. The road could not be taken under Moody st. at its present level because the track would be below water level. Another factor which must be considered is what the Boston and Maine railroad intends to do about the present grade crossing at Moody st.

Takings have already been made, or easements secured, for a large part of the area affected in Watertown, but the acquisition by the State in Waltham of most of the property affected is still to be accomplished.

The plan is based in large part on a survey made some time ago by the Metropolitan Planning Division. The study will be completed and recommendations submitted to the next legislature in January, 1934.

The project does not seriously concern the city of Newton, at least as yet. The land to be taken in Newton is sparsely developed and the plans do not take into consideration the relief of the bottle neck at Newton Corner by providing a direct and adequate connection between the Corner and Nonantum st.

Norumbega Scouts Run Camp Douglas For One Day

Always Something Doing To Make Life Interesting

For one day the Scouts of Norumbega Council, Boy Scouts of America, actually ran Camp Barker located in Douglas. It was no figurehead job either, for the members of the staff became campers and did the work of campers. Here and there a judicious word was needed, but on the whole the Scouts did a really excellent piece of work, conducting the "stunt" with dignity and ability, so that instead of a farce, like most "Scouts-run-the-city" days, it was an excellent training and gave the boys an appreciation of what the staff at summer camp is carrying on its shoulders.

The Camp Director was Scout Mitchell, or, as he is called at Camp Barker, "Spoke" of Troop 4B, Highlands. Even names were swapped, for he became "Mr. Bruce" and L. A. Bruce, Jr., Camp Director, became "Spoke" Mitchell. Mr. Bruce was Assistant Patrol Leader of the Whip-Poor-Will Patrol during that period. John Rourke, of Troop 5, Center, became "Skipper" Speirs, the water front officer and Assistant Camp Director. Mr. Speirs became Patrol Leader of the Whip-Poor-Will and that group won the inspection under his leadership.

Scout James Bierer, of Troop 10, Waban, and Scoutmaster Brad Gove, exchanged places; Senior Patrol Leader Philip Trowbridge and Scout Richard Hurd of Troop 4B, changed about; Scout Charles Dolan of Troop 22, Newton, and Scout Charles Thompson of Troop 4B, the Commissary Officer of Camp, swapped names and jobs; Scout Harold Jenkins, of Troop 1, Newton, became Leslie St. Lawrence, the Camp Quartermaster and craftsman and Scouter "Les," as he is called, became Jenkins. Scout Edward Goodall of Troop 5, Center, and Mr. John Dodge (Scouter Jack) changed places for the day.

Just to make things a little more interesting and instructive for the "staff" the regular staff which had gone right into Patrols as Scouts, asked all sorts of questions, typical of new and inexperienced campers. The whole group played the game all the way through and the best of spirit was shown. There was a tremendous "kick" to the day, too, as all testified. At the end of the day of changed personalities and names the boy-staff agreed that they had a new idea of what a camp staff was all about and that one day was fine for them.

The feature this week was "Topsy-Turvy" day, when the Camp rose to Taps, blew out the lanterns and started with the evening Camp-fire. The first meal was supper with dessert eaten first and then the rest of the meal. So it went through the day, with everything reversed, the day ending with "morning" dip and reveille! Again a novel thing which made a great appeal. Speaking of Revels and Taps, there is no bugle in Camp Barker and whistles are not used. Instead the Scoutmaster, W. Bradford Gove, II, uses the famous koo-doo horn, an instrument used by the natives of South Africa. It has a most unusual, weird note and can be heard for a long distance and there is no mistaking its sound.

The menu continues interesting, with such dishes as crumb pudding, brown sugar pudding, Totem Pole Salad, Spare Ribs a la Muskataquid, and all the rest of the usual dishes with the unusual names—yes and some unusual dishes too. Cooking is now an art and Patrols vie with one another in turning out tasty dishes. Scout James Bierer as Patrol Leader, is now making out its own menus, at its own choice. As an expert, the entire camp to return as soon as the plan is being tried out this week. One Patrol, the Blazing Arrows, with all food in the camp commissary is priced and the Patrol Leader has issued a camp check-book with a certain amount to the credit of the Patrol. This provides a lot of fun and excellent training in planning and buying, also.

Newton Business Men Discuss NRA Codes At Meeting

Over 200 Gather At Elks Hall Last Night

At Elks' Hall, Newton last night over 200 Newton business men gathered to listen to explanations on N. R. A. codes and discuss the same. The meeting was under the auspices of the Newton Business Associates and Wilfred Chagnon, president of the organization presided. The speakers were Frank Foy of Quincy, an official of the Retail Grocers Association, and A. E. Casgrain of the Watertown Chamber of Commerce, who told of action taken by the businessmen of that town. Mr. Foy and Mr. Casgrain explained many phases of the codes and the former exhorted those present to co-operate in their various lines of business. One result of the meeting was a preliminary organizing of the owners of grocery stores and markets in Newton and the determining of a date of another meeting by this group.

Says Cut Prices At Root Of Our Depression

Mr. Martin Adamo, Leading Boston Druggist, Addresses Kiwanis Club

Mr. Martin Adamo, President of the Massachusetts Pharmaceutical Association, was the speaker at the noonday luncheon of the Newton Kiwanis Club at Charles River Country Club. He said in part:

"A drug store is many things—which I propose to show you. But first of all it is a quick and efficient answer to any emergency. There has without doubt been a time in all your lives when an accident or mishap has occurred. However slight or however serious, hours of pain and anguish can be saved by resorting to the drug store. Your child, your wife, or some other member of your family suffer a burn, a bruise or a severe cut. We have all learned that it's better to be prepared for such disagreeable misfortunes—and the place to prepare is the drug store. Each and every such emergency can be remedied there—usually within a few moments of the scene of the disaster."

"It's to the drug store you turn for smoking appliances, cigarettes, cosmetics, fountain drinks, first aid kits, information regarding hospitals and doctors. In fact we've developed in our business as fine a group of philosophers and advisers as you'll find anywhere. It sometimes seems to me the one business field where we keep our fingers on the pulse of family life—and I can assure you that whatever the task, and whatever the problem—the druggist in your neighborhood or in your office building has met it before and in his humble capacity helped to solve it."

"There is no other type of retail store which offers the sales outlet for such a diversity of manufactured articles. There are over 60,000 drug stores throughout the United States, employing over 250,000 people. That means a tremendous volume of business—and it means thousands of jobs in every trade, as a result of the many demands made for a vast variety of products."

"There's an ethical side to the drug store, too—and right there is where we have to get into polysyllables and call it a pharmacy. We feel that pharmacy is more than a trade, more than an art, more than a profession. It's a combination of all three—and it involves the almost daily application of physics, chemistry, botany, biology and psychology."

"These are crucial days for the druggists of the country. They have been and perhaps still are for all of us. But in addition to the slackening of business which has resulted from the world wide depression, many of them have been forced to the heartbreaking conclusion that old loyalties have been forgotten—and that many of their customers have been lured away to deal with cut-throat artists, cut price and sweat shops where shoddy merchandise and cheap substitutes supplant honest and honorable business methods. I can speak very bluntly about that, gentlemen, but it is close to the heart. I feel that the independent drug store proprietor is probably one of the hardest working and most conscientious of all our retail merchants, and I certainly rebel at the underhanded, unfair, inhuman competition which in a great many cases has robbed him of his livelihood."

"A healthy competition is the life of the drug trade, but unhappily, our competition in recent years has taken on a sinister cast. Unscrupulous merchants are trying to draw away the druggists' customers by carrying their lines at cheap cut prices. It is these cut prices, from these shoddy substitutes, where a living wage has never been thought of, where products from dubious sources are bootlegged and sold under the fair market, you can't get the sympathetic and friendly service, the thoughtful consideration, the fair and square deal you get from your independent druggist."

"The cut price epidemic is the cancer at the root of our troubles. It has impaired our sense of quality, while we concentrate on price. It has threatened the very existence of the merchant of high ideals, the man who has a sense of loyalty to customers whose continued patronage he wishes to deserve. President Roosevelt, in a recent national discourse, ably and forcibly emphasized these important words, 'Cut throat competition must stop, and I shall see to it that it will stop.' Legislation has been introduced to help curb the evil but no legislation can bring back the anxiety and worry that has come to those unwise, unhappy bargain hunters who have fallen for the appeal of a cheap price alone."

"I feel that organization among merchants and other business men will help pave the way for corrective legislation. We have overcome many grave difficulties, and we'll jump the hurdles on this one, too."

"The President has asked the various industries to submit their codes of fair and honorable competition. Drug interests must combine—retail druggists, manufacturers, wholesalers and national associations must represent the whole field. For that purpose the Drug Institute of America has been incorporated. This institute is not the outgrowth of the (Continued on Page 8)

District Attorney Bishop Combats Slot Machines

Orders Police Chiefs In County To Take Action

From the office of District Attorney Warren L. Bishop of Middlesex County the following letter has been received by the GRAPHIC with the information that copies of the letter have been sent to the Chief of Police of every city and town in Middlesex County:

"Dear Chief:

"The 'SLOT MACHINE' racket has become an ugly sore in Massachusetts, and while perhaps not so prevalent here in Middlesex County as in some other places, it nevertheless prevails, and from the numerous complaints I am daily receiving I am convinced it is a growing menace. It must be stamped out and kept out. I am determined upon drastic action and now, not only as against those immediately in charge but those higher up who sponsor the racket by placing the machines."

I have complained wherein it is alleged that little children go into stores and play these machines, not only wasting their parents' hard earned money but acquiring a gambling instinct which may blight their whole lives. I received one letter from a mother who tells me she has been giving nickels to her children to buy ice cream cones only to learn later that no cones were bought, but that the money went to the racketeers through the medium of these machines."

This racket is as bad as a fictitious lottery because for the most part these machines are so fixed that those playing have scarcely a fighting chance to win. The public are the victims and the racketeers are growing rich in the game."

I want every money machine ordered out of every store and if not immediately removed, seized, proceedings instituted and convictions obtained. If you need assistance, let me know and I will see that you have it. I know I can rely upon your hearty co-operation in this matter. I would appreciate it very much if you would submit to me a report of action taken, giving names and places involved."

With kind personal regards, I am Sincerely yours, WARREN L. BISHOP,
District Attorney.

During the past several years the slot machine racket has grown to large proportions and so profitable has it become to the racketeers who own them that numerous gang killings have resulted because of rivalry in this gambling racket. Speak-easies have been making more money on these machines than they have been making on the sale of booze. Places to which the devices are rented get a generous rake-off as their cut of the profits made by the machines. The speak-easies, when they get figured up, would help the community in having more and more difficulty in financing itself by the old methods of voluntary donations of money to the community. It would help the doctors somewhat, because with the hospital bill out of the way his bill would be an earlier charge upon the patients' savings; it would help the patient somewhat because when the financial strain comes the hospital bill is cured for and he has an unusual bill that of the physician—even so this bill may take all his savings and throw him into debt."

"A plan whereby these groups of people of small means by periodic payments of small sums may meet the expense of hospitalized sickness by paying both hospital and physician's bill would be most helpful to the patient and would bring payment to the physician from many patients whom he now must treat free. It would put an end to free treatment of patients who ought to pay and who can pay by this method."

"The plan would in no way change the existing relations between doctors and patients. Hospitals with closed staffs would not change their policy in this particular. There are, however, reputable hospitals which are open to the practice of physicians and surgeons not upon the staffs of closed hospitals. There are hospitals, more especially in the suburbs, which have large courtesy staffs. It (Continued on Page 2)

Eastman Says Revolution In Full Force

"All we knew of the America of 1932 is almost as archaic as Noah's Ark," declared Mr. Joel W. Eastman, Boston lawyer, in addressing the Newton Rotary Club on Monday of this week on the National Industrial Recovery Act. "The Revolution is in full force and we are now under a dictator. In this country we have reached the point where we could expand and where the individual was no longer of great importance. We have now all embarked on a ship, and if we want to be saved we must obey orders or perish. If you haven't the decency to conduct your business as a social agency, the dictator will make you do so."

The speaker drew a graphic picture of the machine age in which it is impossible to give men work for ten hours a day as formerly. It is therefore the duty of society to make the necessary adjustments so that a man can be assured a decent living for a few hours' work a day. "Nira" simply means "enough for everyone to pay rent." Management must share the individual's wealth, and capital and dividends—in short, wealth, as such—are things of the past. Under the new code, business means service to the community. If America takes advantage of this new opportunity, she may be saved; if not she will go the way of Rome."

Frank L. Richardson, in introducing Mr. Eastman, said that when great emergencies arise, patriotic citizens come forth as volunteers to arouse public opinion. Among these Mr. Eastman was a leader. The club members and their guests were greatly moved by the stirring address, full of crisp, trenchant statements, and many were eager to ask questions at the close.

Hospital Staff Decides Against Pre-Payment Plan

Proposal Would Provide Hospitalization For Regular Monthly Fee

The New England Journal of Medicine contains the following statement of the Newton Hospital Staff disapproving the plans advanced by the "Greater Boston Hospitalization Association, Inc.," making hospital treatment always available without charity by the regular payment of a small sum each month.

"At a meeting of the Staff of the Newton Hospital held on June 26, 1933, it was unanimously voted to disapprove of both the A and B Plans of prepaid hospitalization set forth by the 'Greater Boston Hospitalization Association, Inc.'"

This vote was made after an extended explanation of the plan and after full discussion by the members of the Staff. The principal reasons for disapproval are the following:

1. That the plan, in the opinion of the Staff, is definitely a long step toward the socialization of medicine.
2. That it might be a difficult matter to withdraw from the plan if it were so desired.
3. That the public, if once educated to expect hospitalization at such reduced rates, will be unable to understand the necessity for resetting the rates when times are better.
4. That the tendency would be for those so insured to seek hospital care for minor ailments and to remain for the whole period whether or not it was necessary.
5. If and when prosperity returns, there would be no necessity for such a plan and that, with the worst of the depression now over, the time is most inopportune to launch such a radical project.

Signed:
HENRY F. KEEVER,
Secy. Exec. Com. of Staff."

According to a report in the New England Journal of Medicine of July 13, a meeting was held on June 6, in Boston under the auspices of the Boston Health League for discussion of the plan. The League, according to its own statement does not wish to be understood as sponsoring the plan, but simply aiding in making a discussion of the plan possible among representatives of the hospitals of Greater Boston.

Plans "A" and "B," as reported in the Journal of Medicine follow, preceded by an explanation of their purpose:

"Illness which needs hospitalization is the most expensive illness, therefore a plan to cover this expense is the most urgent. A plan to meet the hospital bill alone would help the hospital which although an institution of fundamental importance to the community is having more and more difficulty in financing itself by the old methods of voluntary donations of money to the community. It would help the doctors somewhat, because with the hospital bill out of the way his bill would be an earlier charge upon the patients' savings; it would help the patient somewhat because when the financial strain comes the hospital bill is cured for and he has an unusual bill that of the physician—even so this bill may take all his savings and throw him into debt."

"A plan whereby these groups of people of small means by periodic payments of small sums may meet the expense of hospitalized sickness by paying both hospital and physician's bill would be most helpful to the patient and would bring payment to the physician from many patients whom he now must treat free. It would put an end to free treatment of patients who ought to pay and who can pay by this method."

"The plan would in no way change the existing relations between doctors and patients. Hospitals with closed staffs would not change their policy in this particular. There are, however, reputable hospitals which are open to the practice of physicians and surgeons not upon the staffs of closed hospitals. There are hospitals, more especially in the suburbs, which have large courtesy staffs. It (Continued on Page 2)

Several Injured In Auto Crashes

Cars driven by Patrolman George Kilmain of the Newton police and Daniel Luciano of Everett collided Sunday night on Commonwealth ave. and that and three other members of his family, who were riding with him, had received slight injuries.

Thomas King, 7, of Auburn st., Auburndale, was hit by a rear fender of an automobile driven by Harry Sanford of 199 Melrose st., Auburndale about 5:15 Sunday evening. Mr. Sanford reported that he did not see the boy, but heard a bump and stopped the car. When he alighted, he found the boy had run into a rear fender. The child received a knee injury and cuts about the body. He was taken to the Newton Hospital.

Betty Armstrong, 12, of 18 Riverside st., Auburndale received slight injuries about 9:45 Monday morning when the bicycle she was riding collided with a car driven by Ruth Bahlman of 371 Central st., Auburndale. The Bahlman woman reported that she was about to park her car when the girl's bicycle hit the right rear fender of the automobile. The Armstrong girl was taken to her home and treated by a physician.

Needy In Newton To Get No Cash Relief From City

Will Get Food Orders and Aid For Rent, Gas, Light

Recipients of relief from the Public Welfare and Soldiers' Relief Departments of the City of Newton will not receive allotments of money each week, as they have been receiving. Instead, the relief will be provided according to a plan, the details of which are described in the following article received from the Mayor's office.

Greater aid for dependent citizens at less cost to the taxpayers is planned by Mayor Sinclair Weeks and the heads of the Public Welfare and Soldiers' Relief Departments of Newton, by the introduction of a new system of dispensing relief which was announced today. The new method, which is called a modified commissary plan, will provide for the payment of rent, gas and electric light allowances, bread and milk deliveries direct to the homes, and will furnish every week a balanced food diet for each family. Local merchants were asked today to submit bids for supplying all of the families which are now being aided by these two departments.

Study of the various commissary systems and relief agencies of Massachusetts and New England has been under way by representatives of the Mayor's office and the Welfare and Soldiers' Relief Directors of Newton for nearly a year. The Fall River plan of commissary stores, considered to be the best of its kind, was discarded as unsatisfactory for a residential type of city. The modified plan adopted is modeled more on the so-called Pittsfield Plan and the Syracuse system. It is so arranged that the recipient of aid does not go to the store for his provisions, but rather they are delivered to his home, relieving him of unnecessary embarrassment.

The former method of administering assistance was an all-over allowance covering the estimated expenses of families of different sizes, based on a scale in use throughout the State, and revised to meet local conditions. These allowances were disbursed in the form of cash or in some instances, where it was found that cash was not wisely expended, grocery orders were issued to be filled by the grocery chosen by the recipient, with little or no restriction as to the different kinds of foods to be purchased.

The defects of the old system made a change necessary. The cash provided was not always wisely spent, and often resulted in placing the unfortunate citizens further in debt, notwithstanding the various safeguards of the department. Good judgment was not always used in purchasing food either with cash or by means of grocery orders, with the consequent result that while some families were well fed, others were not. The amounts allowed on grocery orders for each size of family could not be set on a scientific basis. Notwithstanding deductions in the scale of cash allowances in 1932, the cost under the old system continued to mount at a rapid rate, and a greater burden on the departments than they could readily handle.

It therefore became necessary for the departments to seek other means of providing assistance for two principal reasons. First: to reduce the cost, and secondly: to provide a more reasonable and better balanced food diet for each family.

The final plan adopted after much research and consultation with many authorities, and having due regard to local conditions, is based on quantity buying and regulated allowances of food and other necessities and is prescribed as follows:

a. General provision merchants, milk dealers, and bakers of the city are requested monthly, to submit quotations to the department for the furnishing of general groceries and food, bread and milk for the period specified. Standard specifications are submitted to these dealers which they are required to follow in filling orders. Each family is given three choices for groceries, giving a variation in diet weekly. The award for the period is given to the lowest bidder, who can meet the requirements as to quality, service and general reliability.

b. It is so arranged that the recipient will not go to the store to have his order filled. The orders are issued automatically by the department direct, deliveries being made by the store within 24 hours time. The one exception to this rule is for orders for meat and fish, which the recipient may buy on requisition from whatever store he chooses, being limited only by the amount of money allowed each week for that purpose.

Charity Work Of Newton Hospital Shows Increase

Noticeable in Out-Patient Department—Fewer Accident Cases

The charitable work of the Newton Hospital for the first six months of the year shows an increase over that of the same period for 1932. This year there were 7,311 visits at the Out Patient Department as against 6,213 last year for the same period. The Department serves those unable to pay for a physician.

The Out Patient Department is always run at a loss. For the first half of the current year the income from the patients of this department was $1,150, or less than 16 cents per visit. The support of these clinics falls entirely upon the hospital and its staff. To be accepted, every applicant must have the endorsement of a social worker as to worthiness. In many instances the service is given without charge.

In all departments of the hospital free treatments were given to the amount of $19,933, as against $14,815 for the corresponding period last year. This help is being given patients in addition to the free beds supported by the city, amounting to approximately $15,000 a year. It is also in addition to the work of the Out Patient Department.

For the first six months of this year the number of automobile accident cases shows a significant decrease. For the period mentioned, the hospital had 66 automobile accident cases against 96 for the same period last year. For the year 1932 there were 264 automobile accident patients. Total accident cases were 523 for the half year against 1,225 for the full year of 1932 and 1,196 in 1931.

In the tonsil department, 14 patients were recently cared for in one day. The number of private patients admitted to all departments, other than the Out Patient, in the first six months was 27 less than for the same period last year, while the number of ward patients exceeded those of last year by 148; 836 more free bed days in 1933 than in 1932.

The four new internes are graduates of the following medical schools: Dr. Easton and Dr. Adams of Tufts, Dr. Adams of Boston University and Dr. Benjamin of Harvard.

Subscribes To Recovery Code

The Gamewell Company announces that they have subscribed to the terms and conditions incorporated in the National Industrial Recovery Code for the Electrical Manufacturing Industry that was approved by President Roosevelt and is putting into effect immediately the operative provisions of the Code instead of waiting until August 15th when it becomes effective.

This will apply not only to the municipal fire and police telegraph business of The Gamewell Company, but to its subsidiaries The Holtzer-Cabot Electric Company, suppliers of motor and industrial signaling devices, and also the traffic signaling business of the Eagle Signal Corporation of Moline, Illinois. The Code covering the operations of the Sprinkler Industry through its subsidiary The Rockwood Sprinkler Company of Worcester, Mass., is pending in Washington.

Under the provisions of the Public Works program many of the municipalities are contemplating extensions and improvements to their present fire alarm and signaling systems and it is anticipated that just as soon as the Government can take action on these applications that it will materially increase local employment in these plants.

It is felt that the hospital needs of the family physician are adequately met in Greater Boston. The proposed plan would make no change in such relations. Hospitals may well do more in the way of helping physicians not on their staff to keep in touch with the advances in medicine. This can and should be done by the establishment of clinics open to the practitioners of medicine. Perhaps certain hospitals may also establish clinical laboratories for the examination of specimens and performance of diagnostic procedures possible only in laboratories connected with our large hospitals. This would operate to facilitate and improve the work of the general practitioner. More diagnostic clinics may well be established.

Plan A:

"If the physicians on the staffs of the hospitals will agree to a scheme whereby their bills for these groups of hospital patients may be met as well as the hospital bills, that would be by far the best for all these patients, hospitals and physicians. To do this a fee table must be agreed upon. In this community such a system is now in operation at the Baker Memorial of the Massachusetts General Hospital. This is conducted with the approval of the professional staff and was indeed first suggested by them."

Plan B:

"If the staffs of the hospitals forming this Association are not yet prepared to agree to a scheme whereby payment of their bills to hospital patients may be included, then the hospitals will proceed with a more limited plan for the payment of hospital bills only."

Beneficiaries of the Plan

"Individuals of employed groups, such as school teachers, employees of banks, utilities, department stores, commercial and industrial organizations."

"It is recognized that it is very desirable to include the families of these individuals upon some additional payment. It is left for the Trustees to determine whether this shall be done at first and what the amount of this payment shall be."

"The employee pays each month Plan A—$2.00 Plan B—.90 which he authorizes his employer to deduct from his wages and remit to the Greater Boston Hospitalization Association."

"A certificate of membership is issued by the Greater Boston Hospitalization Association to the employee in which a stipulated hospital service is to be rendered, in case of need, by any hospital that is a member of the Association."

"The Greater Boston Hospitalization Association will pay to any hospital member $6.00 for each day's service rendered to subscribing members to a maximum of 21 days to each patient in any one year."

"Members are secured only from selected employed groups considered good or fair risks, in order to preserve actuarial soundness."

"The approach to the employee is through the employer. The co-operation of the employer is essential in approaching his employees and in operating the wage-deduction plan."

Similar plans are now in operation in Houston and Dallas. So far as Greater Boston is concerned, the idea is still in the stage of preliminary discussion.

NEWTON TWILIGHT LEAGUE

Standing Up To August 10

	W.	L.	P.C.
Y. M. C. A.	17	1	.942
Newton Cubs	13	5	.715
Highlands	11	6	.659
Auburndale	11	7	.605
Newton A. C.	8	10	.440
Silver Lake	7	10	.413
West Newton	7	10	.413
Upper Falls	6	10	.372
Nonantum B. C.	6	11	.354
Newton Centre	1	17	.058

There is little change in the standing of the contending clubs for the Newton Twilight League Championship since last week.

The Cubs have won three games and Auburndale has won two during the past week. Highlands was held to a 3 to 3 tie by Upper Falls in one of the best games of the year.

Y. M. C. A. finally met defeat at the hands of Auburndale behind the superb pitching of James "Porky" Murphy.

Cubs play Nonantum Friday at Cabot, and Auburndale plays West Newton at Auburndale Thursday and Upper Falls at Upper Falls on Friday.

Highlands plays Newton Centre at Highlands on Friday. If Cubs, Auburndale and Highlands succeed in winning these games it will be necessary to play off the following tie games scheduled for next week.

Monday

Highland vs Upper Falls at Highlands.

Wednesday

Nonantum vs Highlands at Victory.

Cubs vs Y. M. C. A. at Cabot.

A benefit game will be played Sunday at Cabot Park between the Newton Twilight All League Team and the strong Security Mills Team.

Such stars as Huston, Fletcher, Appleyard and Mullin, Crowley and Korriwan will be in the All Stars lineup. Security will be represented by the famous Timmins brothers "Nails" Lane, Jim Ryan, Choquette and Bennett.

The second game of this series will be played Friday August 18th at Cabot Park.

TIDE WATER SIGNS NRA CODE

On Monday E. L. Shea, president of the Tide Water Oil Sales Corporation announced at New York the signing of a blanket code under the NRA on behalf of the Tide Water Oil Company and its subsidiaries.

Y. M. C. A.

Boys' Department

The boys members of the "Y" are still enjoying the daily programs and are appearing in large number in spite of the fact that over one hundred members are at Camp Frank A. Day.

On Monday morning there was a period of games followed by a swim. Tuesday and Thursday the Midget Baseball Team played the Boyd Park Juniors. They won the Tuesday game 7 to 3. This team has played seven games this season and has won five of them. The players are Daniel Kiley, Roger Beers, George Hoben, William Kearns, Clarence D'Angelo, George Fearnley, John Martin, William Wiles, Howard Taylor, John Pescosolido, Francis Olivignini, Donald Carmichael, Jerry Lombardi, Romeo Farise, Albert Lochiatto, and Leonard Sjostedt.

Wednesday morning found the group on its way to visit the McAdoo Milk Company plant in Cambridge. On Friday a group left the "Y" for a hike to Prospect Hill in Waltham. They returned in time for a swim in the pool before leaving for home.

Plans are underway for a trip to Nantasket Beach on Tuesday, August 22nd and tentative plans are being made for a trip to Benson's Wild Animal Farm in Hudson, New Hampshire, on Friday, August 25th.

In addition to the above, large groups of members are taking advantage of the daily swims which are held every afternoon at 2:30 for the younger boys and 3:30 for the high school boys.

Detention Station Entertainment

The Myrtle Baptist Church Male Quartette, under the auspices of the Newton Y. M. C. A., went over to the Immigration Detention Station at East Boston last Sunday and gave a fine concert of Negro Spirituals.

The Quartette is made up of Alfred Hayward and Alfred Lomax, 1st and 2nd Tenors; and Walter Cooper and George Jones, 1st and 2nd Bass. Mr. Harold Evans was the accompanist.

Annual Entertainment of Boys From Boston

For the past five weeks the Newton Y. M. C. A. has been entertaining each week about forty boys sent out by the City Mission Society of Boston. These outings were made possible by gifts from the Ladies' Organizations of the different Churches in Newton and other interested people. The Committee of Ladies who have provided the luncheons and otherwise assisted in this undertaking were Mrs. D. A. White, chairman, Mrs. Herbert C. Fraser, Mrs. H. W. Bascom, Mrs. A. T. Sundborg, Mrs. Florence G. Morse, Mrs. Willard L. Sampson, Mrs. Weatherbee, Mrs. M. W. Luce, and Mrs. William L. Ratcliffe.

These boys are very fond of singing and Mrs. Howard Moore played the accompaniment. The games and swimming were in charge of Mr. John Andrew Jr., Mr. V. A. Anderson, and Mr. Richard B. Simmons, Secretaries at the Newton Y. M. C. A.

Two-State Tennis Championships

The semi-final matches of the Y. M. C. A. Two State Tennis Championship will be played off on the Newton Y. M. C. A. Court Saturday afternoon with the matches starting at two o'clock. Because of its win over the Lynn "Y" team last Saturday afternoon in the preliminary matches Newton "Y" will be one of the four teams playing in the semi-finals, as will Salem "Y" also, which defeated Boston "Y."

The drawings for the semi-finals show Newton meeting Newport, and Salem meeting West Springfield. Newton's team which came through in the preliminaries and which will probably play again in the semi-finals are L. Chase Kepner and Al Rogan in the doubles and Gordon Kitchin and Kenneth Gerritsen in the singles.

Track

These members of the Newton "Y" Track Team competed in the Boston Caledonian Club games held last Saturday afternoon at Caledonian Grove, West Roxbury. 100 yard Dash—John Morris, Stanley Cullen, John Quigley, and Jim Cahill. 880-yard Run—Bob Gutzler, Art Linthwaite, and Andy Hanson. 220-yard Dash—John Morris. 2 Mile Run—John Quirk. 16 lb. Shot Put—Paul Carroll. Running Broad Jump—Stanley Cullen. Running High Jump—John Frazier.

LEADS IN NATIONAL ARCHERY TOURNAMENT

Miss Madeline Taylor of Newton led the women contestants on Wednesday in the National Archery Contest now in progress in St. Louis. She piled up a score of 833 points for the day.

Check Forger Gets Long Jail Term

Frank Ross, a crook with many aliases was sentenced to serve from 2 1/2 to 5 years by Judge Burns in the Middlesex Superior Court last Friday. Ross, a member of the nationally known "Mars" gang, of check workers, forged a check on the Newton Trust Company for $1200 in 1930, using it on the account of a former Newton Centre resident. He was grabbed by the Newton police recently when he finished a term at the New Jersey State prison. He is wanted in other places.

Woman Breaks Nose In Fall Off Stairs

Mrs. Stephen McDonald of 15 Cheney court, Newton Upper Falls, broke her nose and received possible internal injuries when she fell last Friday night at the home of Mr. Albert Curtis, 8 Mechanic st., Upper Falls. Mrs. McDonald had been visiting Mrs. Curtis and was leaving the latter's residence by a stairs at the rear of the house. In the darkness she missed her footing and fell off the stairway to the yard below; a distance of about 10 feet. She was given first aid by Dr. Gillespie who ordered her taken to the Newton Hospital.

cy of the food provided, its nourishing qualities, etc. The result is expected to be better quality of food, greater quantity than bought independently, more and better milk for the children.

d. The government flour furnished the departments by the Red Cross will be used by the baker in baking the bread under this plan. This is much less wasteful than issuing flour directly to the families as heretofore.

e. Moreover, the plan should result in a much more orderly handling of applicants in the offices. They will report on the first four days of the week only, in a certain specified manner, according to alphabetical arrangement. This will result in much less congestion in the offices, and it will be possible to work things more on a routine basis. There is, however, provision for taking care of emergency requirements.

f. It is expected that the result insofar as the detail of office work is concerned, will give more time to perfect the operation of the system and more opportunity to study the policies of the departments, as well as further betterments.

g. The principle of quantity buying, coupled with the simplification made possible to the merchant through a system of well balanced deliveries made only on certain days of the week, elimination of the time of the clerks in the store in waiting on customers, etc., will greatly lessen the cost to the city.

h. Daily inspection of supplies and the general sanitation of stores, will be made by a member of the staff detailed for that purpose, together with frequent inspections by the City Health Department, as safeguard to the families aided.

The maximum allowance for rent will be $20 a month, and this will be paid directly to the landlords, many of whom in the past have been obliged to pay taxes on property from which they could not obtain sufficient revenue because charity families occupying premises would not, or could not, pay rents. There will also be allowances monthly of two dollars for electric light and two dollars for gas. These will be given the second month only upon presentation of paid receipts for gas, and electricity of the previous month. The modified commissary plan, worked in conjunction with the clothing chest of the Mayor's Relief Committee and the Piper plan of providing shoes through the various schools for children, is expected to adequately care for the complete needs of the city's unfortunate citizens. Tailoring shops for the repair and alteration of old clothing and the city's cobbler shop for mending shoes will be continued as part of the system.

More than 4000 bushels of potatoes are expected to be harvested from the city's farm where the unemployed are now working. The expected yield also includes 40 tons of winter squash, 50 bags of horticultural beans, 500 bushels of beets, 500 bushels of carrots, 300 bushels of turnips and from 30 to 40 tons of cabbage. This farm produce, by arrangement with the merchants, will be distributed with the regular food orders to the recipients of aid. The produce will be sold to the provision dealers at prevailing Boston market prices. To complete the system of aid, further studies are being made relative to medical and dental care, and hospitalization.

White Addresses "Aleppo Temple" At Woodland

Refers To Campaign Of Insidious Propaganda

It is a pleasure as a citizen to have the opportunity to welcome you as a group on your first visit to this community.

Next year, as Mayor of the City of Newton, it will be a great favor if you will allow me to greet you officially.

The two best ways to really know how had a character you are supposed to be is to run for public office or have your wife testify against you in a divorce court. I have lived in Newton in the public eye for half a century. A few gossips of weak mind and no vision are whispering untrue propaganda in regard to me. Let me state that one of the best assets Senator David I. Walsh and the late Senator Henry Cabot Lodge have had in their various campaigns is the gutter type of politics that at times has been used against them. In this period of reconstruction it is as necessary as in time of war to throw our whole resources and support back of any program that will cause an increase in buying power and a rehabilitation of labor and business.

In the large it is well to remember that a government is not a private institution responsible to itself alone or to a few.

It is a public institution under a definite obligation to be administered for the general welfare.

Any governmental power not so used destroys itself. The power to tax is just as potent a factor to use in the destruction of private property as the red flag or the lightning torch. It is fundamental that all taxes are paid in the end from the accumulated wealth of the people.

Therefore, while I do not want to be classed as an expert, for I cannot forget the definition that an expert

Mayor's Office Explains New Welfare Plan

CASH PAYMENTS TO UNEMPLOYED CUT OFF

Starting next week between 400 and 500 families in Newton will have no money, unless they are fortunate enough to have relatives or friends who will provide them with some cash. These families, most of whom have been reduced to want through long unemployment of their wage earners, have been receiving weekly allotments (by checks) which enabled them to have money with which to obtain the necessities of life. For reasons detailed in another column in this week's GRAPHIC, as given by the Mayor's office, this method has been abandoned, and beginning next week the new system will be in effect.

The following notice was sent out this week to hundreds of families obtaining aid from the Welfare Department and Soldier's Relief Department of the City of Newton.

Important Notice

A new system of aid will be started by this department on Monday, August 14th.

Everyone now getting aid must apply in person once a week, between 8:30 a. m. and 12:00 noon, for food orders. No applications will be received on Fridays or Saturdays.

Report ONLY on the day reserved for you. If your name begins with A, you must report on Monday; if F, on Tuesday; if L on Wednesday, etc. Here is the schedule of reporting days:—

MONDAY—A to E.
TUESDAY—F to K.
WEDNESDAY—L to P.
THURSDAY—Q to Z.

Be sure to find out what day you are expected to report, and come as early in the morning as possible.

Attached to this notice is a list of the groceries and provisions you will receive. Take it home and read it carefully. The first week you will be given Choice No. 1. The second week of this month, you can have your choice of No. 2 or No. 3.

Each month thereafter, you will receive No. 1 the first week, and may select No. 2 or No. 3 the other weeks of the month.

A separate allowance for meat, fish and seasonings will be given you each week. This may be spent in any market you choose, but only for meat, fish and seasonings.

Is either a man away from home or else a man who knows a great many things that are not so, I do say that if you have a surplus of energy and money devote it to the good of your fellow man.

Find out, at once what Class you are in:

Man and Wife Class A Man and Wife and 1 Child..... Class B
Man and Wife and 2 Children..... Class C
Man and Wife and 3 to 4 Children..... Class D
Man and Wife and 5 to 6 Children..... Class E
Man and Wife and 7 or more Children..... Class F

On the first Thursday of each month, beginning in September, a check for your rent will be sent to your landlord. Be sure this department knows the full name and address of your landlord. The maximum allowance for rent is $20 per month.

Each month, beginning in September, each family will be allowed $2.00 per month for gas and $2.00 per month for electricity.

The money will be sent to you and you must pay the gas and electric bills.

In order to get the gas and electric light allowances the next month, you must bring in your receipted bills to prove that you did pay. If you don't bring in the receipts you can't get any allowance.

The milk and bread allowances shown on the lists will be delivered by milk dealers and bakers direct to your home. The grocer will deliver your groceries. You will get your own meat and fish.

These food lists have been prepared by the State Department of Health and provide more food than you have been getting, and because they have been scientifically balanced, the foods will be better for your health.

Every person now receiving aid will be required to report each week ANY and ALL income received by himself or family. If you fail to report your earnings you will be dropped from the rolls, and are liable to court action.

Meat allowances will be given as follows:

Class A	$.65
Class B65
Class C80
Class D90
Class E	1.00
Class F	1.00

In connection with the new method of giving relief, some of the markets and grocery stores in Newton were asked to submit bids for providing the lists of food orders specified. Six of the markets asked to submit bids did so. The lowest bidder was Peter Guzzi, who conducts Guzzi's Market at 114 River st., West Newton. His bids for the 18 lists of food orders specified in the Types A to F, inclusive, totalled $87.27. This total is very low, as compared with those bid by the other five markets. In fact, Guzzi is bidding practically at wholesale prices. The bids of the other five markets were—$95.61; $103.69; $106.92; $108.95; $123.80. Guzzi was awarded the contract for the next six weeks, and then new bids will be asked for each succeeding month. Guzzi will provide all the items specified on the food orders except milk, which will be provided by the Noble Milk Company of Somerville, with a branch delivery station at Newtonville; and bread, which will be provided by the Hathaway Bakery of Roxbury.

A specimen food order is herewith given: It is a Type C order and shows the food allotment for a family consisting of a man, wife and two children, and is the food total they will be allowed for a week, with the addition of eighty cents worth of meat—15 lbs. potatoes, 3 bunches carrots, 3 lbs. cabbage, 1 peck spinach, 1 head lettuce, 1 bunch beets, dozen ears of corn, 3 lbs. tomatoes, 2 cans tomatoes, 1 lb. apricots, 1 1/2 dozen eggs, 1 1/2 lbs. butter, 2 packages corn flakes, 2 lbs. sugar, 1 can pink salmon, 1 1/2 lb. coffee, 1 1/2 dozen oranges, 1 1/2 lb. cheese, 2 bars laundry soap, 3 cans evaporated milk, 1 lb. bacon, 1 lb. Graham crackers, 1 lb. jam, 7 loaves of bread and 25 pints milk. A fair price on this list (in view of the quantities to be supplied the city) would be about $4, not including the bread and milk.

Under cash payments in operation heretofore, single men receiving aid from the city received $6 weekly families from $9 to $15, depending on circumstances. Families of men getting soldiers' aid received more in some cases. The new method is expected to effect a saving for the city.

Negroes at West Point

Three negroes have graduated from the United States Military academy at West Point. The first was Henry O. Flipper, in 1877. He served for a time in the regular army, but because of some difficulties was discharged. The second graduate was John H. Alexander, in 1887. Alexander died March 26, 1894, while serving as military instructor at Wilberforce university. Charles Young was the third negro to graduate from West Point. He served 28 years in the army and held the rank of colonel when he retired in 1917. Nine other negroes have attended West Point, but did not graduate.

Miracle and Mystery Plays

Halleck, in his "English Literature," says that "A miracle play is the dramatic representation of the life of a saint and of the miracles connected with him. A mystery play deals with gospel events which are concerned with any phase of the life of Christ, or with any biblical event that remotely foreshadows Christ or indicates the necessity of a Redeemer."

NEWTONVILLE MAN WAKES NEIGHBORS

Shortly after 2 o'clock Thursday morning residents in the vicinity of Walnut ter., Newtonville, were awakened by the explosions of large torpedos. Patrolmen Smith, Maguire and Elliot traced the noise to 1 Walnut ter. and arrested Vernon Stuart, 29 years old. The police charged Stuart with having hurled the torpedos from his window on the third floor of the building where he resides. He was arrested charged with drunkenness and disturbing the peace. In the Newton court yesterday morning he was fined $15.

Indian Shawls

Indian shawls are of two classes—those embroidered and those woven. The needlework in the embroidered ones is of the finest and there are often countless little animals and human figures, each one on a separate piece of material, the pieces joined carefully to lie as flat as possible. So fine is the needlework that it is difficult to distinguish it from weaving.

Medical Greek

Medical Greek, also known as hospital Greek, Marrowsky or the Gower street dialect, got its name from its use by the medical students at London university about the middle of the Nineteenth century. This system of disguising English consists of transposing the initial letters of pairs of words. For example, smoke a pipe would become poke a smipe; pint of stout, stint of pout; coat and hat, hoat and cat, and butterfly, flutterby. Medical Greek has the obvious disadvantage of being too easily understood and of being limited to word pairs in its application.

Detroit's Altitude

Detroit is 575 to 640 feet above sea level. The highest points in the Lower Peninsula are near Gaylord, in Otsego county, and near Cadillac, in Wexford county, 1,500 to 1,700 feet. Mecosta county has an average elevation lower than this, most of it under 1,000 feet.

CENTRAL CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

Rev. Randolph Seaman Merrill, Minister

AUGUST 13
10:30 A. M.

Union Service with the Newtonville Methodist church in Central Church.

Rev. Wynn C. Fairfield of Newtonville will preach.

NEWTONVILLE UNION SERVICE

The subject of the sermon to be delivered at Central Congregational Church next Sunday morning by Dr. Wynn C. Fairfield is "The Challenge of the Cross." This service is the second in the August series of union services being held with the Newtonville Methodist Church, Franklin Field, baritone soloist of Central Church, will sing again this Sunday and Miss Lillian West will preside as organist.

Dr. Fairfield is one of the field secretaries of the American Board of Commissioners of Foreign Missions. He is a very active layman in Central Church and in Newtonville, especially in the programs for young people through religious education. He is a member of the Standing Committee, the official board, of the church. Dr. Fairfield through a long experience in the field of religious enterprises, both here and abroad, brings to his address great conviction and the power of a dominant Christian personality.

The hour of the service is ten-thirty.

Newtonville Man Fights Police

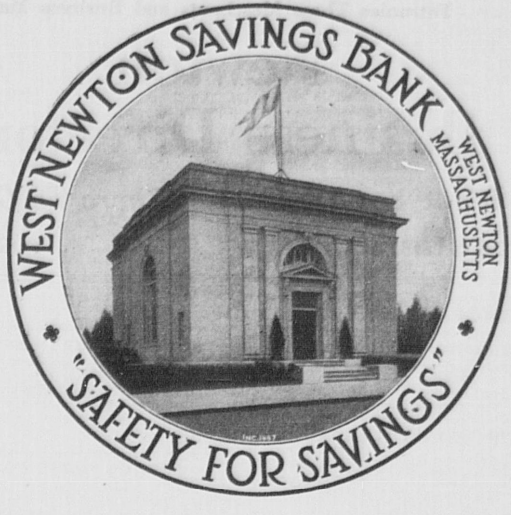

Philip Andres, 22, of 61 Kirkstall rd., Newtonville, engaged three Newton policemen in combat early yesterday morning. About three o'clock Patrolman Smith started to place Andres under arrest for drunkenness at Newtonville square. According to the police, Andres attacked the officer and the latter to protect himself beated the prisoner with his club. Patrolmen Elliott and Maguire came to Smith's assistance and they, too, felt the effects of Andres' physical prowess. Maguire received a severe punch on the jaw as the prisoner was being taken from the patrol wagon at police headquarters. In the struggles at Newtonville and West Newton Andres was severely beaten and required the services of Dr. Lokve. He was arraigned in the Newton court yesterday morning and his case was continued until August 17. Andres gained an enviable reputation as a football player at Newton High and Worcester Academy.

Fierce Fight At Highlands

Two men engaged in building a house on Boylston st., Newton Highlands became involved in a bloody fistful encounter on Monday evening. The pair, Richmond Clark, a builder, of 776 Beacon st., Boston, and William Stein, a plumber, of Hollywood rd., West Roxbury, clouted each other until they were covered with gore. The scrap attracted a crowd of spectators and caused a telephone call to be sent to police headquarters. Serg. Sheridan and a squad of police hastened to the scene and arrested the combatants. In court on Tuesday each was fined $15 for drunkenness and sentenced to serve 90 days in jail for disturbing the peace. Each appealed.

Political Pot Simmers In Newton. Interesting Comments On Candidates

Prominent Newton Citizen Presents His Views Concerning Weeks and White—Also Childs

The following interesting article was written by a prominent Newton citizen who has taken an active part in civic affairs in this city, who possesses intimate knowledge of the political history of the city, and who is in touch with present conditions. (Ed.)

It is a little early to discuss city politics, inasmuch as nomination papers do not have to be filed for many weeks. However, the veteran Tom White threw his hat in the ring a fortnight ago, and immediately the pot began to sizzle. What's it all about, and what will the line-up be in the fall?

To start with, we have an alliance between White and Ned Childs, our perennial Mayor (1914-1930). This by itself is plenty bad news for Mayor Weeks, although the latter has a large, well-oiled and carefully tended machine. Tom White, politically speaking, is probably Newton's leading citizen. His career has been long, colorful and successful. Fighting his way to the Board of Aldermen over former Mayor Hatfield's opposition some twenty-five years ago, he advanced to the State Legislature—became a powerful figure there, and then passed into the administrative field as Chairman of the State Commission on Economy and Efficiency. Other positions came his way until he outgrew the State and was appointed Collector of Internal Revenue. It was from this high vantage-point that he tossed his sombrero into the charmed circle a fortnight ago.

White has an enormously wide acquaintance and is second to none in our city in his grasp of politics and all its ramifications. Only a seasoned campaigner with a wide following could hope to even hold his own with him.

Let us now consider the second angle of the political triangle, former Mayor, Ned Childs. It is almost impossible to evaluate his influence at the moment. When he was in office, he was a delight to his friends and a source of bewilderment to his opponents. What did he have for assets, and what was the secret of his phenomenal hold on the rank and file of the voters? Certainly not mere stature or pulchritude—not influential business contacts, not any of the more widely known political assets. As this writer sees him, Ned Childs has personality plus, absolute honesty (a somewhat rare attribute in politics), tireless energy, a personal simplicity of purpose, and a host of friends and acquaintances. Many of these came to him from his hundreds of speeches on civic, political and domestic subjects before men's clubs, women's clubs, fraternal organizations, etc.

The question now before the house is: "Can Ned Childs deliver any substantial part of his following to any given candidate?" Personally, I doubt it, as do many other people who follow Newton's politics rather closely. Time will tell.

The third angle of the triangle is our genial and businesslike Mayor, Commonwealth of Massachusetts, Middlesex, ss. Probate Court To the heirs-at-law, next of kin, creditors, and all other persons interested in the estate of John F. Cushing, late of Newton in said County, deceased, intestate.

WHEREAS, a petition has been presented to said Court to grant a letter of administration on the estate of said deceased to Alice A. Cushing of Newton in the County of Middlesex, without giving a surety on her bond. You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Cambridge, in said County of Middlesex, on the seventeenth day of August, A.D. 1933, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted. And the petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof, by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Newton Graphic a newspaper published in Newton in the County of Middlesex, with at least before said Court. Witness, John C. Leggat, Esquire, First Judge of said Court, this nineteenth day of July in the year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three. LOUIS P. JORDAN, Registrar. July 28-Aug. 4-11.

Notice is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed executor of the will of Flora H. Huff late of Newton in the County of Middlesex, deceased, testate, and has taken upon himself that trust by giving bond, as the law directs. All persons having claims upon the estate of said deceased are hereby required to exhibit the same; and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to CHARLES LLOYD HUFF, Executor. (Address) 33 Washington Park, Newtonville, Mass. June 21, 1933. AUG. 11-18-25.

Sinclair Weeks. Let no one plan to attend his political funeral prematurely. With the exception of White and possibly Messrs. Garcelon and Hatfield, no one is more thoroughly versed in the art of politics and more adept in navigating its treacherous currents than the Mayor. Furthermore, he has the tremendous advantage of being younger, more progressive, more versatile and more in tune with the times. His ardent support of the wet cause during the past year appears to have strengthened his hold on the voters. Again, his political machine is of recent vintage, and has been successfully operated on numerous occasions. It is true, to be sure, that he has not as yet engaged in any sizable political battle, but he is due for one next December. Either Tom White or Ned Childs alone would test his mettle—the two together should provide a contest that will have repercussions throughout the entire State and that will evoke interest even in Washington, which has been led to expect the arrival of another Congressman Weeks.

As a matter of fact, Congressman Luce appears to have thrown a monkey-wrench into the Weeks machinery, in spite of the fact that both men have a high regard for each other and have always co-operated wholeheartedly for the welfare of the Republican party. Apparently too many politicians attempted to read Luce's mind, and arrange for his withdrawal from Congress at the close of 1934. The Congressman himself, however, kept his own counsel until his recent announcement that he would resign again a year from this fall. Of course, the politicians' mistake is understandable, because Luce's dry stand nearly sank him, and it looked like a good guess that he would be glad to quit if he weathered this last storm.

Now what does all this mean to Mayor Weeks? Luce's stand necessitated a change of plan, and he will now run for a third term as Mayor of Newton. Obviously, he will be in a stronger position to make the run for Congress or for some other office if he is an office-holder at the time. He is doubtless gambling either that Luce will change his mind and quit before 1934, or else that he can stay in office as Mayor until Luce does quit. Of course it is possible, though far from probable, that Weeks might oppose Luce in next year's primaries. My guess is that he would win after a hard fight, but it would leave bad scars, would be bad Republican strategy, and would force the Mayor into a defensive position. Why, after all, should he place his political ambition against Luce's constructive record and thereby neutralize the Congressman's present powerful committee assignments? It would take our Mayor years and years to work up to Luce's position and influence, and how would he feel at that time if some younger party leader tried to unseat him and deprive the State of his vast prestige? Do you get the picture?

From now on, watch closely for candidates for the Board of Aldermen, bearing in mind the position of each man with reference to the Weeks-White contest. Watch also for developments in State politics, especially with reference to our other distinguished statesman, Leverett Saltonstall, Speaker of the House. Finally, isn't it extremely fortunate for all concerned that Weeks and Saltonstall have never yet crossed swords? Wouldn't a scrap like that ruin even the jaded politicians a thrill!

Gasoline From Natural Gas

It has long been the practice to extract gasoline from natural gas. It is a very active and volatile gasoline which owes its properties to its butane and propane. For years this gasoline was mixed with petroleum gasoline to produce an excellent automobile fuel. When the refiners of petroleum developed "cracking" processes to meet the growing demand for motor fuel they found that they were generating much butane and propane on their own account. Natural gasoline being too rich for mixture with the cracked fuel, it became necessary to remove its butane and propane. Since 1927 the two have been shipped in steel bottles, tank cars, tank wagons and even in short pipe lines.

Boston El Adds Nine Cents To Newton's Taxes

$977,786 Deficit Spread Over Thirteen Communities

The increased deficit in the operation of the Boston Elevated Railway during the past fiscal year places a further burden on the thirteen cities and towns in the district where tracks of the transportation company are located. By an act of the Legislature, passed a few years ago, any deficit in the operation of the Elevated must be paid by these cities and towns in proportion to the mileage of tracks in their confines and the estimated service they receive through the company. The Elevated has been losing more and more money in recent years and this deficit the past year was $977,786 over the preceding year. Newton pays the smallest proportion of any of the 13 cities and towns in the Elevated district. Last year the "El" deficit caused Newton's tax rate to be increased 8 cents. This year, it is estimated, that Newton's tax rate will be increased 9 cents because of its share in paying the deficit.

The estimated increases of the other cities and towns, together with their amounts added to their tax rates in 1932 and 1933, because of the "El" deficit, are shown in the following table.

	1932 rate	1933 rate	1933 rate
Boston	$.62	$.32	$.94
Cambridge	.78	.45	1.23
Somerville	.92	.45	1.37
Brookline	.39	.34	.73
Malden	.77	.62	1.39
Medford	.65	.49	1.19
Everett	.49	.34	.83
Watertown	.63	.37	1.00
Arlington	.44	.14	.58
Belmont	.36	.22	.58
Chelsea	.32	.22	.54
Milton	.34	.19	.53

The tremendous falling off in the revenues of the Elevated has been caused by less travel, due to the business depression, competition by taxis operated as jitneys, mostly from Dorchester and Roxbury, and the use of private automobiles. The deficit is further aggravated by the conditions of the Act passed in 1931 which continued the public control of the Elevated for a period of 28 years, and guaranteed dividends to stockholders of the company at a rate of 5%. While stockholders in most companies have been receiving reduced dividends, or no dividends, the stockholders of the Elevated, at the expense of the public, continue to receive their assured 5%.

Grocers and Market Owners Organize

The independent grocery and market owners of Newton organized at a meeting held in Bray Hall, Newton Centre, on Monday night, August 14. They pledged themselves to co-operate in conjunction with the N.R.A. A large number of merchants from all parts of the city were present and much enthusiasm was manifested.

The meeting was called to order by Fred Avantaggio of Newton who explained the purpose of the gathering. The officers elected included: E. L. Buell of Newtonville, president; Fred Avantaggio of Newton, vice president; George Wilson of Newton, secretary; Allan Freeman of Newton Centre, treasurer. It was voted to have the grocery stores and markets of the members open at 8 a. m. and close at 6 p. m.; except on Wednesdays, when the stores will close at 1 p. m.; and Saturdays, when the hours will be from 7 a. m. until 8 p. m.

Veterans Protest New Method of Soldier's Relief

Attend Special Meeting Of Aldermen—Not Allowed to Present Grievances

Between 40 and 50 veterans of the World War came to City Hall on Monday night and attended the special meeting of the Board of Aldermen. After the business scheduled for the meeting had been transacted, Alderman T. Morton Gallagher (who as Vice President of the Board, was presiding in the absence of President Collins, who is officiating as Acting Mayor) inquired if any further business was before the Board. Alderman Dennis Cronin arose and said he had been asked by the veterans to protest against the new method of giving aid to soldiers.

Gallagher told Cronin that he was out of order, as the matter he referred to is an executive function and could not properly come before the Board of Aldermen. Cronin replied that he had a right to present the grievance of the veterans, and he quoted a statute to support his contention. Gallagher persisted in his ruling that the Ward 4 alderman was out of order. The meeting then adjourned. The veterans then buttonholed all the aldermen present and strenuously protested against being deprived of cash relief, and forced instead to accept food allotments, plus the payment of limited amounts for rent, gas and electric light. They asserted that, according to law, the administration of soldiers' relief is partly under the control of the Board of Aldermen, and that this body is duty bound to consider this matter. They stated that the city charter provides for the calling of a special meeting of the board of Aldermen on written demand by 50 citizens, and they asserted such action will be taken.

On Tuesday three veterans informed Edmund Dungan, commissioner of soldiers' relief, that they would not accept the food orders, and that unless the old methods of payment by checks were continued, they would refuse to be listed among the recipients of relief. Accordingly, their names were removed from the list.

Aldermen Speed Plans For New Incinerator

Long Needed Improvement May Be Erected Soon

The Board of Aldermen, meeting as a committee of the whole, held a conference on Monday night with Harrison P. Eddy, Jr. of the firm of Metcalf & Eddy, engineers. The matter discussed was the proposed new incinerator to be erected at an approximate cost of $200,000. The money to finance this improvement is to be loaned to the city by the Federal Government under the NIRA program. Thirty per cent of the costs of the projects to be undertaken under this program are given as grants to cities and towns which receive the approval of the N. I. R. A. The remaining 70 per cent is loaned on bond issues, financed by the Federal Government. These bonds are for terms of from 20 to 30 years. They will be retired in the usual manner, except that nothing must be paid on the principal. The 20 year bonds are issued for the construction of non fire-proof structures; the 30 year bonds for fire-proof structures. It is probable that the structures to be erected at Newton under this program will be fire-proof.

The rate of interest specified on these bonds is 4 per cent; but the interest charge is adjustable, and if the N.I.R.A. believes that a city's financial standing is good enough to warrant it, the interest rate may be 3 1/2 per cent. Newton, with its excellent financial standing, should obtain the lower rate. A law, recently passed by the Massachusetts Legislature, specifies that municipalities in this State must borrow for the long-term possible term. The money will be advanced by the Federal Government in a lump sum. The city (like all cities and towns) must estimate how much will be required each month. The primary object of this financing of public projects is to furnish work for the unemployed of the city or town receiving the grants and loans. For this reason, on the proposed incinerator, schools and reservoir job in Newton, local men will be employed to the greatest possible degree.

Mr. Eddy explained in detail the type of incinerator his firm would design. It would be odorless and practically smokeless. No garbage would be burned in it. It would resemble to a considerable degree the incinerator which has been operated for several years by the Town of Brookline on Hammond st. in that town. The site suggested for the incinerator in this city is at the Street Department yard off Eliot st., between Newton Highlands and Newton Upper Falls. The firm of Metcalf & Eddy supervised the construction of the new high level sewer, now nearing completion at Newton Corner and New-

$250,000 Fund Diverted to Cause Lower Tax Rate

Amount Transferred From The Excess and Deficiency Fund Mon. Night

At a special meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night it was voted to transfer $250,000 from the Excess & Deficiency Fund of the city to the revenues account. By adding this amount to the tax revenues the tax rate for this year will be appreciably lowered. This method was used last year. Alderman Gordon, speaking as chairman of the Finance Committee, explained that the Excess & Deficiency Fund totalled $411,000 and that the $250,000 can safely be taken from it. This amount represents the unexpended balances from last year's appropriations for the conduct of the various city departments.

A permit was granted to Davis & Vaughan to erect a temporary real estate office at 397 Dedham st., Oak Hill. A delegation of Newton Highlands residents was present with misgivings about this matter. They have been indignant about a building on Winchester st., Newton Highlands, which was erected some years ago as a garage, and which was subsequently used as a combined garage and dwelling. It has been surrounded in part by old automobiles. Although Davis & Vaughan's petition had nothing to do with this, the tentative objectors thought the proposed business structure would result in another undesirable intrusion. They were told by Alderman Grebenstein of the Claims & Rules committee that an endeavor will be made to correct the condition on Winchester st.

A permit was given to the Nonantum Used Auto Parts to deal in used automobiles at 73 West st., Nonantum.

Doctor McClure Tells Members How to Be Fair and Fit At Fifty

"Keeping Fair and Fit at Fifty" was the interesting topic of Dr. Charles W. McClure, assistant professor of medicine at Boston University, member of the Boston Rotary Club, resident of Newton, at last Monday's meeting of the Newton Rotary Club. By means of a chart the doctor explained the various vitamins needed by the body, driving his points home with humorous allusions. Referring to our American diet, he said it was apt to be deficient in milk and cheese. The European does much better in this respect. Constipation is at the root of much of our trouble in this country. "The care of the stomach requires great tact," declared the speaker, "and what is good for one person may not be good for another." In hot weather, we should beware of too much cold food. Ice cream should be taken in moderation and slowly. A bill of fare made out for January and February is a good one to use in summer. He ridiculed the old belief that fish was good brain food, declaring that sugar was better. "Fish is brain food only for stock market suckers," he added. With so many faddists in the field ready to give advice, the best thing to do when in trouble is to consult your family physician. He may not be up on all the latest theories of food, but in the great majority of cases he is able to diagnose correctly. Common sense has much to do with the matter. If we are comfortable after a meal our choice of food has probably been good. You cannot dictate very well to any one in normal health just exactly what he is to eat and to avoid. Many questions were asked at the close of the helpful address so humorously presented.

Newton Boys Make Good Impression At C.C.C. Camp

Lieutenant Parker H. Devlin who has charge of Company 127, C. C. C., stationed in the Berkshires, on a recent visit to his parents on Rangeley rd., Newton Centre, reports that the boys from the Newtons, several of whom are in his company, are making a very favorable impression. Mr. Devlin says that he has been complimented by the Pittsfield press along the coast, stopping now. He is assisted by Lieutenants Cronin and Perkins, and the Army provides trucks to give the boys transportation to and from camp.

Speeder's Fine Saved By Wife

Mrs. Thelma Parker of 188 South Main st., Natick made a successful plea in the Newton court on Monday to prevent a $25 fine being paid by her husband, Herbert Parker. Parker was recently convicted in the Newton court of speeding and as it was his second conviction within a year for such an offence, he was fined $25 and given a week to raise the money. The woman told Judge Bacon that both her husband and herself were working; that he could not come to court because of his work; that he had given her the money to pay the fine. She also claimed that unless she were allowed to keep the money to pay taxes due on her home, she might lose the home. And Judge Bacon was swayed by her plea, and suspended the payment of the fine.

Several Injured In Auto Crashes

Automobiles driven by T. M. Davidson of 205 Waban ave., Waban, and Colin Campbell of Boylston st., Brookline collided Saturday at Beacon and Hammond sts., Chestnut Hill. Campbell received cuts on the face and arms and was taken to the Newton Hospital. Davidson received a cut on his head.

Cars driven by Percy Aldred and Guy Fernald, both of Waltham, collided last Friday night on Derby st., near Cherry st., West Newton. Minor injuries were claimed by occupants of the two cars.

Seascouts Have Summer Cruises Off Mass. Shores

Duxbury, Plymouth, Rockport Among Ports Visited

Division of Norumbega Council have been getting some real sea-going experience in their big Navy cutter, which is equipped with two masts and large sails and an outboard motor in case the boat becomes becalmed. The first cruise was taken from the mooring in the harbor in South Boston to Duxbury and Plymouth. Due to head winds and tides on this trip, the motor was used most of the distance. Fog set in that night and the cutter was taken into Duxbury Harbor under oars. The Chairman of Ship 13, Committee, Mr. Charles J. A. Wilson, who has a summer home there, put the crew up for the night. Cruise was in command of Lt. Commander Dudley M. Pray of the Ship Committee and Mate Donald Curtis. On the following morning, sail was set and Plymouth Harbor made by noon. After short shore leave, sails were again hoisted and the cutter set out for Boston. Due to mean weather and fog, the cutter was dropped. He said he wanted to see his family, who were staying there, but the rest of the crew all thought he was seasick, for quite a sea was running and waves breaking over the cutter all the time as she breasted the high seas. Boston was made by nine o'clock that evening and all gear stowed.

The following week-end the crew took a cruise to Annisquam and Rockport to visit Commodore Fawcett, in charge of the Ship. Fair wind had all the way so the cutter made the 30 miles in 5 1/2 hours. Duxbury was excellent time. After supper ashore the crew turned in after seeing the town and all slept on board. The following morning the wind was again sou'west and the ship had to buck it all the way back with the motor and it took the same time as under sail on the way up. Commander Pray and Mate Curtis were in charge of this cruise also with Bob Smith a former member of Ship 13 acting efficiently as Chief Engineer. Those who went on the cruises were Robert Fleming, Thomas Fleming, David Deans, Abbott Rodenheiser, Robert Davis, George Young, Robert Howley, Tore Peterson and Lawrence Reid, from North Carolina. Eighteen Seascouts with Skipper William V. M. Pray, Mate Curtis and Chairman Charles J. A. Wilson of Ship 13 are taking a cruise on the Tabor Boy for four days, starting August 25th. This is entirely financed by the Seascouts, with a very low charge of $25 per man. They start from Fairhaven and cruise along the coast, stopping now and then. They are looking forward to the time of their lives and are sure it will be realized.

Cyanide Fumes Kill Youth At West Newton

Arthur H. Smith Entered House Which Was Being Fumigated

A. Halstead Smith, 18, of 371 Waltham st., West Newton, was the victim of an unusual fatality last Friday when he was killed in the home of a neighbor by fumes from a mixture of sodium cyanide and sulphuric acid. Ralph Taber of 377 Waltham st. departed on Friday morning about 9 with his family for a week's visit to Fly Creek, New York. Mr. Taber had planned on having his house fumigated during the absence of his family and on the previous night he purchased six pounds of sodium cyanide. Friday morning he placed half of the chemical in a crock in the cellar of his house, and the other half in a crock in the kitchen. He then poured diluted sulphuric acid into the two crocks and made a hasty exit from the house. The cellar door was left unlocked, the kitchen door locked, and a sign placed thereon reading "Danger, Keep Out." Mr. Taber left a key to the back door of his house with Barbara Smith, a sister of the victim. She was to have opened windows in the house on the day preceding the Tabers return to ventilate the dwelling.

About 10 o'clock Friday morning young Smith left his home and did not return for dinner. Neither did he return during the afternoon. When his father, Oliver K. Smith, returned home that evening, he and members of his family started to search for the missing youth. Mr. Smith took a flashlight and entered the fume-filled cellar of the Taber house during his search, making two hurried trips into the cellar to look for his son. A bus was made on the Albee-Golf links, as it was thought the boy might have met with an accident there. At 8 o'clock Mr. Smith reported to Newton police headquarters that his son was missing. About 8:30 Friday night he suggested to his elder son and two other young men, that they go over again to the Taber house. Peering through the glass in the window in the rear door of the house with a flashlight, Mr. Smith saw a foot projecting out of the kitchen door into a small rear hall. He broke the pane of glass in the rear door and a window in the kitchen. His older son, Kingston Smith had rushed to the Smith home to obtain the key left by Mr. Taber. With this key Smith opened the back door and rushed in to rescue his son. As he grabbed the body, he discovered that the boy was dead, so he decided not to remove the inert form until the arrival of the police. In a few minutes Special Officer Charles Feeley and Patrolman John Murphy arrived, rushed into the kitchen and brought out the body of young Smith. According to the medical examiner, the youth had been dead for a number of hours.

A. Halstead Smith was born in Becket, Massachusetts, 18 years ago. He graduated from Newton High School last June. He was a member of the track team, specializing in the 140 yard dash. He was a member of Newton Chapter, Order of DeMolay and of the Boy Scouts. Besides his parents he is survived by a brother, Kingston Smith; and a sister, Barbara Smith. He was a lineal descendant of Governor Bradford.

His funeral service was held on Tuesday morning at the Second Congregational Church, West Newton. Rev. Boynton Merrill officiated and the DeMolay ritual was conducted by officers of Newton Chapter. Burial was at Becket, where the committal service was conducted by Rev. Mr. Ramsey.

Arrested For Stealing Hose From Golf Club

About 3 o'clock Tuesday morning Prouty Davis and Doherty arrested two men after a chase from the grounds of the Albemarle Golf Club at West Newton. The men were in an automobile and the policemen were in a cruising car. In the automobile the police found 100 feet of garden hose which it is alleged was stolen by the pair from the golf grounds. The pair were arraigned in the Newton court on Tuesday. Walter Clark of Austin st., Newtonville, was charged with drunkenness, drunk driving and larceny of the hose. Walter Humphrey of Lowell st., Waltham, was charged with larceny of the hose. Their cases were continued to August 24.

During the month of July 47 deaths occurred in Newton: 24 males and 23 females. The death rate per 1000 is 7.98. Of those who died, 19 were between 70 and 80 years old, and 6 were over 80 years of age. The causes of death were—cancer 8, cerebral hemorrhage 7, heart ailments 14, hardening of arteries 3, accidental fall 3.

Communicable diseases reported during the month included 1 case of diphtheria, scarlet fever 7, typhoid 1, measles 7, mumps 5, whooping cough 21, chicken pox 12.

The Health Department investigated 18 complaints during the month and abated 25 nuisances.

Newton Tax Rate For 1933 Is $24.80. Reduction Of 20c

Lowest Of Any City In State—Unexpended Balances From 1932 Appropriations Help to Reduce Rate

Newton's tax rate, the lowest of any city in Massachusetts, was again reduced for 1933, by the announcement today of the Board of Assessors that the rate for this year will be $24.80. Last year's rate was $25.00. Mayor Sinclair Weeks announced that the reduced rate was accomplished without recourse to borrowing from the State on tax titles, and despite reductions in valuations of more than two and one-half million dollars. An increase in the rate was generally anticipated because of the extraordinary jump in the city's welfare expenses.

Administrative economies in various departments resulted in a great number of unexpended balances from 1932 appropriations. These savings swelled the city's surplus to more than $400,000, and from this fund $250,000 was taken, with approval of the State Tax Commissioner, in order to reduce the burden of taxes on the owners of property. Revaluations made by the Assessors during the past year also showed a reduction of approximately $300,000 in taxable personal property. New buildings created a value of $950,000 in taxable real estate. Revaluations showed a reduction of $2,583,050 in real estate, and $296,850 in personal property, or a total reduction in valuations of $2,879,900. The net reduction in valuation from 1932 is $1,929,900.

While the state tax this year showed a reduction of $14,000 it was brought about by the state's absorbing the whole of the $124,811.70 Highway appropriation money which Newton received in 1932. By this transfer Newton loses $110,000 in receipts from the gasoline tax.

There was a further loss in Income Tax, Corporation Tax, Excise Motor and other receipts of $320,000. This was offset somewhat by reductions in State Warrants, and in the Budget. This year's reduction of 20 cents in the Newton tax rate is the third successive reduction announced by Mayor Weeks.

The total real and personal property valuation amounts to $163,308,800 for 1933, as against $165,238,700 for 1932.

In announcing the new reduced rate, the Mayor's office also made public (Continued on Page 8)

Short cuts to the primrose path and some of the detours of that glittering trail are traversed by Constance Bennett, with a notable cast, including Joel McCrea and John Halliday, in "Bed of Roses."

With picturesque New Orleans as its locale, "Bed of Roses" presents Miss Bennett as a reform school graduate who sets out to better her lot by seducing a wealthy playboy. Her friendship with a tow-boat captain, to whom she is attracted, reaches a state of love.

Her plan works well enough until her millionaire patron's luxury proves insufficient exchange for the love she seeks. Her friendship with a tow-boat captain, to whom she is attracted, reaches a state of love.

Miss Bennett was directed in "Bed of Roses" by Gregory La Cava, famed for his work on "Gabriel Over the White House." Pert Kelton and Samuel Hinds assist McCrea and Halliday in the supporting cast.

On the same program will be the dapper Wm. Powell in "Private Detective" and there never has been another star that equalled him in this sort of role.

For the last half of the week, James Dunn and Sally Eilers will be featured in "Hold Me Tight," also Gary Grant and Benita Hume in "Gambling Ship." The usual Saturday afternoon vaudeville for the children will be continued for the rest of the summer. Bargain matinees are Monday and Friday.

17" Boats: First, L. Andrews, Upper Falls; Second, F. Libby, Weeks Jr. High; Third, G. Gould, Weeks Jr. High.

Free For All: First, James Murray, Weeks Jr. High; Second, Phillip Thayer, Waban; Third, Kenneth Ridgeway, Stearns.

Skiff: First, H. Hoffman, Highlands; Second, I. Sawyer, Williams School; Third, B. Southgate, Williams School.

BIG GAME HUNT OPEN TO ALL

Rifles, fishing rods and romance will play their parts in a series of highly interesting expeditions to India arranged in monthly tours, beginning November 23rd next.

A world-known big game hunter, Lieutenant Colonel C. G. Schrotky, Royal Field Artillery (Retired), with the co-operation of the Cunard and Peninsular and Oriental Steamship Companies and the British Indian Government Officials, has perfected arrangements for a series of tours and shooting parties in India. One entire month will be spent in and about a camp in hitherto almost inaccessible and practically untouched hunting areas of the sub-Himalayan frontier tracts of Northeast India. That period will be given wholly to sport—tiger, bear, deer, buffalo, bison, lynx, and so forth, bird game and fishing, the latter including the Great Indian game fish, the Mahseer, weighing up to 60 pounds.

The journey to this sportsman's Paradise will be made in real luxury. Palatial liners will supply the sea part of it. At Bombay, a private saloon railway car, provisioned and staffed, will meet the party (limited to six persons) whereby it will be carried in regal comfort to the sights and scenes included in the touring itinerary, such as Delhi, Agra and Benares. The major part of the sight-seeing ends at Assam where Colonel Schrotky will meet the six tourists for the more adventurous journey to the hunt-camp.

If sailing dates of arrival and departure necessitate breaks in the direct trips outward or homeward, the interluding time will not be included in the estimate of costs. Nor are additional or substituted tours en route included. Aside from this proviso, however, the members of the expedition are relieved from expense beyond the cost estimated and everything possible in the way of luxurious ease and pleasure is done for them.

Detailed information of every kind regarding this combined hunting and sight-seeing expedition will be supplied on application to the Cunard Line, or the Newton Steamship Agency, Newton.

Postage Stamps Put End to Sending Mail Collect

Postage stamps in the United States were first authorized by an act approved March 3, 1847, and placed on sale in New York on July 1 of that year. This series consisted of two denominations, 5-cent stamps bearing a portrait of Benjamin Franklin, and 10-cent stamps bearing a portrait of George Washington.

The postage stamp grew out of the necessity for issuing a receipt for money paid in advance for the carriage of letters. Previous to their use, postage was collected in money directly when the mail was delivered. More often it was collected on delivery. Sir Rowland Hill, a British postal reformer, believed that postage should be prepaid, and to facilitate prepayment he proposed the postage stamp. The first stamps, therefore, were issued by Great Britain, and were first put on sale May 1, 1840. Stamps put an end to sending letters collect.

Turks Love Their Pigeons

The love the Turks show for pigeons is remarkable. These birds are encouraged to nest in the nooks and crannies of many beautiful mosques in Istanbul and other places, regardless of the amount of damage they do, which is said to be considerable. Special holes are left for the pigeons in many walls. Each year during the Bayram holiday mosque-goers and others make it a point to provide the pigeons with a great feast, especially in front of the courtyards of the Eyub and Bayazid mosques. During this time old women stationed in the courtyards of the mosques sell millet for about a penny a cupful, which is a very high price for many of the poor people who buy it to feed to the much admired birds.

Boy Scouts of America

The Boy Scout movement originated in the British Isles, Sir Robert S. S. Baden-Powell being the prime mover. At that time there was a small movement in the United States, organized in 1900 by Ernest Seton-Thompson, and called "Woodcraft Indians." About the same time Dan Beard organized a similar movement called "The Sons of Daniel Boone." These were merged into the Boy Scouts of America in 1910—two years after Baden-Powell started the scout movement in England. The idea behind the movement is in training boys in the essentials of good citizenship. It is non-military, interdenominational and non-political.

Playground Children To Present Play

Under the auspices of the Newton Playground Department a play will be given at the Newton Centre Playground on Wednesday evening, August 23rd by the playground children. This promises to be most interesting and entertaining. It is entitled "The Woodland Princess" and is an outdoor fairy opera. The parts are taken by children between the ages of four and fourteen and there are sixty in the cast.

The soloists are: Lord High Beethoven, Phyllis Asbell; Elsa, the little Princess, Marian Means; Prince Nimblepeg, Winifred Ann Smith; Poppy, Marian Cappadona; Dandelion, the Head Goblin, Billy DeStefano; Elderberry, Charlotte Walker; Buttercup, Gilda Ciccone; Water Sprite, Alvis Semp; Fairy, Anita Florin.

The choruses of flowers are made up as follows: Dandelions: Lillian Florin, Mary Mandala, Martha Chapple, Mildred Hall, Jean Godwin.

Roses: Rita Sullivan, Gloria Florin, Julia Tracy, Betty Dorsey, Katherine Burke, Dorothy Maddox.

Forgetmenots: Ann Hosmer, Constance Florin, Gilda Cappadona, Alia Oriendella, Jane Bortman, Marjorie Asbell, Joan McCusker, Louise DeVos, Chibbie Ciccone, Joan DeVos.

Goblins: Henry Sokol, John Cappadona, Robert Feeny, Camille Lombardi, Freddie Rath, Gerald Feeny, Tony Lombardi, Walter Bowman.

The coaching was done by Mrs. Florence Wood Russell under the general supervision of Margaret P. Hills.

NEWTONVILLE MEN APPOINTED TO STATE POLICE

Among the 24 new state troopers recently appointed by General Daniel E. Needham, State Commissioner of Public Safety, are two young men from Newtonville, James F. Conniff and E. Barton Thompson, Jr.

Conniff is a graduate of Newton High School, 25 years of age. He is single and resides on Bridges ave. He is also a graduate of the Massachusetts Nautical Training School, Thompson is a Nova Scotian by birth, single, and 32 years of age. He attended the Prince School and the High School of Commerce of Boston.

Population of Paraguay Cut to One-Fifth in War

During the Five Years' war, 1865-1870, one of the most sanguinary conflicts in history, known to the Paraguayans as the War of the Triple Alliance, this inland nation fought its three most populous neighbors—Brazil, Argentina and Uruguay, writes the late C. M. Adams in the National Geographic Magazine.

The Paraguayans proved his valor. When the tide of aggression turned, he battled like a tiger in defense of his homeland. It is doubtful that a nation has ever fought more absolutely to a finish.

In the course of the long struggle, all lads over fifteen were called to the colors. Even boys of ten entered the army. As the men fell, the Spartan women took up the fray.

Paraguay's fields lay waste; most of the herds were killed; industries were ruined. Poverty and disease stalked the land. The population was reduced to a fifth of its pre-war numbers. The proportion of men to women was one to seven. The land ceded to the allies totaled 56,000 square miles.

In passing judgment on this country, we must start with 1870 on a foundation of ruin.

Blindness to Taste and Smell Common Affliction

While science knows something about taste and smell, it has been able to make little progress in improving or aiding those organs. In fact, science is about in the same state that it was in the Middle Ages as far as this field is concerned. Telescopes allow one to see stars invisible to the unaided eye; scales weigh masses too large to lift or too minute to feel; microscopes bring into range the world of creatures too small to be seen; amplifiers magnify sounds inaudible to human ears, and ammeters measure electric currents too feeble to shock the most sensitive. But tongues and noses must struggle along without mechanical assistance. "Blindness" to taste or smell is relatively common. There are chemical compounds that some people declare to be disagreeably bitter and others cannot taste at all. Similarly, the lemon verbena smells to some and not to others. So science is still seeking ways to aid tongue and nose. Perhaps "microscopes" and odor amplifiers may be developed; and here is an opportunity for inventors.

Rattlesnakes Held Sacred

Rattlesnakes, believed to be the "little brothers of the underworld," are particularly sacred to Navajo Indians, because they are the literal go-betweens, carrying the prayers of the people to the deities in the dark and mysterious underworld where the gods, good and bad, are supposed to dwell. Invocations are made to the snakes in times of drought and crop failure; any disrespect shown to a rattlesnake would render these prayers useless.

Traffic Light for Doctors

Berlin doctors are allowed to carry an extra light on their automobiles showing a red cross on a green background to be used only in case of emergency to get through traffic.

Y. M. C. A.

Newton Y. M. C. A. trackmen are taking part in a triangular meet at Newton "Y" Saturday afternoon between Newton "Y", Lynn "Y." and Boston "Y." With Lynn "Y." competing, the present Two-State Y. M. C. A. champions, record competition is expected.

Newton's sprint men will be led by Johnny Morris and Harold Mearls in the 100 and 220 yard dashes, and in the field events Stan Cullen in the Running Broad Jump and Paul Carroll in the Shot Put. Art Linthwaite, Newton's star half-miler, will be unable to compete.

Others representing the local "Y" are James Quigley and Jim Cahill in the 100; Jim Cahill also in the 220; Hugh Manning in the 440; Bob Gutzler, Andy Hanson, and George Thompson in the half-mile; Art Jacobs, Johnny Quirk, Al Hickin, and Dr. Perlmutter in the mile; and Fred Dunlop in the Broad and High Jumps.

On Wednesday evening Coach Henry Pierce will lead his squad in a return meet with Brockton Y. M. C. A. The meet will be a twilight affair and will be held at Newton "Y."

Backed by the superior pitching of "Red" Joyce and George Hokanson and by steady hitting, Newton Y. M. C. A. has finished in first place in the Newton Twilight Baseball League with 17 wins and only 1 defeat. Two games which ended in a tie, those with the Cubs and Silver Lake, will not be replayed. Ten players of the "Y" squad are batting for .300 or more, with Horace White leading with an average of .476.

On Friday the series play-off starts between the three leading teams, Y. M. C. A. in first place, Cubs in second, and the Highlands in third. The winner of the Cubs-Highlands series will start a series of five games next Thursday at Cabot.

On Monday evening the "Y" defeated Security Mills 9 to 2. "Red" Joyce pitched for the winners with "Bill" Lansen on the receiving game, while Connelly and J. Timmins tried to hold the "Y" down with Demick catching. The "Y" scored two runs in the first inning, and seven runs in the fourth. Security made one run in the second inning and one in the fifth. Successive hits in the fourth inning by Charley Gallagher, "Penny" DeMille, Bill Sutcliffe, "Jim" O'Neil, "Red" Joyce, and "Bill" Lansen were responsible for the Ys seven run rally.

Tennis

By defeating Newport Y. M. C. A. in the semi-final matches of the Two State Y. M. C. A. tennis championship played Saturday afternoon on the local "Y" courts, Newton Y. M. C. A. has earned the right to meet Salem "Y" in the final match. This match will be played on the Newton "Y" courts.

In the semi-final matches Newton defeated Newport 2 to 1, and Salem defeated Boston 2 to 0. Gordon Kitchin, Newton, defeated J. Gibson of Newport, 6-1, 6-3; L. Chase Kepner and Al Rogan, Newton paired in the doubles match, defeated T. Brown and J. Shea of Newport, 6-3, 6-3; and D. Farnum of Newport defeated Ken Gerritson of Newton 6-2, 6-2.

Next Saturday's match will probably see the same line-up present for Newton—Kitchin and Gerritson in the singles, and Chase Kepner and Al Rogan in the doubles. Salem's team will be selected from the four Fuller brothers and Omer Michaud and Irving Berry.

Ingenious Revolving Urn Was World's First "Movie"

The Emperor Ch'ien Lung of China had his virtues and he had his faults, but he was never dull. He came to the throne of the celestial empire in 1735 and kept things moving until 1795, writes Spencer Kingman in Asia.

Ch'ien Lung, always restless, always on the move, strove for motion even in such things as porcelains. In the course of his reign were produced two extraordinary pieces, which evidently made a pair. Similar pieces may have been manufactured in the period, but if they have survived, their whereabouts are not known.

These masterpieces were revolving vases, and they not only are beautiful and ingenious to the highest degree, but exhibit a skill in manufacture and an accuracy of working parts which would delight an engineer.

The revolving vases of Ch'ien Lung were so made that, when the cover was twisted, a cylindrical inner vase would twirl easily and a beholder, peering through one of the four openings which occur on the sides of the outer vase, could observe the scene on the vase turning inside.

Ch'ien Lung was every inch an emperor and a scholar. One of the reasons he holds a particular interest for us of the Twentieth century is that his revolving vases were probably the first attempt to produce a moving picture.

Most Densely Populated

There are no accurate population figures of world-wide scope, as there are many millions of persons on earth who are unknown to the census taker. Available figures, however, show that the little province of Macao, China, an island at the mouth of the Canton river and a colonial possession of Portugal, is the most densely populated country. This is according to a list given in the World Almanac. Macao's area is four square miles, and the 1927 census gave it a population of 157,176—39,294 persons to the square mile.

Recent Deaths

EDWARD A. MARSH

Edward A. Marsh of 319 Highland avenue, West Newton, died on August 14. He was born 95 years ago at Sunderland, Mass., and learned the trade of machinist at Springfield. He entered the employ of the Waltham Watch Company and advanced there until he became superintendent of the factory. He invented many machines formerly used at the factory and also devised improvements for the telephone and automobile in their earlier stages.

In 1861 Mr. Marsh married Olive Scamman of Springfield. She died last year. He was a member of the Second Congregational Church at West Newton. His funeral service was held yesterday afternoon at the Second Church; Rev. Boynton Merrill officiated. Cremation was at Mount Auburn.

He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Henry Talbot of West Newton, and Mrs. Grace M. Fischer of Detroit.

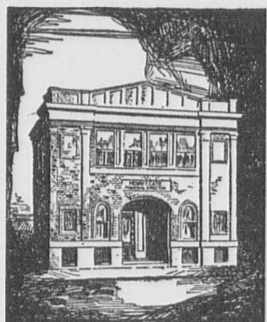

MRS. ELIZABETH M. CLEAR

Mrs. Elizabeth M. Clear of 15 Hovey st., Newton, wife of James Clear, died on August 11th following a long illness. She was born at Barna, Killenny, Ireland 65 years ago and had resided in Newton for about 40 years. Besides her husband she is survived by one son, Captain Warren Clear of the United States Army, now stationed at San Francisco. Her funeral service was held Monday morning at Our Lady's Church, Newton. Burial was in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham.

MARIAN H. FULLER

Miss Marian H. Fuller of 41 Lombard st., Newton, died at Quebec City on August 7th following a brief illness. She was a native of Meadville, Pennsylvania and had resided in Newton for six years. She had been quite active in the affairs of Grace Church, Newton; and Trinity Church, Boston. Interment was at Meadville on Tuesday, August 15. Miss Fuller is survived by her mother, Mrs. A. M. Fuller, and a sister, Miss Marguerite Fuller of Lombard st., Newton; and a brother, Frederic Fuller of California.

Newton Man Drowned At Portland, Ore.

Was a Member of Crew of Frigate "Constitution"

Mrs. Hannah Brennan of 88 Chapel st., Nonantum, received a telegram last Friday night informing her of the death by drowning of her son, John J. Brennan, a member of the crew of the United States frigate "Constitution." (Old Ironsides). The drowning occurred at Portland, Oregon, where the famous old boat had journeyed on its tour around the United States. Mr. Brennan was born in Newton 31 years ago, the son of the late Peter Brennan. He joined the navy 16 years ago and held the rank of coxswain. His body is expected to reach Newton on Saturday and his funeral will be held Monday from his mother's home. The service will be at Our Lady's Church, and burial will be in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham.

He is survived by his mother; a brother, Timothy Brennan; and six sisters, Misses Elizabeth, Katharine and Eleanor Brennan of Newton, Mrs. Mary Crowley of Medford, Mrs. Margaret Quigley and Mrs. Anna Hoban of Newton.

TIMOTHY F. GANNON

Timothy F. Gannon of 143 River st., West Newton, died on August 15. He was born in Chelsea, 32 years ago, the son of Patrick H. and Mary Grady Gannon. At the age of 3 he moved to West Newton with his parents. He attended the Newton schools and the Allen School for Boys. His father was one of the pioneer contractors of this city, and Mr. Gannon and his brothers succeeded to this business. He retired 17 years ago.

Mr. Gannon was a member of the Holy Name Society and he was a charter member of Triton Council, Royal Arcanum. He is survived by two daughters, Mary E. Gannon and Rose M. Gannon, the latter a deputy collector of Internal Revenue at Boston; by two sons, William L. Gannon of West Newton, and John J. Gannon of Milton; and by two brothers, William J. Gannon of Hopkinton and Martin J. Gannon of West Newton. His funeral service will be held Saturday morning at 10 in St. Bernard's Church, West Newton. Burial will be in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham.

MRS. MARGARET MAHONEY

Mrs. Margaret Mahoney of 116 Harvard st., Newtonville, widow of John C. Mahoney, died on Tuesday, August 8, following a year's illness. She was 82 years old. For more than fifty years she was a resident of this city. She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. F. A. O'Sullivan of Newtonville and Mrs. C. J. McCarthy of Newton Centre, and four grandchildren.

Funeral services were held on Thursday morning at 9 o'clock at the Church of Our Lady, Newton, where a high mass of requiem was celebrated by Rev. Robert Mantle. Burial was in St. John's Cemetery, Hopkinton.

FRED W. HARRINGTON

Fred W. Harrington of 126 Cornell street, Newton Lower Falls, died on August 14. He was born 80 years ago at Cape Breton, Nova Scotia and had resided at Lower Falls for 30 years. He had been a farmer by occupation. He is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Bertha Baker of Lower Falls, and Annie Harrington of Newtonville; and two brothers, Charles F. Harrington of Newtonville and William Harrington of Texas. His funeral service was held on Tuesday at his late home.

Prof. W. Z. Ripley
Returns Home
At Newton Centre

Considerably improved but still very weak, William Z. Ripley, professor emeritus of political economy at Harvard University, has returned to his home at 38 Bracebridge rd., Newton Centre, to recuperate from a nervous breakdown suffered 14 months ago in Holland.

When the 64-year-old economist arrived in New York in the Holland-American liner Statendam on Friday, Mrs. Ripley said he was "better, but still very ill." He is now under the care of a nurse, and it will probably be a year before he is able to resume the writing career which established him as an outstanding authority on economics, finance and railroad management.

The breakdown came in Leeuwarden, Holland, where he had been in a hospital until a few weeks ago. It was caused by the strain of numerous speaking engagements and a strenuous program of magazine and book writing. In 1926 he was similarly affected.

MR. ARTHUR D. COLBY

Mr. Arthur Dean Colby of 51 Waldorf road, Upper Falls, died at the Newton Hospital on Monday, August 14, after a short illness of two weeks. Mr. Colby is survived by his wife, Mrs. Florence Gilmore Colby, one daughter, Mrs. Ralph C. Hall of Columbus, Ohio, and three sisters, Mrs. Fred McMaster, of Chelmsford, Miss Grace Colby of Lowell and Mrs. George French of Riverside, California. Mr. Colby was born in Lowell and was in his fifty-ninth year. He entered the employ of the Saco-Lowell company in the Lowell shops, at the age of 16 years and was transferred to the Upper Falls shops when the business was transferred to there 19 years ago. He had reached the position of vice president of the firm when the business was transferred to Biddeford, Maine, where he transferred with the other employees last year. His activities with the company were severed after 43 years of service, about nine months ago.

Mr. Colby was a past president of the Upper Falls Improvement Society, past member of the official board and the Wesley Bible Class of the First Methodist Episcopal Church, Upper Falls.

Funeral services were held from his late home on Thursday afternoon at 2 p. m. Rev. William Shaw of Arlington, former pastor of the First M. E. Church officiated. Burial was in the Edison Cemetery, Lowell, Mass.

THOMAS J. CORNISH

Thomas J. Cornish of 260 California st., Nonantum, died on August 14. He was born in Newton, 39 years ago, the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Cornish. During the World War he served in the 347th Infantry. His funeral service was held yesterday morning at Our Lady's Church and military honors were accorded. Members of Eugene Daley Post, V. F. W., served as pallbearers and a detachment of 12 infantrymen was present as a guard of honor. Burial was in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham, where tapes were sounded and the customary three volleys fired by the squad of infantry. He is survived by his parents; two brothers, Harold and Charles Cornish; and a sister, Elizabeth.

CHARLES C. EFFLER

Charles C. Effler of 62 Marshall st., Newton Centre, died on August 13. He was born in Albany, N. Y., 82 years ago and had resided in this city for two years. His funeral service was held at his late home on Tuesday. Rev. E. M. Noyes officiated. Burial was in West Parish Cemetery, Andover. He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. W. W. Lovejoy of Newton Centre; and two sons, Charles C. Effler, Jr., of Albany, and Harry Effler of Milwaukee.

MRS. AGNES T. WHITTREDGE

Mrs. Agnes T. Whittredge of 2027 Commonwealth ave., Auburndale, died on August 11. She was born in Nova Scotia, 56 years ago, and had been associated with the management of the Boulevard Cafeteria at Auburndale. Her funeral service was held on Monday.

Burns Says Rise
In Real Estate
Coming Soon

Newton Realtor Reports More Activity in Real Estate

AD Local Real Estate Continues AC Thomas H. Burns, Realtor, of John T. Burns & Sons, Inc., and head of the Newton Brokers Board, believes that the time is close at hand when there will be an appreciable rise in both the sale and rental value of all suburban real estate. The rental situation is right now reaching an acute stage, especially in the single house class. Demand has overtaken the supply, and those who contemplate renting this fall are liable to be disappointed if they wait too long.

During the past year or so many homes in this district have been rented at a price which did not even net the carrying cost the owner. This condition, caused by the inactivity of the sales market and the sluggish demand for rentals, exists no longer, and there is every indication at present that rental prices on all types of residential property are due for an early increase. It's the wise tenant that will either renew his present lease or make a move at once.

The following is a partial list of the residential leases negotiated through the offices of John T. Burns & Sons, Inc., in the Newtons and Wellesley during the past week: For Maizie S. Boynton to Matthew A. Taylor the single eight room residence at 599 Commonwealth ave., Newton Centre, valued at $13,000. For Donald McKay the English type eight room home at 61 Beaumont ave., Newtonville, to Robert T. Anderson. The property is valued at $15,000. At 11 Calvin rd., Newtonville, for James L. Higgins to W. J. Henry the frame eight room colonial valued at $12,000.

For Joseph C. Kelly to Walter A. Warch the Cape Cod colonial at 20 Manchester rd., Newton Highlands, valued at $11,000. For Anthony Epifano to M. L. Camps the English type brick nine room home at 63 Hundreds cir., Wellesley Hills, the property valued at $20,000. For George M. Heathcote to Mrs. Roland Stearns the single eight room house at 53 Nesbobe rd., Waban, valued at $14,000.

For Robert J. Holmes to George Miller the old colonial twelve room home at 237 Park st. in the Farlow Hill district, valued at $20,000. For Paul Mazzuchelli to C. E. Hill the brick seven room at 29 Commonwealth Park, Newton Centre, valued at $12,000. For Leo A. Whalen to R. L. Breck the seven room colonial at 72 Br. rd., valued at $12,500.

For George C. Whitman to R. F. Morse the six room colonial at 25 Bow rd., Newton Centre, valued at $9,000. For Lella Newberry to Clinton A. McCarthy the seven room colonial at 150 Belmont rd., Auburndale, valued at $10,500. For the Whitinsville Savings Bank to Joseph E. Wharton the nine room residence located at 22 Chestnut tr., Newton Centre, valued at $13,000.

For Alfred B. Auger to F. E. Holcomb the English type seven room home at 18 Solon st., Newton Highlands, valued at $12,000. For Nanita Cooper to Robert C. An interesting exhibit has just been installed called "Combat in the Sea" which illustrates the constant struggle for existence that goes on in the sea as well as on the land. How one animal eats another for food and is in turn eaten up by some larger and more powerful animal is explained by objects, drawings and story-telling labels. First we have the protozoa, the tiny sea animals that live on the seaweed. Mussels fix themselves to seaweed and eat the protozoa. Starfish prey upon mussels, especially oysters. Though the starfish is one of the most hardy sea animals because of its strong horny covering and its ability to lose arms and grow out others, a hungry crab or lobster would probably attack a young starfish and eat him for dinner. An octopus would consume an unsuspecting lobster. Master of the sea though the octopus is, he is occasionally chewed up by a large fish or a vicious shark. A great sperm whale might relish shark meat for lunch. Unless killed by man, a whale usually dies a natural death and sinks to the ocean bottom where the remains are eaten by the protozoa and thus the story begins all over again.

West Newton Man Sues National City Company

Frank S. Tower of Somerset rd., West Newton, has sued the National City Company for $75,000 in the Suffolk court. The National City Company is a New York state corporation with an office in Boston. Mr. Tower seeks to recover $49,400 paid for 100 shares of stock in the National City Bank of New York.

The suit alleges that he bought the stock under false representation which claimed that the stock was in the National City Bank when it really was in a holding company formed for the purpose of aiding the bank in evading the law. The suit also alleges that the action of the defendant in selling the stock was to support the stock of the National City Bank at $400 a share when it had a bank value of only $50.00 a share.

ANOTHER BURGLARY AT NEWTON

The upper Waverley avenue section at Newton was the scene of another burglary this week. Wednesday morning it was discovered that a cellar window had been broken at the residence of the Misses Hull, 56 Montrose st. The occupants of the house have been away on a vacation. Upon investigation, it was learned that the house had been ransacked thoroughly. The extent of the loot has not been determined. The burglary was discovered by Thomas Robinson of Ivanhoe st., a neighbor of the Hull sisters.

Maybe never again such VALUES!

THIS new Pathfinder is a bigger value than the old Pathfinder. It has the bigger safety margin of FULL CENTER TRACTION — bigger mileage from the 20 PER CENT THICKER TREAD — stouter body of heat-resisting Supertwist Cord — and other improvements that make it a still better buy than the 17,000,000 Pathfinders that went before.

Look at the All-Weather values, also! This great thoroughbred — the finest tire that money can buy — waves an alluring price tag.

STATE COLLEGE GARDENS
ATTRACT MANY VISITORS

The exhibition gardens of the Massachusetts State College on Beaver st., Waltham, have an unusual interest for flower lovers this summer. These gardens were established three years ago for the benefit of the public, and are just now coming into their best showing. The Phlox are approaching full bloom, and many of the other herbaceous perennials are in flower. Over three hundred varieties of Gladioli will be in bloom during the next two weeks. The exhibition gardens are at the Waltham Field Station, a branch of the Massachusetts State College, located in that beautiful section of Waltham known as Cedar Hill. It is a worthwhile destination for the early evening or Sunday driver. All are welcome.

THE SLOT MACHINE MENACE

District Attorney Bishop of Middlesex County should have the co-operation of all persons who can aid in cleaning up the slot-machine racket that has been spreading throughout the state. During the past decade there has been an increasing desire upon the part of the American public to participate in gambling of one form or another. In some places and among some people it has become almost a hysteria. The gambling instinct has, in the past few years, become almost an integral part of stock exchange transactions. There was a time when the stock market was used solely for investment purposes with stocks being bought and sold on sound business principles only. Now the speculative tendency has a greater influence upon basic business conditions. Stock trading has become one of the most attractive of the present forms of gambling. But to speculate in this way usually requires considerable funds at the start. Other forms of present day gambling, such as parimutuel betting, sweepstake lotteries, nigger-pools, and the slot machine, require but little money. Of all the forms of gambling the slot machine probably offers the most menacing influence. Beyond the fact that this form of gambling is conducted by racketeers and the receipts used for illegitimate purposes it is mechanically designed so that the player has little chance to win, it reaches directly into the smallest of communities and flourishes upon the aroused gambling instinct of even the children. While we do not hold to all the strict and straight-laced tenets of our Puritanical forefathers, we cannot help but feel that much of the increase in crime could be prevented through the abolishment of such gambling rackets. Let's all back District Attorney Bishop to the limit in his latest endeavor.

THE NEW WELFARE PLAN

Th administration of welfare to needy persons during the past few years has taxed the minds of many federal, state and municipal officials as well as political economists and social workers. We would not pretend to say without complete knowledge whether or not the new modified commissary plan of welfare aid, which was recently adopted in Newton, is better than the previous methods employed. Where one municipality might successfully use one of a number of methods, another city or town might not be able to cope with its own local problem by any method previously attempted elsewhere. On the other hand a method which had been unsuccessful in one community might be the most efficient in some other locality. We do know, however, that the citizens of Newton want the welfare problem handled with fair treatment to all. The cost of such welfare, no matter where it may be, is ultimately met by the tax-payer. The tax-payer does not want his money thrown away—neither does he want to see his fellow citizens—and sometimes his neighbors—who are more in want than he through no fault of theirs—suffer excessive privation. He stands ready to help carry his share of the burden.

The welfare recipient, with perhaps few exceptions, does not want charity—he wants a chance to live his own life and to support his family by his own honest efforts. Unfortunately this has not been entirely possible for the past few years. All are rejoicing in the brighter outlook. Meanwhile if the new welfare plan gives greater aid to dependent citizens at less cost to the taxpayer, as it is claimed, it should be given a fair trial. Where the plan cannot succeed in certain cases due to unusual conditions we believe these can be efficiently handled by individual attention.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Mind" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, August 20.
The Golden Text is: "It is God which worketh in you both to will and to do his good pleasure" (Philippians 2:13).

Are You Seeking a Position?

SIX "WHITE COLLAR" MEN AND WOMEN WANTED

Beginning September 5, 1933, at Babson Park, Wellesley, a two months' training course will be given to enable young people to analyze themselves and prepare themselves to secure and hold good positions.

A limited number from each of the nearby suburbs will be accepted,—that is, from the applications that are received from Newton people, twelve will be invited to attend the School.

The School will be the only one of its kind in the United States, being unique in three particulars: (1) its dynamic and practical course of lectures, (2) its command of radio station WBSO for helping graduates to secure positions, and (3) its GUARANTEE, whereby everyone who does not secure a position after graduation gets his tuition of $65 paid back in full,—no questions asked.

This, of course, is an extraordinary offer, and explains why the number must be limited. A booklet with full particulars will be sent upon request.

About Town

By Edward H. Powers

The other night we took a stroll about the retail business section of Boston, and we walked into a place we stood for several minutes in front of a bus terminal operated by one of those cut-rate lines which take passengers from Boston to New York for $2. We engaged in conversation with an intelligent young Scotchman on the subject of interstate bus and truck traffic. He informed us that until the advent of the NRA program he had been working as a driver for a company which operates a truck line between Burlington, Vt., and New York City. He said the drivers of these trucks make three round trips each week between these two cities. The journey each way takes 15 hours. Upon reaching New York the driver has to work all day helping unload and load his truck. He received $15 for each round trip, plus the day's work at New York.

Figure out the working hours per week that a driver on such a schedule puts in, and wonder how he gets in enough sleep to keep up such a grind. With men under such a physical strain (and also mental strain) one does not wonder that there are numerous accidents on our highways involving trucks. It is remarkable that there are not more accidents. It is such conditions as these that make bus and truck traffic unfair competitors for railroads and hazards to the automobile travelling public. The bill recently enacted by our Legislature which would place bus and truck traffic under State control, aims to correct abuses in this type of traffic. If you are asked to sign a petition for a referendum seeking to nullify this new legislation refuse to do so until you have made inquiries as to the unfair working conditions under which many truck and bus drivers have been struggling.

Incidentally, the young man with whom we were talking said that when the NRA code was announced his employer informed him that he could no longer afford to keep him as a truck driver, and he was offered another job with that concern at $13 per week.

We have been informed that sodium cyanide and sulphuric acid are quite frequently used for the purpose of fumigating houses. The tragic occurrence at West Newton last Friday proves that such a method is too deadly in its possibilities to be permitted. Supposing a fire should occur in a house filled with these deadly fumes, and that firemen should enter, unaware of the menace? The result can be visualized.

If residents at Vernon Court sleep late mornings, it is not the fault of several very noisy blue-jays which do much screeching in the elm trees on Centre st., in front of the hotel.

Talking about noise during the morning hours—the very early hours. It occurs to many residents in the Newtons that drivers of milk wagons might arrange the cases of milk bottles at points remote from dwellings. Some drivers regularly shift the cases in thickly settled neighborhoods, and regularly awaken persons sleeping nearby.

Why not have their "singing jury" assist in the stage act of the "hand-some heroine"? Do you wonder that legitimate theatres in the United States have gone out of business when a large part of the American public can be attracted by attractions of this type? And billions of dollars are spent in this "highly civilized" country to educate the masses.

If General "Dan" Needham continues to function as efficiently as he has in two cases on Cape Cod, he will win a reputation comparable with that achieved by former District Attorney "Bob" Bushnell.

Residents of the Newtons should give whole-hearted support to the new organization composed of owners of independent grocery stores and markets of this city, formed on Monday night at a meeting held in Newton Centre. This city has long needed co-operation between owners of such stores throughout the Newtons.

The Selectmen of Watertown, influenced by the scathing denunciation of carnivals by Judge P. Sarsfield Cunningham, voted last week not to grant any more permits in that town to such out-fits.

One change badly needed in the conduct of police courts of Massachusetts is that which will prohibit a justice or associate justice of any court from appearing in another court as counsel for any defendant charged with a violation of the law.

Have you noticed the beauty of the group of willow trees at the corner of Charles River rd. and North Beacon st., Faneuil? The Metropolitan District Commission deserves praise for the manner in which the park area along the river between Newton and Faneuil has been beautified.

finding out! For who hath known the mind of the Lord? or who hath been his counsellor?—Pop of him, and through him, and to him, are all things: to whom be glory for ever" (Romans 11: 33, 34, 36).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Mind is the grand creator, and there can be no power except that which is derived from Mind. If Mind was first chronologically, is first potentially, and must be first eternally, then give to Mind the glory, honor, dominion, and power everlastingly due its holy name" (p. 143).

The need of an incinerator in Newton for the disposal of rubbish has long been agitated. It is more than a quarter century since this matter first was discussed. It is many years since a committee comprised of Dr. Curtis, chairman of the Board of Health, Seward Jones and John C. Brimblecom traveled even as far as Montreal, Quebec to inspect an incinerator in that city. But, city governments of Newton through all the years during the past quarter century have decided against building an incinerator. Incinerators cost considerable money to build; and then some don't give much satisfaction. So, it behooves the present city government to act slowly and cautiously before involving the city and its taxpayers in the expense which the construction of a costly incinerator will cause.

It is planned not to burn garbage in the proposed incinerator which would cost, according to estimates, $170,000 to $200,000. It would burn paper and other debris and would prevent to a large degree the annoying fires which regularly occur in dumps, and it would make dumps less unsightly. It would necessitate house holders of the city to keep their ashes in separate barrels from rubbish. The city has for many years had an ordinance specifying that this must be done, but for a long time this ordinance has not been enforced.

There is a costly incinerator at Worcester which has not been "so hot" much of the time. There have been other incinerators which have been failures. According to the engineer with whom the Newton Aldermen conferred, the proposed incinerator to be built here, would be one of the practical type, which would give good results.

An incinerator would be a desirable improvement in Newton. But, if it is to be erected as part of a program to give work to the unemployed of the city, we think that it will afford much relief in this direction. Much of the money expended on an incinerator will go for materials for the building and for the equipment. We know of no better way to provide work for a considerable number of Newton's unemployed than to repair, to resurface many of the streets in the city which certainly can stand resurfacing. The streets of Newton are, in fact, too many to mention. In the past few years Newton has not been extravagant in the amount of money it appropriated for the rebuilding and care of its streets. And the sidewalks of this city are also not the acme of perfection. Those who walk to any extent, instead of riding, can testify as to this statement.

It would be an excellent thing, if it can be done, to have some of the money available under the NRA grant from the Federal Government to improve Newton streets, provided this work will be done by the employees of the street department who have been without employment for months, supplemented to a reasonable degree by other unemployed men of the city. It certainly not a help to relieve unemployment in Newton to have men let out on contract, with efforts made to obtain bids as low as possible. We have had a number of examples of this method in Newton during the past few years.

The announcement that the tax rate in Newton for 1933 is twenty cents less than last year's tax rate, naturally will be welcome news to tax payers of the city. Certainly few, if any taxpayers in Newton would rather have the tax rate here at the high rate which prevails in many of the cities of this State. And the employees of the city of Newton may also congratulate themselves that the city's financial condition has been excellent and that they have been paid regularly in happy contrast to the employees of some cities in the State. We believe, however, that there are taxpayers who would willingly have the rate a trifle higher, when by such an increase more employees of the city could have been kept at work on our streets, and much needed repairs to our highways could be done. We believe that if some of the unemployed in the city could be given work on some kind of public improvements as they have in the past, rather than being placed on food doles, it would certainly make these men and their families happier; it would be more in keeping with American traditions.

THE NAUGHTY TACK

By William R. Ferry

Oh! You little tack
Stubborn little tack
You tack a rug or auto top
With just a little whack.

A neat and handy critter
A pointed chap you are
If never, never upside down,
You really are a star.

You are a pointed flat head
A tack mill saw you first,
When upside down on the street,
You make a tire burst.

Friend of man you've always been,
A helper and a chum.
When autos came along
You were called a little bum.

You've caused the auto owner
A pile of cash to spend
A tire flat, you little brat;
Extravagance must end.

Bull Fight Divided Into Three Acts Like a Play

A bull fight can be said to be a play, divided into three acts. Pageantry is added to the dramatic spectacle by a parade of all the characters before the play begins. The first act is the one which generally disturbs the foreign tourist. This is the act of the placards mounted on their miserable-looking horses, armed with a long lance.

The second act is when the banderilleros appear on the scene. By this time the dead or crippled horses have been removed from the arena, and very often the tourist is making for the exit, ashamed of having entered the bull ring at all. If he stays on he has decided that it is the most brutal and disgusting affair and a disgrace to civilization, and refuses to recognize the art and technique which exists in the second and third acts.

The matador appears for the third act. He is the principal character in the dramatic spectacle. With a muleta, a sort of red cape, he executes a series of "passes" which all have their special names to the crowd. The slightest slip, and the matador is flung in the air on the long horns, as if he were a toy. It all happens quickly. There is no referee's whistle to control the game, the bull continues to gore the matador until others of his team rush with brightly colored capes to attract the bull from his victim.

Dalmatians Have Served Under Variety of Flags

The Dalmatians, now partly Yugoslavian and partly Italian in their national allegiance, have had a varied career in history, first passing under the flag of one nation, then another.

At the time of the outbreak of the World war, the Dalmatians were part of the Austrian Empire, their coat along the Mediterranean being of vital importance to the Austrians. The area of the province is not very large, but by its picturesque mountains, rivers and small lakes has always had a romantic appeal to travelers.

The population, partly Italian, partly Albanian, partly Jewish and partly German, has been noted for the fine physique of the men. The chief occupations of the people have been for centuries cattle raising, seafaring and fishing.

At one time Dalmatia was quite a sizeable kingdom, but after it finally fell before the assault of the armies of Augustus, it had a varied career. After the fall of Rome, Dalmatia passed into the hands of the Goths, Slavonians, Venetians, French and Italians, finally winding up as a part of Austria up until the World war.

Costa Rica

Costa Rica is divided into three rather well-defined districts. The Pacific coast is, for the most part, "native." The East coast, largely banana lands, is inhabited by Jamaica negro laborers and white overseers. And the central region, a rich red table-land rimmed with mountains, is the home of finqueros, owners of the coffee fincas, and the "real" Costa Ricans—a pure Spanish race of beautiful women and industrious, prosperous men with almost no trace of the mixture of races so apparent in other Central American countries.

Recent Weddings

ROGERS—TOOMEY

Mrs. Anna Elsie Toomey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Richardson, 228 Highland ave., West Newton, became the bride of Albert Pierce Rogers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur L. Rogers, 413 Drew st., Clearwater, Fla., at four o'clock, Saturday afternoon, August 12th, the Rev. John Shade Franklin, pastor of the Lincoln Park Baptist Church, officiating.

The bride, who is a graduate of the Birmingham School for Girls, Birmingham, Pa., and of the Katharine Gibbs Secretarial School, Boston, was groomed in pale blue chiffon and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and white roses. Her maid of honor, Miss Marjorie Sisson of Newtonville, wore yellow chiffon and carried yellow roses and pale blue delphiniums. Both wore large white hats trimmed to match their gowns.

The groom, who is in business in Clearwater, attended Georgia School of Technology at Atlanta, Ga. He is a member of Beta Theta Pi fraternity, of the Lions Club, B. P. O. E., and of Clearwater Lodge No. 157, F. & A. M. His attendant was his brother, Mr. William N. Rogers of New York City.

The wedding march and other music was provided by a three-piece orchestra. The ceremony was performed under a bower of palms, yellow gladioli and blue delphiniums, which followed the general decorative color scheme. The bride was given in marriage by her father, Mr. William A. Richardson.

The young couple left immediately on a wedding trip to New York City, after which they will return to Florida, Sept. 1st, to make their home in Clearwater.

GLENDY—MORIARTY

Announcement is made of the marriage of Dr. Margaret E. Moriarty of Newton to Dr. Robert Earle Glendy of Dublin and Roanoke, Va. The ceremony was performed by Reverend Father Russell Haley at noon on Aug. 16 at the rectory of the Church of Our Lady in Newton and was followed by a reception at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. P. W. Moriarty, at 173 Oakleigh rd., Newton.

The bride, who is the daughter of the late Dr. P. W. Moriarty, wore a white lace gown and was attended by her sister, Miss Mary Joe Moriarty. The best man was Dr. Jack Spencer of Lynchburg, Va.

The groom is the son of Mr. Lloyd Daor Glendy of Dublin, Va., and is a graduate of Virginia Military Institute and of the University of Virginia Medical School. His bride attended Simmons College and the University of Virginia Medical School.

After a wedding trip to Northern New England and Canada they will both be on duty as residents in medicine and pediatrics at the Massachusetts General Hospital. They will be at home at 19 Exeter st., Boston, after Oct. 1.

CRAWFORD—MASSINGER

Mr. Thomas Lennard Crawford and Mrs. Marie Paine Massinger were united in marriage at the home of Mr. Crawford's sister, Mrs. Alfred E. Vose of 1010 Centre st., Newton Centre, on Saturday evening, August twelfth. The wedding was attended by the immediate families and relatives.

The bride wore a gown of coral pink chiffon with toque to match and carried a bouquet of Tallian roses and valley lilies. She was attended by her niece, Miss Marie Paine of Bridgeport, Connecticut, whose gown was of blue crepe with toque of white velvet and carried a bouquet of pink roses and African daisies.

Mr. William H. L. Crawford of Brookline was his father's best man. The ceremony was performed by Dr. Edward McArthur Noyes of Newton Centre. Mr. Crawford formerly of East Orange, New Jersey, has lived for the past four years in Honolulu. The bride has made her home in Bridgeport, Connecticut. After an extended motor trip Mr. and Mrs. Crawford will return to Honolulu in the late Fall.

Election Officers For 1933 Named By Board Of Aldermen Last Night

Usual Number of Officers Appointed—Additional Help May Not Be Needed

Last night the appointments of election officers for 1933 as submitted by Mayor Weeks were confirmed by the Board of Aldermen at the special meeting. The usual number of appointees were named with a warden, clerk and four inspectors in each precinct. Last year an additional 225 unpaid assistants were named to assist in the counting of ballots only because of the heavy vote at the state and presidential elections. As the only duty the 1933 election officers will be called upon to perform will be at the city election in December it was not believed necessary to secure any additional aid.

The list of appointments follows:

First Fatality On Turnpike Tuesday Night

Aged Woman Killed, Nine Others Injured

The first fatality in Newton on the new turnpike occurred Tuesday evening when Miss Louise Pratt, 80, of Wollaston, was killed, and nine other women injured at the underpass at Chestnut st., Upper Falls.

Miss Catherine South, a Newton High School teacher, was driving south, taking Miss Pratt and Miss A. Louise Frary to their homes in Wollaston, when the crash occurred. Miss South says that she had gone through the pass and brought her car nearly to a dead stop when a car carrying six nurses from the Worcester City Hospital, driven by Miss Helen O'Brien, coming along the by-pass on the south side of the turnpike, crashed into her. Miss O'Brien says that she was driving only about 25 miles per hour.

All ten women were sufficiently injured so that they were all taken by the police in several cars to the Newton Hospital. Miss Pratt died on the way there. Miss South was the only one of the women who was released immediately, after she had been given first aid treatment for a bruised ankle.

At this writing Miss Irene Sullivan of Worcester is still under treatment at the hospital for a fractured hip and thigh. Though painfully injured, she will recover. Miss Grace Gaffney of Worcester is also still under treatment at the hospital for injuries to right arm and leg.

The Worcester nurses were on their way into Boston to dine at a certain sea food restaurant. The other women in the Worcester car were Miss Alice Doherty, who suffered cuts and bruises, Miss Mary Garrity who was bruised, and Miss Catherine Carmody who was shaken up, all of Worcester. The three riding in the rumble seat of the Worcester car were thrown clear of the car.

The corner of the underpass where the accident occurred is blind, with no warning signs placed as yet. Medical Examiner T. Morton Gallagher says that he will request an examination into the accident by the Newton District Court. Under the new law, procedure is at the discretion of the court.

Veduccio Heads Examination List For Police Capt.

Lieutenant Nicholas Veduccio of the Newton police attained the highest mark in the examination for promotion to the rank of captain, according to a report received by Chief of Police Edward H. Seaver from the Civil Service Commission. Thirteen took the examination and ten passed. Sergeant William P. Mahoney was second and Sergeant Thomas F. Lee was third. The names of the three highest on the list will be filed by the Commission today for the appointment to fill the present vacancy caused by the death this spring of Captain Joe Seaver.

The others who passed the examination finished in the following order: Sergeant Bernard A. Meehan, Sergeant Patrick J. King, Lieutenant Edward A. Moran, Sergeant-mechanic Bartlett Cullen, Sergeant Daniel E. Crowley, Sergeant Andrew E. Moran and Sergeant Thomas J. Burke.

As the appointment requires the approval of Mayor Sinclair Weeks, Chief Hughes said today that he will await the return of the Mayor from his vacation before making an appointment. Acting Mayor Roy V. Collins declared that the law does not give an acting mayor the authority to take action on appointments.

Lieutenant Veduccio attained the comparatively high mark of 87.99 per cent. Chief Hughes was unable to today what marks the others received, as the Civil Service Commission has not yet sent him the list of marks.

Lieutenant Veduccio has been a member of the force for eighteen years, having been appointed a patrolman on March 1, 1915. He was promoted to sergeant on August 7, 1925, and to lieutenant on September 24, 1930.

Finds Camping No Bed of Roses

A post card received at City Hall indicates that Mayor Sinclair Weeks, who is on a camping trip in the Southwest, is enjoying his experience although he does not find it exactly a bed of roses.

"The ground gets hard about 4 A. M.," he wrote in one of the cards, addressed to his secretary, James Dempsey. "The country is hot and water is scarce."

Mayor Weeks and his party are expected to return home early in September. The Mayor was accompanied on the trip by Mrs. Weeks and their two children, Frances, 17, and John, 15, and Mr. and Mrs. William H. Chaffin of Belmont.

The party proceeded to Gallup, New Mexico, by train and were met there by one of the Mayor's automobiles which had been driven from Newton by his chauffeur for the purpose. They left Gallup in the machine bound for the wide open spaces. The tour was to extend through New Mexico and Arizona.

Local Federal Home Loan Office Starts Work

Mortgagee Must Consent To Secure Federal Aid

The local office of the Federal Home Loan Corporation, at 316 Washington st., Newton, is not a final court in taking over mortgages in this district, declared Roger C. Allen, the chief clerk, to a GRAPHIC reporter on Wednesday afternoon. The consent of the mortgagee must be secured and a special board of appraisers from the Boston office at 82 Devonshire st. must approve the application.

Mr. Allen with three assistants is interviewing an average of 60 applicants a day. The work has now been in progress for eight days. On Wednesday afternoon about 325 interviews had been so far given.

The routine calls for two interviews at the local office. The applicants are given a preliminary interview when it is decided whether the case seems to come under the intentions of the federal act or not. If the case seems worthy of consideration, the applicant is given an application form to be filled out at home in which the written consent of the mortgagee must be attached.

After about three days the applicant returns for his second interview. The paper is again given over with the applicant. If the case then still seems a reasonable request, the application is then forwarded to the Boston office for further attention. It is expected that it will require some time before a final decision can be reached, as a special board of appraisers must view the property.

From previous experience, Mr. Allen is familiar with Newton conditions and real estate values. Each day, including Saturdays, the office is open from nine till five. The staff remains on duty till all those in the waiting line have been interviewed, which usually takes till 6:30.

As proof that the local staff is trying to do its full duty in a sympathetic attitude the reporter adds the following: It was after four o'clock when he had his interview with Mr. Allen. Ten people were still in line waiting to be heard. An old man came in and said that it would be difficult for him to come in again soon. He was told to wait in line and he would be heard before the office closed that night.

The local office is considered as only a temporary arrangement. After the pressure of local hearings has been relieved, which is expected, it will require about three months, it will probably be closed and all business will thereafter be transacted from the Boston office.

Scouts at Camp Douglas Learn How To Run City

Camp Will Close on August 26th

The big feature at Camp Barker, the summer camp of Norumbega, lo-Council, Boy Scouts of America, located on Laurel Lake at Douglas, this last week was "City Day." The affair was announced at the usual Sunday night camp-fire with the statement that the elections would be held on Monday evening. At the day there was electioneering, campaign speeches resounded from every stump and box and ward leaders were named at the present day politics and well did the Scouts grasp how politics are handled today!

On Monday evening, there was a torch-light procession around the camp, the torches being made of cat-o-nine tails soaked in kerosene, with songs and cheering. The parade ended at the recreation hall where a last minute plea was made prior to the election.

For Mayor "Skipper" Speirs was elected by a narrow margin; for Chairman of the Board of Education, Jack Dodge; for Chief of Police, Earl Henri of Troop 3, No-nantum. There were also various heads of Departments, so that a regular city organization was established.

On Tuesday, to make this distinctly of educational value, instead of just a stunt, there were hearings on public works (camp improvements and service patrol work around camp); on schools before the Board of Education (regular classes in Scoutcraft); to determine what the projects and the curriculum for the day should be. To the Commissary Officer of Camp, Charles Thompson, a common Victorian's license was issued before he could handle food; various licenses were required and there were several arrests by the Chief of Police, who went about Camp with a tall silk hat as his badge of office.

In the evening, there was session of the Municipal Court of Camp Barker, with Scouter Philip Trowbridge as Judge; Scouter Brad Gove as Clerk of the Court; and Skipper Speirs as City Attorney. A jury was empanelled and session was held in the barn loft, which was rigged like a court room. Regular Court procedure was followed, though most of the defendants acted as their own Counsel. However, one defendant, (Continued on Page 3)

NRA Picking Up Speed in Newton For 100 Pct. Goal

Chamber of Commerce Heads Drive In This City

Developments are rapidly taking place in Newton in the plans of the National Recovery Administration. The office of the Newton Chamber of Commerce is bustling with activity, formulating plans for the house to house canvass for the enlistment of every housewife under the Blue Eagle. Public meetings are being planned and an army of canvassers is to be organized immediately.

Under date of July 21 the following telegram was received by L. J. Fleming, Director of the Newton Chamber of Commerce:

"Executive Official,
Chamber of Commerce,
Newton, Mass.

Will you take the initiative immediately in organizing a campaign committee in your community to be composed of the mayor, the official heads of the Chamber of Commerce, Clearing House Association, Rotary, Kiwanis, Lions, retail merchants, Federation of Labor, Advertising Club, Federation of Women's Clubs, welfare societies, ministerial association, real estate association, and any other civic organization which in your judgment is representative of an important element in the economic life of your community. The function of this committee is to direct a campaign of education and organization which is to be a part of a national movement to speed the return of prosperity through the expansion of consumer purchasing power in accordance with the principles set forth in the National Recovery Act. Will communicate with you covering the further steps in this campaign upon receipt of your reply. It is an inspiring thing to be a part of a great national movement to restore economic security to our people and I appeal to you to marshal all the forces of your community in one united effort to get rid of unemployment.

HUGH S. JOHNSON, Administrator National Recovery Administration."

Until less than a week ago, the Chamber had been carrying on the work without much noise, but the type of the campaign is rapidly assuming the characteristics of a war drive in order to enlist all homes in the program as quickly as possible. The main purpose of the campaign, which is expected to start next week, is to secure the promise from all consumers that they will patronize only concerns which are under the NRA.

A meeting of representatives of the following organizations of the city was held at the Brae Burn Country Club this noon under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce: The trades, women's clubs, business men's associations, welfare organizations and other leading organizations of the city were represented.

All questions regarding the NRA should be addressed to the Newton Chamber of Commerce at 277 Washington st., Newton. The Chamber will in turn refer all questions which it cannot settle locally to a higher office.

Recovery Board Chairman Asks Concerted Action

William A. Filene, chairman of the Massachusetts Recovery Board has issued a circular to the Press asking the entire state to swing into concerted action next Monday. The release reads in part as follows:

"The campaign to enroll every person in the state under the consumers' pledge will open simultaneously throughout the nation next Monday. Under this pledge each consumer promises to help relieve the unemployment situation by patronizing blue eagle business concerns. Cards, containing this pledge, will be given to all consumers for signature."

"In the last analysis," says Mr. Filene, "the real effectiveness of the NRA program depends on the action and the attitude of the consumers. Employers, who are co-operating with the NRA program by decreasing the number of hours of work, increasing wages and adding new employees to their forces, will be unable to continue if the consumers, the buying public, do not support them by patronizing only concerns displaying the blue eagle."

"If for no good reason, or for the sake of a small saving in price, the public patronizes concerns which do not join in the NRA program, it will constitute an encouragement to the paying of meagre, even starvation wages, and working employees long hours. It is such sweat-shop conditions that must be eliminated, if the NRA program is to be a success. Unemployment, relieved and industry placed again on a sound stabilized basis."

"The only sure method of insuring protection against sweatshop conditions is to have the people, the consumers of the country, patronize only these concerns, which are doing business in keeping with the NRA program. These may be identified through their display of the blue eagle and consumers should look for this blue eagle before making purchases."

"The campaign to secure pledges of consumers to patronize only blue eagle concerns, therefore is one of the most important phases of the campaign."

To Apply For Loans To Build Incinerator And For Other Local Projects

Aldermen Make Provisional Appropriations—Matters Must Be Heard Before State Board

At a special meeting of the Board of Aldermen last night at City Hall another step towards the completion of several public works projects under the NRA program was taken. Four of the five projects were taken under consideration as the second matter on the list, the enlargement of the water reservoir at Waban Hill, was referred back to the Committee on Water Supply for further consideration. The four projects for which it was decided to make application to Washington for the loan and grant of Federal moneys were (1) the erection of an incinerator at a cost of $200,000, (2) the erection of a new grade school building on Nevada st. at a cost of $245,400, (3) an addition to the Frank A. Day Junior High School at a cost of $45,700 and (4) the enlargement of the Bigelow Junior High School at a cost of $126,800.

The first matter put before the Board was the enlargement of the water reservoir. Following Alderman Jamieson's statement that the Water Supply Committee desired further information and that there was no necessity for action upon this matter as the Water Commissioner was away on vacation, Alderman Temperley asked a number of questions pointing out, that in his opinion, the enlargement of the reservoir was not as necessary as the installation of more and larger pumps.

He stated that Newton is pumping into the lower reservoir at Waban Hill from the Metropolitan Water mains several millions of gallons of water per day which is being used by Watertown and Belmont. This being due to the fact that Newton controls or owns the pumps on Ward st. which is also used to pump the water Newton takes from the Metropolitan mains for its own use in the upper reservoir. The Ward 5 Alderman also stated that as the city was limited by statute to a maximum of eight millions of gallons per day from the water reservation in Needham, even under the best of conditions, and that as the city was using between eight and nine millions of gallons per day that Newton would have to continue to take water from the Metropolitan supply. Under these conditions, if the pumping station at Upper Falls had to be shut down for any reason the Ward st. pump was not of sufficient capacity to pump enough water from the Metropolitan mains. The matter was then referred back to the committee for further study.

When the question of the erection of an incinerator at Newton Highlands, near the Elliot st. stable, was brought up City Clerk Frank Grant read a communication from former President of the Board, Thomas W. White requesting that the Aldermen grant a public hearing on this matter, which communication is printed in full in another column of this issue.

Alderman Floyd of Auburndale opened the discussion stating that there were two phases of the matter which he wished to speak upon. Referring to the protest of Mr. White he added that the impression seemed to be quite widely spread, especially in the South Side of the city, that the action of the board at this time was the final step in the matter. This is not a fact. After favorable action by the Aldermen the matter must then go to the State Emergency Finance Board for approval and through various further steps before it is certain that the work will be performed. The State Finance Board, he stated, was set up for the purpose of approving or disapproving local projects and it was the function of that board to hold public hearings upon each project. Any public hearing of the local board, he stated, would only be a duplication of what the State Board would do later and would be useless. He believed that citizens of Newton would have ample opportunity to be heard upon the matter.

The other phase of the question the Ward 4 Alderman discussed was that pertaining to odors. The proposed incinerator will not give off odors or gases and it is a question whether or not anyone will realize that there is an incinerator there, he argued. In Washington an incinerator a mile and a quarter from the White House and another a mile and a half from the Capitol have not been objectionable and the same has proved true with one in Worcester and one in Brookline. In closing Alderman Floyd reiterated his assertions that objectors will have an opportunity to voice their feelings and that the fear of odors was erroneous.

Alderman Sproat of Ward 1 believed that some other project than an incinerator would provide greater employment and would be more in keeping with the intention of the NRA program, although he recognized the principle of giving municipalities the chance to make necessary and worthwhile improvements. He expressed the belief that the street resurfacing, relief of traffic congestion in Nonantum Square and other such projects would provide more local unemployment relief.

At the request of acting President Gallagher, who was in the chair, Alderman Murray of Ward 7, chairman of the Public Works Committee, stated that the 39% of the cost of the incinerator would be for materials and 61% for labor.

Alderman Floyd remarked that he differed from the views of Alderman Sproat in regard to the necessity for an incinerator. He told of several dumps in Ward 4, one in particular on Pine st., being extremely objectionable as a breeding place of rats, flies and mosquitoes and source of odors from fires. In the latter connection he stated that the fire department has used more than a million gallons of water in a day in putting out dump fires.

Expressed his opinion that the erection of an incinerator would not be of much benefit in putting unemployed to work. He desired to have the dumps cleaned out and filled up by hand labor, thus putting a large number of men to work. In later discussion Alderman Floyd stated that this plan was put forth some thirty years ago and a survey by the engineering department revealed that the cost of such action was prohibitive. Alderman Murray asked Alderman Cronin if the proper procedure did not call for the erection of an incinerator and then a clean up of the various dumps? If not what was to be done with the refuse. Alderman Cronin stated that perhaps it would be a logical thing to build an incinerator later but he felt that all should have an opportunity to express their views.

Alderman Temperley referred members of the Board to a report of a subcommittee of the 1919 Board of Aldermen which considered the erection of an incinerator at that time. That report, signed by Robert Clark of Ward 6 and Ernest Haggood of Ward 5, with Harley Morton of Newton Centre acting as an architect, having tendered his services, was brought in and placed on file, nothing having been heard of it since. The Ward 5 Alderman called attention to Mr. White's statement that it was not good fiscal policy to borrow outside the debt limit. Briefly sketching the present city debt, Mr. Temperley pointed out that the present total city debt, under borrowings inside and outside of the debt limit, was greater (Continued on Page 4)

The meet was under the general supervision of Mr. Ernst Hermann, Superintendent of Playgrounds and his assistants. The announcer and starter was S. Leo Hughes; the judges J. B. Dacey, John "Buck" Donahue, and G. W. Brainerd. The program of events and scoring was in charge of E. M. Westgate.

TO CONDUCT BOYS' TENNIS TOURNAMENT FOR CITY TITLE

The playground department will conduct boys' tennis tournaments for singles and doubles for the championship of the city within the next few weeks. Play will begin on September 5th on the various playground tennis courts and the tournaments will be completed within two weeks from the opening matches.

Entrance requirements set an age limit of 12 to 18 years with no players eligible who reached their 13th birthday before January first, 1933. The entering player must also be a resident of Newton. The entry fee for the singles tournament is 25c and 50c per team for the doubles event. Each entrant must also fill out an entry blank bearing his name, address, telephone number and birth date before Saturday night, September 2nd. These blanks may be obtained from any of the various playground supervisors or from members of the general committee in charge of the tournaments.

A silver loving cup will be awarded the winner of the singles tournament and a suitable prize will be presented to the runner-up. A suitable prize will also be awarded the winning doubles team and if the entry list warrants the runner-up pair in doubles will also receive a prize.

Drawings will be posted at the various playgrounds as soon after the close of entries as is possible and the lower man in each bracket will be responsible for arranging the match.

The general committee is headed by Francis Broughton, chairman (tel. N. 0609), and includes Norman Harris, Robert P. Ashley, Robert Ashley, Jr., Oscar Jarrell, Percy Lewis, Norman Payne, Harry Sylvester, Paul Ober and Jackson Skillings.

Suspended Term For Wife Beating

An assault on his wife during an argument resulting from "mother-in-law trouble" caused Rocco Lochiatti, 19 years old, of 65 Clinton st., Newton, to be given a suspended sentence of three months in the house of correction in the Newton district court today.

Lochiatti's wife, Madeline, brought about his arrest after he had struck her. She said the altercation ensued when she announced her intention of taking her baby to visit her mother.

Lochiatti was arrested last night by Patrolmen McDonagh and Goddard on a warrant charging him with assault and battery on his wife. The sentence imposed today was suspended until February 24, 1934.

Legion Auxiliary

The Middlesex County American Legion Auxiliary is sponsoring a picnic for the Veterans of Bedford Hospital on Wednesday, August 30th, from 1:30 to 7 o'clock P. M., at the Outing Field at Norumbega Park, Auburndale.

Members of the Newton unit are invited to bring a lunch and are requested to bring a lunch as they may enjoy a picnic supper with the boys in the late afternoon.

This is the first picnic which the County has sponsored and it is hoped that a large group will be present.

Y.M.C.A. AND NEWTON HIGHLANDS START PLAY FOR TITLE

The Newton Y. M. C. A. and Newton Highlands baseball teams in the City Twilight league circuit began the final series for the championship of the city last night at Cabot Park. The second game is scheduled for tonight at the Highlands playground and the third game tomorrow afternoon at Cabot Park. If neither team wins the title in three straight victories a fourth game will be played on Monday evening at Newton Highlands and if a fifth game is necessary to determine the winner it will be staged Tuesday evening at Cabot Park. Inclement weather will postpone the game until the next fair evening with the game to be played on the diamond originally scheduled.

Newton Highlands earned the right to play the Y nine by winning two games of its series of three with the Cubs over the past week-end. The Cubs took the first game of this series last Saturday by a 7 to 1 victory and were favored to go through but the Highlands came back strong to turn the tables and won the two final games 15 to 7 and 1 to 0.

In the first game which was played Saturday at Cabot Park the Cubs outplayed the Highlands and gave Dyer far better support than the Highlands gave Giles and the Cubs' twirling was hit hard and given rather ragged support. McCarthy hit a home run for the Cubs as the feature batter in this game.

On Sunday the Highlands showed what they could do on their home diamond, hammering two Cub pitchers for various blows. The Cubs appeared overconfident in the first half of the inning and were promptly retired. Highlands started right in to go places, scoring four runs before the third man was retired. In the fifth the Highlands drove pitcher Hickey to cover with Hannon taking over the mound duties with the score 6-4 in favor of the Highlands. The latter continued to hit Hannon's offering to retain his lead. Rhodes, twirling for Highlands, got credit for the 15-7 victory.

With the series even the Monday night game at Cabot Park was by far the best of the series. Dyer was back on the mound again for the Cubs and twirled a good game with Howie Whitmore, former Harvard pitcher, going great guns for the Highlands. Perfect support behind Whitmore gave him the edge as the Cubs made a costly lapse behind Dyer to let in the only run of the game.

SPORT NOTES

"Y" Wins Track Meet

The Newton Y. M. C. A. track team won three first places and scored heavily with second and third places to win a triangular track meet with the Brockton and Boston Y teams on the Newton track last Wednesday night. Newton took 30 points edged Brockton with 25 while Boston trailed with 11. Newton's three first place winners were Morris in the 100-yd. dash, Linthwaite in the 880-yd. run and Hickin in the mile.

Noble Shares Vermont Title

Arthur Noble of Newton Centre and Paul Guilford of Melrose won the men's doubles title as Vermont State champions last Sunday at Brattleboro defeating Bowditch and Davenport, another Bay State team, in the finals by scores of 6-1, 6-2, 1-6, 3-6, 6-0. Both Noble and Guilford are former interscholastic tennis singles champions and members of the Dartmouth varsity tennis team.

Quilts Tourney on Playgrounds

A horse shoe pitching tournament for the championship of the city began on six Newton playgrounds this week. Any team is eligible to enter the tournaments at the various playgrounds the winners and runners-up in which will meet for a city championship tournament. It is planned to make the quilts tourney an annual affair.

Noble in York Tourney

Arthur Noble and his doubles partner, Paul Guilford, are entered in the tournaments at York Beach this week, playing in the singles as well as teaming up in doubles. Noble fought his way into the finals yesterday coming from behind to defeat Sidney Keith of Philadelphia in a five-set semi-final match. Guilford lost after a hard struggle to Edward Fuller of Salem, defending champion. Noble met Fuller this morning in the final match. Noble and Guilford advanced to the semi-final round in doubles.

In Longwood Tourney

The two local teams in the national tennis doubles tourney at Longwood this week were both eliminated in their first round matches. R. S. and A. T. Turner of Waban lost in straight sets to Adrian Quist and Donald R. Turnbull of Australia. Malcolm T. Hill of Waban and his partner, Sam Fitch of Boston dropped a five-set match to Jack Tidball and C. Gene Mako of Los Angeles.

Called For Brown Football

Four local youths have been ordered to report early in September for the opening football practice at Brown. They are Perry Elrod and Norman Appleyard, backs, Charlie Butler, tackle, and Bob Chapin, end.

Recent Deaths

MRS. GEORGE H. BURNETT

The death of Mrs. Mary K. (Livingston) Burnett occurred Tuesday, August 22, at the Newton Hospital, where she had been a patient for two weeks.

Mrs. Burnett was the wife of George H. Burnett, who is a member of the steel firm of Hartel Bros.
& Company in South Boston. She was born in Gloucester, the daughter of James D. Livingston. In Auburn-dale she had been a member of the local woman's club, and the Progress Club of that section.

Besides her husband she is survived by a daughter, Miss Dorothy L. Burnett, a graduate of Simmons, and at present secretary to the president of National Park Seminary at Forest Glen, Md.; a son, Robert H.
Burnett, living at home; a sister,
Miss Helen F. Livingston of Auburn-dale, and a brother, James J. Livingston of Wilmington, Del.

The funeral was held at the family home, 29 Braeburn rd., Auburn-dale, Thursday morning at eight o'clock, followed by a requiem mass at St. Bernard's Church, West Newton, at nine, Rev. Fr. Dwyer officiating. Interment was in St. Mary's cemetery, Rev. Fr. Cashman officiating.

who had run the sail-boat into the dock when the sail split, had hired counsel. The Court procedure was fiery and there was heated cross-questioning and rebuttal, all in the best of spirit, with a cheering audience which the judge was obliged to call to order constantly.

The jury was perfectly impartial, listened with patience to arguments and pleas and proceeded to find all defendants guilty. It offered a verdict of "half guilty" in one case but the learned judge stated "this is a court room, not an auction"; whereupon the foreman offered to raise it to three-quarters guilty. This the judge also refused to accept, so after a hurried conference, the jury made the verdict "guilty". Penalties imposed by the judge were most unnatural; one Scout had to measure the mess hall by mouthfuls; another had to bail out the life boat with a tea spoon;
and so on.

For a hike, the Camp this week went over to Purgatory, in Sutton, where they clambered around, went through all the squeezes and holes and had a big time. Camp closes on August 26th.

Police News

After the complaining officer admitted that he had not seen the defendant operate the car, William Shriberg, 31 years old, a junk dealer, of 77 West st., Newton, was found not guilty in the Newton district court of charges of driving an uninsured and unregistered automobile.

Patrolman Judson Sartwell told the court that he saw Shriberg turn the ignition switch in the unregistered and uninsured car, which was parked on the street. Judge Allen pointed out that there was no evidence that Shriberg had driven the machine. He therefore rendered findings of not guilty on both charges.

Robert E. Cuniff, 36, of 93 Brookline st., Newton, was fined $5 on a charge of parking in an area where parking is prohibited. He appealed and was held in $100 bail. Patrolman George Kilmain told the court that Cuniff parked his car at Langley rd.
and Beacon st., where parking is prohibited by city ordinance.

A charge of speeding against Ernest H. Tynes, 30, of 11 Day st., Cambridge, was placed on file by the court and he was found not guilty of driving without a license.

Phil Bram Returns From Visit To Goodyear Plant

Phil Bram, the popular owner of Bram's Battery & Tire Service at 252 Walnut st., Newtonville, has returned from an extended automobile tour, during which he visited the Goodyear Tire Plant at Akron, Ohio, and the Century of Progress Fair at Chicago. Accompanied by Mrs. Bram, Phil's trip carried him from Newton over the Bear Mountain Bridge spanning the Hudson River and across
New York to the Delaware Water Gap. He journeyed through Pennsylvania, by way of Harrisburg and Pittsburg to Akron.

Mr. Bram made an extended inspection of the huge Goodyear Tire plant. He saw the manufacture of the famous All-Weather and Pathfinder tires from beginning to end. He observed how the wear resisting Supertwist Cord and the finest quality rubber were built into the long-life tires which have won acclaim from millions of American motorists, as well as from motorists all over the world. While at Akron, Mr. Bram had the thrill of an air ride in the Goodyear "blimp."

Leaving Akron, he travelled to South Bend, Indiana visiting the Studebaker factory. After spending several days taking in the sights at the fair in Chicago, Mr. Bram returned to Detroit and thence to Niagara Falls, and along the Mohawk Valley to Albany and home. His visit to Akron has made him more enthusiastic than ever over GOOD-YEAR TIRES.

NEW TERM AT BURDETT BEGINS IN SEPTEMBER

Burdett College will begin its fifty-fifth year September 5, at which time
Executive Secretarial, Stenographic Secretarial, and Business Courses will start. The term for Business Administration and Accounting students will open September 18. This is, also, the date when Evening School will open.

A number of changes have been made in Burdett courses to meet the newer conditions. During the summer months all courses have been subjected to revision. New outlines have been prepared and new methods developed. In the Business Administration Department new courses in marketing, finance, and advertising have been introduced.

One seeming peculiarity of the business depression has been the number of calls for the male stenographer who includes in addition to his accounting training shorthand and typewriting. The College has found it rather difficult to find men to fill the calls received because of the scarcity of male stenographers. A call of this type recently reaching the school was for a young man to act as secretary to the auditor of a very important business organization.

To meet this situation, Burdett College has devised an Administrative Secretarial Course for men only which includes the necessary amount of accounting and mathematics with shorthand and typewriting. This course is especially recommended to college men as the Secretarial Courses are recommended to college women. The amount of business training on the part of college men and women still continues, as a result of which many prominent colleges will be represented in the enrollment for the coming year.

DOROTHEA C. HAYES

Mrs. Dorothea C. Hayes died Saturday, Aug. 19, at her home 1000 Walnut st., Newton Highlands, her death following that of her husband, Otis
H. Hayes, by five months.

Mrs. Hayes was a native of Hanover, Germany. Her maiden name having been Kells. She came to this country at the age of eleven and for thirty years following her marriage in 1887 the family home was in Ash-mont. She was in her sixty-third year. She was a member of the Newton Highlands Woman's Club, the Woman's Republican Club and the Woman's Book Review Club.

Mrs. Hayes is survived by a son,
George Hayes of Pawtucket, R. I., and daughter, Mrs. Doris Hayes Cavanaugh of Newton Highlands.
Her funeral services were held from the family home on Tuesday at two o'clock.

SUAVE GUNMEN ROB NEWTON MARKET

Two suave gunmen late one night this week held up and robbed the manager of a Newton market of $800, and still politely excusing themselves backed out into the night and made a getaway.

The money was the receipts of Associated Markets at 43 North Market st., Newton. David A. Garsensky of 84 Manly st., Newton, was on duty, about to close the store when the two men walked in and engaged him in conversation before putting out the lights, producing their weapons, and requesting the cash, which was forthcoming.

"That was the neatest parking job I've ever seen a girl do. I'll say you're some driver, Claire."

"That's just Terraplaning, Phil. With one of these wonder-cars, a girl can do anything a man can do and just as easily too—they steer with one finger."

What's this? 'Men drive better than women?'

Not when women go Terraplaning!

Curb-parking, rounding sharp turns, braking at sudden stops, constant gearshifting on hills and in traffic—these are hard, exhausting work for anyone with cars built in the old fashioned way.

But never with a Terraplane.

Watch a woman the first time she drives a Terraplane. Watch her face light up with pleasure at the ease with which she steers it, the slight pressure she needs to stop it, the small amount of effort required for smooth safe turns around street corners,

the complete freedom from gearshifting on hills.

Camp Frank A. Day

Dad's Week at Camp Frank A. Day has become an annual affair which brings pleasure and profit to both the dads and the boys. About twenty fathers spent as much time as possible with their boys, entering into the camp activities and program just like any other camper. Among those who took advantage of this opportunity were: Messrs. James B. Melcher, Newton; John F. Brown, Auburndale;
H. B. Emrich, Newton Centre; William H. Slayton and Charles E. Bat-stone, Waltham; John A. Retz, Thomas L. Penn, Watertown; Charles L. Jones and Henry O. Lowell, Wellesley; Roger J. Goffon, Belmont; Raymond D. Hunting and Warren K.
Brimblecomb, Newtonville.

Camp Day closes on Wednesday, August 30th. The closing banquet will be held on Tuesday evening, August 29th. At this time the Camp Cups will be awarded for the best camper in both the Junior and Senior Camps. Other awards will also be made at this time.

On Sunday evening, August 27th, the annual Candle Light Service will be held in the Outdoor Chapel. Memories of this impressive service will linger long in the minds of the campers. Each boy keeps his own candle and lights it again at Christmas time.

Baseball

The Newton Y. M. C. A. baseball team has completed its schedule of twenty games in the Newton Twilight League with seventeen wins, one loss, and two tie games called on account of darkness. As a result of the play-off between the second and third place teams, Highlands and Cubs, which was won by the Highlands aggregation, the "Y" will start its play-off on Friday of this week.
The "Y" must win three out of five games from the Highlands to win the League championship. The schedule for the first three games calls for Thursday and Saturday at Cabot
Park, and Friday at Highlands.

Last week the "Y" took two games from Security Mills, the first 8 to 1 with "Red" Joyce doing the hurling; and the other 3 to 1 with George Ho-kanson on the mound.

Track Team

Nine places were won by the Newton Y. M. C. A. Track Team for a total of 29 points in the triangular meet held Saturday afternoon on the local "Y's" field between Newton, Lynn, and Boston Y. M. C. A.'s. Lynn came through first with 44 points, then Newton with 29, and Boston with 7.

For Newton, Johnny Morris won the 220, and came in second place in the 100 yard losing out to M. Little of Boston. Art. Linthwaite who has been a consistent winner this season, won the half-mile. In the 440 Stan-Cullen and Andy Hanson were second and third, as were Al Hickin and Bob Gutzier in the mile. Newton's relay team composed of Johnny Morris, John Quigley, Stan, Cullen, and Art.
Linthwaite, won the relay race. Paul

AUTO ACCIDENTS

Clara Demichele, 11 years old, of 16 Sullivan st., Newton Upper Falls, was severely cut about the head by flying glass when the automobile in which she was riding collided with another machine on Saturday afternoon at Chestnut and Elliot sts., Newton Upper Falls.

The car in which the child was riding was operated by Henry De-michele of the same address. The other machine was operated by Beatrice Hardon of 262 Clinton st., Brookline.

The injured child was removed to her home and treated by Dr. Thompson. Demichele was proceeding northward on Elliot st. and the woman was driving eastward on Chestnut st. when the accident occurred, at about 4:35 P. M.

Two men were struck by automobiles in Newton on Friday and one of the victims was removed to the Newton Hospital in a serious condition.

Timothy J. Scannell, 52 years old,
a roofer, of 85 Third st., Cambridge, suffered a possible fracture of a rib and cuts about the head when he was struck by a car on Centre st. near Nantum square.

He was removed to the Newton Hospital in the police ambulance by Patrolmen J. J. Murphy and James Corcoran. The driver of the car that struck him was James Doherty of 113 Crafts st., Newtonville. The accident occurred at about 9:45 p. m.

Joseph M. O'Rourke, 30 years old, of 949 Chestnut st., Newton Upper Falls, was struck and injured by an automobile on Chestnut st. between Summer and Winter sts., Friday noon.
The car was operated by Elliott T.
Hutchinson of 3 Indiana court, Newton Upper Falls. The victim was treated by a physician.

HITS SAFETY ISLAND IN CAM- BRIDGE

Morris Madlis of Old Colony rd., Chestnut Hill, added to the long string of safety island crashes in Cambridge this week when he lost control of his steering wheel for an instant, injuring his passenger, Mrs.
Anna Charr of New York City.

Although automobile sales have usually been lower during the first half of August than they are in the same period in July, we are experiencing
an actual gain this year," states Mr.
Abbott. "The fine reception accorded our De Luxe models is in part responsible. An encouraging factor is that the sales reports are generally good from all parts of the country."

"Even though our sales a year ago had been stimulated to a marked degree by the introduction of the Terraplane model, the week ending August 12, 1933 was 120 per cent of the corresponding week of 1932. The sales again exceeded those of the preceding week, making a total of twenty-two weeks in which an almost unbroken series of gains has been reported. Sales for the week ending August 12, have only been exceeded by those of two other weeks during the past two years."

BAREFOOT CHILD STEPS ON HOT STOVE

Little Jeanette Forest, two years old, of 7 Lucas court, West Newton, stepped barefooted on a hot stove Monday evening—her feet were badly burned.

An older sister of the child had built a fire in the kitchen range in order to provide hot water for a bath.
She had stuffed the firebox with papers and that part of the stove became hot in a few moments.

Jeanette had been prepared for bed and was barefoot when she climbed onto the stove to the part that was comparatively cold. She proceeded to walk across to the top of the firebox and when her feet came in contact with the hot metal she screamed.

Members of her family hurried to her rescue and she was removed to the Newton Hospital and treated for severe burns.

AUGUST SALES OF HUDSON- ESSEX INCREASING

Sales of Essex Terraplanes and Hudson cars for the first half of August are ahead of the same period in July according to a statement issued by Chester G. Abbott, General Sales Manager of the Hudson Motor Car Company, today.

"Although automobile sales have usually been lower during the first half of August than they are in the same period in July, we are experiencing
an actual gain this year," states Mr.

Industrial Uses of Air

The industrial uses of air are numerous. Oxygen is used in oxy-acetylene blowpipes in many industries. Nitrogen obtained from the air is changed both by natural processes and by industrial processes into raw food materials for plants. Argon and nitrogen are used in incandescent lamp bulbs of high power. Argon is used in the bulb of rectifiers. Neon is used in signaling lamps and for advertising signs.

Blast of Fire In Newton Shop

A blast of fire which swept through a blowing machine in the Rose-Derry Manufacturing Company at 95 Chapel st., Newton, burned the shirt off one employee and filled the workshop with smoke which overcame another who was aiding in fighting the flames, Thursday.
Gene Francione, 20, of Morgan court, Newton, was feeding the machine mattress filler when a spark apparently jumped into the light waste material. Instantly the machine blew the flames all over the apparatus and scattered bits of cloth and cotton to all parts of the room.
Francione's shirt was ignited but he stripped it off before he was burned. His hair was singed but he was otherwise unharmed.
John Tomasci, 22, of 252 Watertown st., Newton, was overcome while playing a hose on the blaze before the arrival of fire apparatus. He was carried outside by other workers who were aiding him keep the flames under control. Nine men and five girls were at work in the section in which the machine was located. All were able to reach the street without trouble.

Local Employment Office Improbable

The city of Newton has been listed as one of the ten cities in the state where federal employment offices will be established for the enlistment of labor on the federal projects now rapidly taking shape. A member of the state board said this week that while he had voted for the appropriation making a Newton office possible, it will be up to the federal authorities whether one is actually opened here or not, and he doubts that it will be established, as the Mayor's Relief Committee is fully capable of handling the problem in Newton.

West Newton Man Succeeds To Federal Post

White Appoints Timothy C.
Hickey Stamp Deputy

Timothy C. Hickey of West Newton has been appointed deputy in charge of money value stamps in the office of the Collector of Internal Revenue in Boston, succeeding the veteran cashier, who retires on August 31st, after 35 years of continuous service.
The appointment was made by Collector Thomas W. White, and follows Mr. White's policy of rewarding men who have rendered faithful service. This appointment is a real promotion for Mr. Hickey, as the position of Stamp Deputy ranks next to that of cashier.

Deputy Hickey is a native of West Newton, where he was born on December 24, 1882. He attended the Newton public schools; is a graduate of the Newton High School, and, subsequently, attended the Boston Commercial School, where he took special courses in banking and accounting. He also was a student at the Pace and Pace Institute of Boston, where he completed his course in 1914. He was employed by the American Thread Agency, Boston, for ten years, and for twenty years specialized in bookkeeping and auditing departments of several Boston banks, before entering the Federal Service.

Mr. Hickey has been conspicuous in the civic life of his native city. He was a member of the Board of Aldermen in the City of Newton, serving continuously from 1919 to 1922. He was one of the organizers of the Newton Catholic Club of West Newton, and for four years was its President. He is today President of the Holy Name Society of St. Bernard's Church in West Newton—a position he has occupied for fifteen years. He is also a member of the Newton Council No. 167 of the Knights of Columbus.

Collector White's selection of Mr. Hickey to fill this responsible position, which calls for the handling of hundreds of millions of dollars a year, is regarded as an excellent choice, in view of Mr. Hickey's unusual background in banking and financial circles. It goes without saying that the appointment will be well received by Mr. Hickey's many friends and acquaintances in the Newtons.

Renew Protest Against Odors of Security Mills

The receipt of another organized protest from citizens residing near the Security Mills, Munroe st., Newtonville, against disagreeable odors emanating from the plant today caused Dr. Francis G. Curtis, chairman of the Newton Board of Health to issue an order that the alleged nuisance be abated.

The order was given verbally to officials of the plant by Dr. Curtis after the office of the Board of Health was again besieged by complaints concerning the odor of acetic acid used in the dyeing processes at the plant.

Following the receipt of complaints concerning the situation several weeks ago, city officials held a conference with officials of the company and the latter agreed to take steps to abate the alleged odor nuisance.

Some time ago a large number of neighbors in the vicinity of the mill protested against any further addition to the plant, because for some time past they assert that disagreeable odors from the dye house at the mill have been a nuisance to the neighborhood.

The Board of Appeal of the City of Newton sustained the action of Building Commissioner Hageman in granting a permit to the Security Mills at Munroe st., Newtonville, near Cabot Park, to build an addition to the factory buildings there.

Why not get the Gas that "Lubricates as it drives"?

IT COSTS NO MORE!

Here's the most important gasoline improvement since the introduction of premium motor fuels . . . and you get it at no premium in price!

Into every gallon of Triple "X" Tydol is blended a water-white, carbonless lubricant refined by Tide Water's secret K.A.E. process . . . An active carbon solvent . . . Keeps valves free from carbon, rust, and stickiness . . . Definitely increases gasoline mileage from 4% to 8% . . . Proved in 11,000,000 miles of road tests. Prove it today . . . in your own car.

- X 1 The first Lubricating Hi-test Gasoline. It lubricates as it drives
- X 2 The Most Powerful Gasoline ever sold at regular gas price
- X 3 The Highest Anti-Knock Gasoline ever sold at regular gas price
